Anti-Russian Resolution In UN Approved

Hungarian Action Of Reds Branded As 'Intolerable'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)— The General Assembly tonight formally branded Russia's actions in Hungary as an "intolerable attempt" to enslave the Hungarian people and a violation of the U. N. Charter.

The indictment was part of a five-power resolution which expressed deep concern over Russia's refusal to comply with a Nov. 4 U.N. order for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

The resolution described the Soviet action as "violent repression" of the Hungarian people. It said the "foreign intervention in Hungary is an intolerable attempt to deny the Hungarian people ... freedom and independence."

The sponsors of the resolution were Cuba, Ireland, Italy, Pakistan and Peru.

The resolution as a whole was approved by a vote of 48-11 with 16 abstentions.

It came at the end of a heated day-long debate in which a bloc of neutralist Asian nations fought against the inclusion of language criticizing the Soviet actions in Hungary.

Demos Offer Ike Non-Partisan Aid In World Crisis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 —UP— Democratic Congressional leaders promised Friday to give "responsible" non - partisan consideration to any proposals President Eisenhower submits for dealing with the "very serious" world situation.

They made the pledge after a 2½ hour briefing by the President and his top aides on the Middle East crisis, Russia's military occupation of revolt - torn Hungary, and large - scale Soviet troop movements in Eastern Europe.

Meanwhile, an informed source said that Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) called a special meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations committee for Monday to review the Middle East and Eastern European crises.

He said George sent telegrams to committee members after leaving the White House meeting. But he said the action was not taken as a direct result of information George received at the executive mansion.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said the President showed the congressional leaders "a movie of the horrible murders in Hungary." He described the film, which apparently came from intelligence sources, as "very frightful" and showed people being shot down.

Johnson termed the world situation "obviously very serious." He said Mr. Eisenhower sought no "commitments" from the Democrats and none was given. But on behalf of his party in Congress, he said:

"We will give responsible consideration to any suggestion from the administration. We will not play politics with the foreign situation."

But Johnson made it clear that the Democrats were not issuing any blank - check promises to do anything Mr. Eisenhower asks. Meantime, it was disclosed that British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet may come here for a Big Three meeting with Mr. Eisenhower.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., said after the White House meeting that "while the world situation is grave, I think it will work out all right."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked about Johnson's statement that the international situation was "very serious." Hagerty said the administration had "never said that it is not."

Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) said there was no indication at the meeting that the administration planned any drastic new steps. He said any policy proposals would have to come later "if the situation got worse."

BOBBY MANZIEL

Fabulous Manziel Dies; Funeral Services Monday

By PAUL MARTIN
Sports Editor of The Morning World

The fabulous story of Bobby Manziel, a peanut peddler and newspaper salesman as a youth and one-time boxer who went broke in the restaurant business but made millions in Texas oil, closed suddenly yesterday when the former Monroe cafe operator and sports promoter died in a hospital at Tyler, Tex., where he had made his home for the past several years.

The 51-year-old Manziel, a pioneer in the Texas oil industry, became suddenly ill Wednesday, suffering considerable intestinal hemoraging of undetermined origin, and death came yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Tyler with the pastor, Monsignor Edward V. McCullough, officiating. Interment will take place in Tyler's Rose Hill Cemetery. Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening and at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lloyd James Funeral Chapel of Tyler.

Mr. Manziel, an only son of the late Joe Manziel and Mrs. Mary Korkmas Manziel, who survives him, was born July 26, 1905, in Lebanon. In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Nolan Manziel; three sons, Bobby Joe, Nolan Edward, and Norman Paul; four daughters, Mrs. Phillip Saleh, and Merigale, Dottie Sue and Vickie Lynn, all of Tyler, and one grandson.

Reds Approve Red Cross Aid For Budapest

Communist Radio Admits Conditions Now 'Appalling'

VIENNA, Nov. 9 —UP— The Hungarian Communist puppet government Friday grudgingly accepted Western Red Cross medical aid for Budapest where rebels battled the twin enemies of Soviet armor and starvation through the sixth straight day with no sign of surrender.

Communist Radio Budapest admitted conditions throughout the country were appalling. Nevertheless, it said acceptance of Red Cross aid was conditional upon it being shipped only through Communist Yugoslavia and being inspected for rebel arms.

One broadcast indicated there was bread for only one district of the city. A 16-day-old general strike by eight-million Hungarians paralyzed production despite Russian efforts to smash it. Soviet roadblocks also prevented food from getting into the city.

The Moscow installed government of Premier Janos Kadar shows signs of cracking in its frantic appeals for peace and order.

The Reds admitted fighting was going on in five city areas, and said there were fires in a number of sectors.

The Hotel Royal was in flames and the fire was spreading.

The American - operated radio Free Europe in Munich said it received reports that the Soviets are looting private homes under the pretext of searching them for arms. Pedestrians were reported being stopped in the streets and stripped of valuables.

The radio said hospitals are overworked and overcrowded. In one

Tax Collections For Four Months Set New Record

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 9 (AP) — Louisiana tax collections the first four months this fiscal year shot up a record-smashing 125 million dollars, gaining 11½ million, collector James S. Reily said today.

The department of revenue collected in October $40,121,936, an increase of $2,784,644 over October 1955.

The previous high for the first four months was 113½ million last fiscal year. The 1956-57 fiscal year began July 1.

The big severance tax, drawing most of its revenue from oil, amounted to 37 million the first four months, up $2.657,254. For October, it was $18,300,554, a gain of $1,029,692 compared with October a year ago.

And the sales tax amounted to $25,771,838, a gain of $2,417,253. For October, the total was $6,457,568, gaining $522,187 over October a year ago.

Other tax totals for the first four months, and the gain over last year:

1. Gasoline, $18,697,515, up $1,594,768.
2. State income, $6,420,750, up $1,357,501.
3. Tobacco, $7,482,963, up $648,848.
4. Beer, $4,816,040, up $271,653.

ERNEST M. MOORE

Ernest Moore, 29, Killed In Crash; Funeral Set Today

Ernest M. Moore, Sr., 29, of 405 Wood street, Monroe, was killed in an auto mishap in Clarksdale, Miss., early Friday. At the time he was bringing a car to Monroe from Chicago. Details of the accident are not available.

A spokesman at the Clarksdale Police Department said the Moore vehicle crashed headon with a school bus 12 miles north of Clarksdale shortly before midnight Thursday. The bus was reported loaded with Negro football players. Several aboard the bus were reported injured "but not seriously."

City police quoted state highway patrol investigators as saying Moore apparently dropped off to sleep and swerved into the path of the oncoming bus. Moore was killed instantly.

The body was brought to Peters Funeral home in Monroe and the funeral will be held in the Central Assembly of God church, Monroe at 2 p.m. Saturday. Officiating clergymen will be the Rev. G. E. Chambers and the Rev. E. L. Tanner. Interment will be made in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Moore is survived by his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Moore; a daughter Debby Kay Moore; three sons, Marvin Dale Moore; Larry Wayne Moore and Ernest M. Moore, Jr., all of Monroe; four sisters, Mrs. Imo Gene Harrell and Mrs. Claydine Atchison, both of Monroe, Mrs. Geraldine Ramsey, West Monroe, and Miss Bonnie Fay Moore, Monroe; three brothers, Lloyd Moore, Thomas Eugene Moore and Bernie Ray Moore, of Monroe.

He was employed by an auto sales company here and had spent his entire life in Monroe, where he was born Jan. 20, 1927. He had served in the Navy.

The body will remain at the residence, 405 Wood street until one hour before the funeral when it will be removed to the church.

Pallbearers will be: B. W. Ritchie, Gene Ritchie, Donald Friday, Wesley Davis, Luther Gunter and Elmo Holloway.

U. S. Consul Tells Of Egyptian Attack On His Residence

PORT SAID, Egypt, Nov. 9 (UP) — U. S. Consul Anthony Cuomo reported Friday that Egyptians machine - guned his home Tuesday night and slightly injured Vice-Consul Thomas Dickson.

Dickson, of Kilgore, Tex., was hit by flying glass that cut his head.

Cuomo, of Detroit and Modesto, Calif., said he, Dickson and two other members of the consulate staff were fired on as they sat in his second floor living room.

He said he saw young Egyptian tommy-gunners climb to a second floor balcony across the street and aim at his apartment.

"The guns were pointed directly at me," the consul said. "There was no doubt about whom they were shooting."

Earlier in the day, Cuomo said, an Egyptian military commander phoned him and asked him to arrange cease-fire negotiations. He said he telephoned French officers in captured Port Fuad across the Suez Canal, but in the meantime advancing British forces captured the Egyptian commander.

Dairyman Finds $25,000 Scattered On Creek Bank

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP)—A dairy farmer today found more than $25,000 on his farm—so much money Oscar Womack said, "I just got tired of picking it up and quit."

He sent his mother to the First National Bank here with what he had picked. Vice President Fred Measures said he's certain that some or all of it may be good money.

The Secret Service was telephoned and the money will be sent to them in Dallas. Womack, 27, arrived at the bank sometime after his mother. When told it might be good money, he left saying, "Guess I'll go back and pick up some more."

Measures said, "I've straightened out about $25,000 of it, and there's still more.

"There had been an attempt to burn it and it had been rained on and it was muddy.

"The face of the bills look good, but the backs look pale, and it may be counterfeit."

The bills all were $100 denomination and some of them had had bank wrappers denoting $100 bundles, but there was no identification on the wrappings.

Womack's mother, Mrs. Annie Womack, about 50, brought the dirty bills into the bank wrapped in a bright yellow headscarf.

"We had no idea what she was carrying in it," said Measures.

She spilled the money in front of amazed bank officials who immediately got in touch with the Secret Service in Dallas.

The Womacks, of moderate means, live three miles from the community of Boonsville in Wise County.

Womack told Measures he found the money strewn for some distance in weeds along the bank of Willow Creek, which runs through the farm.

There was no explanation of how the money got there. Neighbors reported that a large automobile drove into the general vicinity about a month ago late at night and then left, but there was no definite link.

Giant Navy Seamaster Jet Crashes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — The Navy said an XP6M Seamaster, its biggest sea-based jet plane, crashed today in Delaware. The four men aboard parachuted from the plane.

A second plane accompanying the huge jet flying boat reported that it saw three of the four walking around on the ground. The fourth man was stretched out as though hurt in his parachute landing.

The four were civilian employes of the Glen L. Martin Co., makers of the Seamaster.

This was the second of the giant planes to be lost within less than a year. Last Dec. 7, a Seamaster on routine test flight broke apart over Chesapeake Bay at the mouth of the Potomac River, killing the four men aboard.

So far as is known, only two Seamasters, both now destroyed, have been completed.

The cost of an individual Seamaster is about 6½ million dollars.

The cause of the crash last December was described by the Navy as due to malfunction of a tail control.

It said the difficulty of this con-

Union Parish Woman Perishes In Fire Yesterday

FARMERVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) — An 83-year-old Rocky Branch Community widow perished today in her flaming three-room house.

She was Mrs. Ophelia Rutledge, who lived on Farmerville Route 2 in the Rocky Branch Community some 15 miles from here.

Farmerville firemen said origin of the fire could not be determined, since by the time they arrived the house "was completely burned down and smoldering when we got there."

A heroic rescue attempt by a neighbor, Benny B. Freeman, failed. Eyewitnesses said Freeman tried to enter the house through the door and windows, both of which were locked. In his attempt, Freeman was overcome and collapsed but was not reported injured.

Mrs. Rutledge was alone at the house when the tragedy occured. Her son, Melvin, was not on the permises at the time.

Other survivors include a brother, W. S. Smith, of Beaumont, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Lula K. Sandidge, of Monroe. The deceased was the aunt of Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard.

Funeral services were set for Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ at Rocky Branch Community. Interment will follow at the Rocky Branch Settlement under the direction of the Kilpatrick Funeral Home of Farmerville.

Nasser Credits Russian And U.S. Pressure With Halting Attack On Suez

CAIRO, Nov. 9 (AP)— Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser today credited both Russia and the United States with standing by Egypt when it was attacked by foreign forces.

In a Moslem Sabbath address in the ancient Al Azhar mosque, the 38-year-old President also said:

1. Egypt's Arab allies did not come to his aid with military force against Israel because he asked them not to.

2. He saved his Soviet-equipped air force from destruction under British-French bombing by keeping planes and pilots out of the air and putting dummies on the airfields for targets.

Bulgarians Stage Protest Against Red Atrocities

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 9 (AP)— A number of Bulgarians were arrested in Sofia when they denounced Soviet Russia's crushing of the Hungarian revolution, reports reaching here through diplomatic channels today said.

The reports added that Bulgarian police were now armed with light machineguns instead of pistols and that armed guards were standing before public buildings.

Earlier, Communist-controlled newspapers in Bulgaria reported that party leaders had conducted meetings throughout the country warning: "We will smash every attempt of the enemies of the people's regime against our socialist achievements and Soviet-Bulgarian friendship."

Arabian Forces Continue Attacks Against Israel

JERUSALEM, Nov. 9 (UP) — Arab guerrillas from Jordan and Syria struck five times along Israel's borders Friday in a series of raids on water installations, highway traffic and frontier outposts, the army reported.

An army spokesman said six Israelis were wounded in the sorties which continued for the second day in a row, apparently from bases just across the border.

The raiders struck while the government of Prime Minister David Ben - Gurion was preoccupied with large - scale military and diplomatic maneuvers designed to bolster Israel's position in the trigger - tense Middle East.

Sources said that although Ben-Gurion has agreed to withdraw from the conquered Sinai peninsula of Egypt, Israel will refuse to surrender the Gaza Strip or the Islands of Tiran and Senafir in the southern Gulf of Aqaba.

The influential newspaper "Jerusalem Post" said Ben-Gurion, only agreed to a withdrawal from Sinai under threat of Soviet bombing attacks.

It said this was obvious from the fact that Ben-Gurion, who adamantly opposed an international police force on Wednesday, and proclaimed Israeli ownership of Sinai, abruptly reversed his decision Thursday night and agreed

U. S. Air Force To Fly Colombian Soldiers To Egypt

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 10 (AP)— Vanguards of the new international police army are flying to the Suez Canal Zone today on a peace mission without precedent on any battlefront.

The three invaders of Egypt—Israel, Britain and France—all declare they welcome the U.N. force recruited from small nations to take over occupation duties.

An official Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said late Friday night the Nasser government has agreed provisionally to have the U.N. force keep peace in the Middle East.

This is the long talked of—but never previously organized world peace patrol.

The first units are being flown from Norway and Denmark to a staging area near Naples, Italy, and after a brief stop on to the Middle East.

U.S. Air Force planes left Charleston, S.C., Friday night to pick up soldiers in Colombia and transport the first South American contingent to the Italian staging area.

Britain began pulling assault forces out of Port Said at the Mediterranean end of the canal and replacing them with infantry remaining only until the U.N. force can take over.

The canal-side battle area was quiet. A British government source spiked reports of Soviet moves to intervene in the Middle East and of Egyptian preparations to attack the British - French forces after three days of cease-fire.

Duncan Sandys, Sir Winston Churchill's son-in-law and parliamentary undersecretary for air, told a Conservative party rally:

Military Leaders Feel 'War Gloom' Now Dissipating

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (UP)— Some of the "war gloom" that had prevailed in Washington since Monday lifted Friday. U. S. officials see a good chance now of settling the Middle East crisis without general war.

American military leaders also doubt that the Russians intend to turn the present world crises into World War III. They still are gravely concerned about recent belief the Kremlin is too busy in the restless satellites to act in other parts of the world.

The war jitters hit Washington election eve. It was prompted primarily by Moscow's tough talk to Britain in the Middle East crisis. Military alerts were sounded, but most officials now believe the Russians were bluffing to divert attention from Hungary.

U. S. officials also feel that recent peace moves by Britain, France and Israel have robbed the Soviets of any excuse for using force in the Middle East. Some uneasiness remains, however, about the Russian movement of jet fighters and "advisers" into Syria.

A minority view in government circles is that the Russians want

Arabian Forces Continue Attacks Against Israel

JERUSALEM, Nov. 9 (UP) — Arab guerrillas from Jordan and Syria struck five times along Israel's borders Friday in a series of raids on water installations, highway traffic and frontier outposts, the army reported.

An army spokesman said six Israelis were wounded in the sorties which continued for the second day in a row, apparently from bases just across the border.

The raiders struck while the government of Prime Minister David Ben - Gurion was preoccupied with large - scale military and diplomatic maneuvers designed to bolster Israel's position in the trigger - tense Middle East.

Sources said that although Ben-Gurion has agreed to withdraw from the conquered Sinai peninsula of Egypt, Israel will refuse to surrender the Gaza Strip or the Islands of Tiran and Senafir in the southern Gulf of Aqaba.

The influential newspaper "Jerusalem Post" said Ben-Gurion, only agreed to a withdrawal from Sinai under threat of Soviet bombing attacks.

It said this was obvious from the fact that Ben-Gurion, who adamantly opposed an international police force on Wednesday, and proclaimed Israeli ownership of Sinai, abruptly reversed his decision Thursday night and agreed

Demos Offer Ike Non-Partisan Aid In World Crisis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 —UP— Democratic Congressional leaders promised Friday to give "responsible" non - partisan consideration to any proposals President Eisenhower submits for dealing with the "very serious" world situation.

They made the pledge after a 2½ hour briefing by the President and his top aides on the Middle East crisis, Russia's military occupation of revolt - torn Hungary, and large - scale Soviet troop movements in Eastern Europe.

Meanwhile, an informed source said that Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) called a special meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations committee for Monday to review the Middle East and Eastern European crises.

He said George sent telegrams to committee members after leaving the White House meeting. But he said the action was not taken as a direct result of information George received at the executive mansion.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said the President showed the congressional leaders "a movie of the horrible murders in Hungary." He described the film, which apparently came from intelligence sources, as "very frightful" and showed people being shot down.

Johnson termed the world situation "obviously very serious." He said Mr. Eisenhower sought no "commitments" from the Democrats and none was given. But on behalf of his party in Congress, he said:

"We will give responsible consideration to any suggestion from the administration. We will not play politics with the foreign situation."

But Johnson made it clear that the Democrats were not issuing any blank - check promises to do anything Mr. Eisenhower asks.

Meantime, it was disclosed that British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet may come here for a Big Three meeting with Mr. Eisenhower.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., said after the White House meeting that "while the world situation is grave, I think it will work out all right."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked about Johnson's statement that the international situation was "very serious." Hagerty said the administration had "never said that it is not."

Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) said there was no indication at the meeting that the administration planned any drastic new steps. He said any policy proposals would have to come later "if the situation got worse."

Tax Collections For Four Months Set New Record

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 9 (AP) — Louisiana tax collections the first four months this fiscal year shot up a record-smashing 125 million dollars, gaining 11½ million, collector James S. Reily said today.

The department of revenue collected in October $40,121,936, an increase of $2,784,644 over October 1955.

The previous high for the first four months was 113½ million last fiscal year. The 1956-57 fiscal year began July 1.

The big severance tax, drawing most of its revenue from oil, amounted to 37 million the first four months, up $2,657,254. For October, it was $18,300,554, a gain of $1,029,692 compared with October a year ago.

And the sales tax amounted to $25,771,838, a gain of $2,417,253. For October, the total was $6,457,568, gaining $522,187 over October a year ago.

Other tax totals for the first four months, and the gain over last year:

1. Gasoline, $18,697,515, up $1,594,768.

2. State income, $6,420,750, up $1,357,561.

3. Tobacco, $7,482,963, up $648,848.

4. Beer, $4,816,040, up $271,653.

Union Parish Woman Perishes In Fire Yesterday

FARMERVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) — An 83-year-old Rocky Branch Community widow perished today in her flaming three-room house.

She was Mrs. Ophelia Rutledge, who lived on Farmerville Route 2 in the Rocky Branch Community some 15 miles from here.

Farmerville firemen said origin of the fire could not be determined, since by the time they arrived the house "was completely burned down and smoldering when we got there."

A heroic rescue attempt by a neighbor, Benny B. Freeman, failed. Eyewitnesses said Freeman tried to enter the house through the door and windows, both of which were locked. In his attempt, Freeman was overcome and collapsed but was not reported injured.

Mrs. Rutledge was alone at the house when the tragedy occured. Her son, Melvin, was not on the permises at the time.

Other survivors include a brother, W. S. Smith, of Beaumont, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Lula K. Sandidge, of Monroe. The deceased was the aunt of Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard.

Funeral services were set for Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ at Rocky Branch Community. Interment will follow at the Rocky Branch Settlement under the direction of the Kilpatrick Funeral Home of Farmerville.

Bulgarians Stage Protest Against Red Atrocities

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 9 (AP)— A number of Bulgarians were arrested in Sofia when they denounced Soviet Russia's crushing of the Hungarian revolution, reports reaching here through diplomatic channels today said.

The reports added that Bulgarian police were now armed with light machineguns instead of pistols and that armed guards were stationed before public buildings.

Earlier, Communist-controlled newspapers in Bulgaria reported that party leaders had conducted meetings throughout the country warning: "We will smash every attempt of the enemies of the people's regime against our socialist achievements and Soviet-Bulgarian friendship."

Military Leaders Feel 'War Gloom' Now Dissipating

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (UP)— Some of the "war gloom" that had prevailed in Washington since Monday lifted Friday. U. S. officials see a good chance now of settling the Middle East crisis without general war.

American military leaders also doubt that the Russians intend to turn the present world crises into World War III. They still are gravely concerned about recent troop movements in the Middle East and feel the Kremlin is too busy with the restless satellites to act in other parts of the world.

The war jitters hit Washington election eve. It was prompted primarily by Moscow's tough talk to Britain in the Middle East crisis. Military alerts were sounded, but top officials now believe the Russians were bluffing to divert attention from Hungary.

U. S. officials also feel that recent peace moves by Britain, France and Israel have robbed the Soviets of any excuse for using force in the Middle East. Some uneasiness remains, however, about the Russian movement of jet fighters and "advisers" into Syria.

U. S. Consul Tells Of Egyptian Attack On His Residence

PORT SAID, Egypt, Nov. 9 (UP) — U. S. Consul Anthony Cuomo reported Friday that Egyptians machine - guned his home Tuesday night and slightly injured Vice-Consul Thomas Dickson.

Dickson, of Kilgore, Tex., was hit by flying glass that cut his head.

Cuomo, of Detroit and Modesto, Calif., said he, Dickson and two other members of the consulate staff were fired on as they sat in his second floor living room.

He said he saw young Egyptian tommy-gunners climb to a second floor balcony across the street and aim at his apartment.

"The guns were pointed directly at me," the consul said. "There was no doubt about whom they were shooting."

Earlier in the day, Cuomo said, an Egyptian military commander phoned him and asked him to arrange cease-fire negotiations. He telephoned French officers in captured Port Fuad across the Suez Canal, but in the meantime advancing British forces captured the Egyptian commander.

Dairyman Finds $25,000 Scattered On Creek Bank

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP)—A dairy farmer today found more than $25,000 on his farm—so much money Oscar Womack said, "I just got tired of picking it up and quit."

He sent his mother to the First National Bank here with what he had picked. Vice President Fred Measures said he's certain that some or all of it may be good money.

The Secret Service was telephoned and the money will be sent to them in Dallas. Womack, 27, arrived at the bank sometime after his mother. When told it might be good money, he left saying, "Guess I'll go back and pick up some more."

Measures said, "I've straightened out about $25,000 of it, and there's still more.

"There has been an attempt to burn it and it had been rained on and it was muddy.

"The face of the bills look good, but the backs look pale, and it may be counterfeit."

The bills all were $100 denominations and some of them had bank wrappers denoting $100 bundles, but there was no identification on the wrappings.

Womack's mother, Mrs. Annie Womack, about 50, brought the dirty bills into the bank wrapped in a bright yellow headscarf.

"We had no idea what she was carrying in it," said Measures.

She spilled the money in front of amazed bank officials who immediately got in touch with the Secret Service in Dallas.

The Womacks, of moderate means, live three miles from the community of Boonsville in Wise County.

Womack told Measures he found the money strewn for some distance in weeds along the bank of Willow Creek, which runs through the farm.

There was no explanation of how the money got there. Neighbors reported that a large automobile drove into the general vicinity about a month ago late at night and then left, but there was no definite link.

The parade will comprise ROTC Batallion staff, Honor Platoon and band from Northeast State college, Veterans of Foreign wars, American Legion, Marine Corps league, National Guard, O.P.H.S. band, and other marching units that will form near the O.P.H.S. school at 1:30 p.m.

All veterans are urged to participate.

It seems like churches are at this time going all out with their ever-enlarging budgets.

The Baptist churches seem to be the ones ready to expend large sums of money, perhaps it is due to a large degree to the fact that tithing is responsible. The First Baptist church in Monroe has adopted a budget for the coming year of approximately $130,000, which is larger than ever and now comes the First Baptist church in West Monroe to beat that record.

This fast growing church, with membership ever loyal to donate to the limit, has voted a budget of $221,000 for 1957. Of this total $52,761 will go to missions. This church is to be complimented for the success financially that it is achieving.

Wayne Huckaby, former City of Monroe Commissioner, now in charge of highways for the state of Louisiana in this area, now occupies an office constructed years ago through his direction. It it located at the Louisiana Department of Highways at 8000 DeSiard.

The Teen Age club of the Recreation department of the City of Monroe will have a Saturday night dance tomorrow. Larry Nola and orchestra will furnish music. Teenagers are invited for an evening of pleasure in the Recreation headquarters.

Members of the Order of Gideons headed by President W. B. Mann, of the Twin City organization here, will go to Shreveport for the week end to attend the state convention.

Many of the churches in that city will have Gideons to fill their pulpits on Sunday morning and evening services.

Administration To Review Its Power Policies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has started a complete review of its natural resource and power policies as a result of setbacks the Republican party suffered in Midwest and Western states, it was reported today.

An official in position to know said, "The machinery has already been set in motion at the vice-presidential and Cabinet level to take a long, hard look at the natural resource and power policies."

He said the study was designed to determine whether changes in principles or policies are needed or whether there should be changes in administration and "a better getting across to the people of the story of what is being done."

While President Eisenhower was sweeping all the Midwest and Western states except Missouri in Tuesday's election, the Republicans lost in senatorial battles in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nevada and Arizona among the 17 reclamation states of the West. They had had high hopes of taking all those contests except the one in Arizona.

The Republicans also lost governorships in Oregon and Washington.

The administration's natural resource policies, including its partnership program for hydroelectric development, were made an issue in many of the reclamation states.

Some Success Reported By Navy In Balloon Test

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two Navy officers said today their record-breaking research balloon flight was "about 65 per cent successful" despite an unscheduled fast drop from the stratosphere brought on by a faulty gas valve.

Cmdrs. Malcolm Ross and Morton L. Lewis, Washington, D.C., likened their hurried descent to a long "elevator ride," but said at no time did they consider their situation critical.

"I can't say we were scared but of course we were a little concerned," laughed Lewis, 37, who with his companion attained a height yesterday of 76,000 feet, man's highest ascent in a balloon.

Despite the near chaos, the Kadar government insisted on conditions for accepting Red Cross aid now piled up in Austrian and Swiss cities.

American authorities believe the best news for peace is the fact that the Soviet Union has refrained from moving its long-range bombers to forward bases from which the United States could be bombed. This would be an absolute necessity for all-out war.

Despite this more optimistic appraisal of the situation, U. S. defense chiefs are on guard against the worst. They still are not certain, for example, why the Russians have massed 20 to 40 divisions along Poland's eastern border.

The general feeling in Washington is that the chances of peace have improved considerably in the past couple of days — even though the threat of war has not been dissipated completely.

(crime) has been done, the police may associate that JOB with a certain criminal (not the criminal with the JOB).

13. GRASS is a sound answer. Surely it is cut GLASS that is "often much admired' not necessarily "well-cut" GLASS.

14. She's certain to want to SEE the doctor, and MAY wish to SUE him.

17. RUIN is best. The association of floods with RAIN is UNIVERSAL. The clue, however, specified "farmers." It is particularly 'FARMERS" who may be RUINED by floods.

28. "ALIKE" ('in the same manner" or "to the same degree") DOES contribute something to the meaning of the clue, while "ALIVE" is superfluous, being already implied.

29. The clue says "often a time-saver." A CABLE is ALWAYS a time-saver (not just often). A mathematical TABLE is often a time-saver in making a calculation. Thus TABLE is best. FABLE is not good.

CLUES DOWN:

1. A BORE should certainly be avoided. As for SORE, there is no reason to assume that a man is SORE AT YOU, and, if he's not, there is no reason to avoid him.

2. There are many cases of a politically controlled PRESS being "USED for party PURPOSES." A DRESS is simply 'worn for parties" not "used for party purposes."

3. Strictly speaking, one admires beautiful FINGERS, and beautiful SINGING. A SINGER is a PERSON, and beautiful singing does not necissarily make that person wholly admirable. You admire the VOICE or TALENT of the SINGER.

7. The men in BANDS are all bandsmen TOGETHER. Men in BANKS can be in different departments and scarcely know one another at all.

10. SAYINGS is best. We are ACTUALLY richer for our SAVINGS. SAYINGS only enrich us "in a WAY."

12. PARSON is preferred. There are certain MINOR crimes that the average PERSON (though hardly the PARSON) WOULD condone.

19. IF she likes NINE, the choice would indeed be heard. Liking NONE, she would in effect HAVE NO choice.

22. PEAR is best. Your own garden PEAS will probably actually BE nicer, being perfectly fresh. There is no reason why your PEAR should be nicer, but it may well "seem" so.

Three Martin employes and a Navy officer were killed when the first Seamaster was lost.

Both XP6Ms were powered by four Allison J71 jet engines with exhaust afterburners for greater thrust on takeoff. During a test flight on Election Day the pilot told an Associated Press reporter that only two of the afterburners had been used so far.

He said both the United States and the Soviet Union stood by Egypt when it was attacked.

He declared Egypt would not clear blockships from the canal "as long as there is one foreign soldier on Egyptian soil."

Nasser made no mention of the emergency U.N. force about to land in Egypt.

ed the establishment of other schools in their own buildings. In 1921, the Georgia Tucker and Barkdull Faulk were built as elementary schools. Then Lida Benton was erected in 1927 as a third elementary school was required. Sherrouse school, near the college, came in due time and then a high honor was heaped on this great educator — superintendent, when a new high school, near Forsythe park, was erected and named Neville High.

Superintendent Van Odom, now holding the post once filled by Mr. Neville, paid tribute over a loud speaker to the man being honored and a big floral bouquet was handed him to present later to Mr. Neville at his home.

Veterans Day will be observed with a downtown parade in Monroe Saturday. Once it was known as Armistice Day and was on November 11. Now it is known as "Veterans' Day" and this year, as it falls on a Sunday, will be observed on Saturday.

The parade will comprise ROTC Batallion staff, Honor Platoon and band from Northeast State college, Veterans of Foreign wars, American Legion, Marine Corps league, National Guard, O.P.H.S. band, and other marching units that will form near the O.P.H.S. school at 1:30 p.m.

All veterans are urged to participate.

The Baptist churches seem to be the ones ready to expend large sums of money, perhaps it is due to a large degree to the fact that tithing is responsible. The First Baptist church in Monroe has adopted a budget for the coming year of approximately $130,000, which is larger than ever and now comes the First Baptist church in West Monroe to beat that record.

This fast growing church, with membership ever loyal to donate to the limit, has voted a budget of $221,000 for 1957. Of this total $52,761 will go to missions. This church is to be complimented for the success financially that it is achieving.

Wayne Huckaby, former City of Monroe Commissioner, now in charge of highways for the state of Louisiana in this area, now occupies an office constructed years ago through his direction. It it located at the Louisiana Department of Highways at 8000 DeSiard.

The Teen Age club of the Recreation department of the City of Monroe will have a Saturday night dance tomorrow. Larry Nola and orchestra will furnish music. Teenagers are invited for an evening of pleasure in the Recreation headquarters.

Members of the Order of Gideons headed by President W. B. Mann, of the Twin City organization here, will go to Shreveport for the week end to attend the state convention.

Many of the churches in that city will have Gideons to fill their pulpits on Sunday morning and evening services.

Administration To Review Its Power Policies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has started a complete review of its natural resource and power policies as a result of setbacks the Republican party suffered in Midwest and Western states, it was reported today.

An official in position to know said, "The machinery has already been set in motion at the vice-presidential and Cabinet level to take a long, hard look at the natural resource and power policies."

He said the study was designed to determine whether changes in principles or policies are needed or whether there should be changes in administration and "a better getting across to the people of the story of what is being done."

While President Eisenhower was sweeping all the Midwest and Western states except Missouri in Tuesday's election, the Republicans lost in senatorial battles in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nevada and Arizona among the 17 reclamation states of the West. They had had high hopes of taking all those contests except the one in Arizona.

The Republicans also lost governorships in Oregon and Washington.

The administration's natural resource policies, including its partnership program for hydroelectric development, were made an issue in many of the reclamation states.

Eden Ready For Summit Parleys

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden said tonight he is ready to take part in a summit conference to deal with dangers in Europe and the Middle East.

He praised the Swiss proposal that the Big Four—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France— met with India's Prime Minister Nehru.

Eden sjoke at a banquet given by the lord mayor of London. Soviet Ambassador Jakob Malik was in the audience.

The Prime Minister denounced "ruthless repression" in Hungary and said:

"We must face the fact that so long as such things can happen the United Nations is very far from being the world order which we in the West would wish it to be."

Some Success Reported By Navy In Balloon Test

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two Navy officers said today their record-breaking research balloon flight was "about 65 per cent successful" despite an unscheduled fast drop from the stratosphere brought on by a faulty gas valve.

Cmdrs. Malcolm Ross and Morton L. Lewis, Washington, D.C., likened their hurried descent to a long "elevator ride," but said at no time did they consider their situation critical.

"I can't say we were scared but of course we were a little concerned," laughed Lewis, 37, who with his companion attained a height yesterday of 76,000 feet, man's highest ascent in a balloon.

The two, poised and smiling most of the time, recounted the flight at a news conference at the Naval air station here.

The insurgents held the twisting, narrow streets in the ancient city near the old royal palace, where tall walls, lack of space to maneuver and overhanging buildings made excellent fortresses from which to attack Russian tanks.

In its attempts to placate the people, the radio denied that Cardinal Josef Mindszenty ousted Premier Imre Nagy or any member of his liberal cabinet had becn arrested. It said some members of the Nagy government even had joined with Kadar.

It also admitted serious food, fuel and clothing shortages.

Thousands of smashed windows let in cold and rain to add to the people's misery.

"We need every spoonful of sugar and shortening until food transports come," the radio said.

Despite the near chaos, the Kadar government insisted on conditions for accepting Red Cross aid now piled up in Austrian and Swiss cities.

to stir up more trouble between Arabs and Jews and move into the area to "preserve the peace." The majority opinion is that the Kremlin merely is trying to replace the devastated Egyptian air force.

American authorities believe the best news for peace is the fact that the Soviet Union has refrained from moving its long-range bombers to forward bases from which the United States could be bombed. This would be an absolute necessity for all-out war.

Despite this more optimistic appraisal of the situation, U. S. defense chiefs are on guard against the worst. They still are not certain, for example, why the Russians have massed 20 to 40 divisions along Poland's eastern border.

The general feeling in Washington is that the chances of peace have improved considerably in the past couple of days — even though the threat of war has not been dissipated completely.

Tennessee Girl Has Champion At Dixie Stock Show

MEMPHIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—An angus bull entered by Joan Cooper of Humboldt, Tenn., was named champion today at the annual Dixie National Fat Cattle and Feeder Calf Show.

The 912-pound steer sold for 55 cents a pound at the auction after the judging. An angus steer entered by Joan's sister, Judy, won reserve champion honors. The sisters also exhibited the champion pen of five.

The show drew entries from Kentucky, Arkansas and Mississippi. The feeder calf show will be held tomorrow.

Jackpot Puzzle

(crime) has been done, the police may associate that JOB with a certain criminal (not the criminal with the JOB).

13. GRASS is a sound answer. Surely it is cut GLASS that is "often much admired' not necessarily "well-cut" GLASS.

14. She's certain to want to SEE the doctor, and MAY wish to SUE him.

17. RUIN is best. The association of floods with RAIN is UNIVERSAL. The clue, however, specified "farmers." It is particularly 'FARMERS" who may be RUINED by floods.

28. "ALIKE" ('in the same manner" or "to the same degree") DOES contribute something to the meaning of the clue, while "ALIVE" is superfluous, being already implied.

29. The clue says "often a time-saver." A CABLE is ALWAYS a time-saver (not just often). A mathematical TABLE is often a time-saver in making a calculation. Thus TABLE is best. FABLE is not good.

CLUES DOWN:

1. A BORE should certainly be avoided. As for SORE, there is no reason to assume that a man is SORE AT YOU, and, if he's not, there is no reason to avoid him.

2. There are many cases of a politically controlled PRESS being "USED for party PURPOSES." A DRESS is simply 'worn for parties" not "used for party purposes."

3. Strictly speaking, one admires beautiful FINGERS, and beautiful SINGING. A SINGER is a PERSON, and beautiful singing does not necissarily make that person wholly admirable. You admire the VOICE or TALENT of the SINGER.

7. The men in BANDS are all bandsmen TOGETHER. Men in BANKS can be in different departments and scarcely know one another at all.

10. SAYINGS is best. We are ACTUALLY richer for our SAVINGS. SAYINGS only enrich us "in a WAY."

12. PARSON is preferred. There are certain MINOR crimes that the average PERSON (though hardly the PARSON) WOULD condone.

19. IF she likes NINE, the choice would indeed be heard. Liking NONE, she would in effect HAVE NO choice.

22. PEAR is best. Your own garden PEAS will probably actually BE nicer, being perfectly fresh. There is no reason why your PEAR should be nicer, but it may well "seem" so.

trol forced the swift-flying jet into a partial outside loop, causing its disintegration.

The Seamaster has been described by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, as "the fastest low-altitude attack aircraft in existence today."

Three Martin employes and a Navy officer were killed when the first Seamaster was lost.

Both XP6Ms were powered by four Allison J71 jet engines with exhaust afterburners for greater thrust on takeoff. During a test flight on Election Day the pilot told an Associated Press reporter that only two of the afterburners had been used so far.

3. Tobacco, $2,003,228, up $231,165.

4. Beer, $1,047,005, down $110,236.

Also during the first four months, major losses compared with last year were in the soft drink taxes, down $30,319, and the auto license and title fees, off $66,398.

Olds-Cadillac Dealer

Van Veckhoven Is Dealer For Olds-Cadillac

The appointment by General Motors Corporation of A. T. Van Veckhoven, formerly of Shreveport, as the Oldsmobile - Cadillac agent in the Twin Cities has been announced this week. Van Veckhoven has opened his agency at 310 Walnut street, Monroe.

For the past eleven years the newly appointed Monroe dealer has been affiliated with the automobile business in Shreveport. He recently sold his operation in Shreveport.

Van Veckhoven has announced the appointment of Johnny Heathock and Eddie Hemphill as managers of the service and parts departments respectively. Heathock, who recently left another automobile agency in Monroe to rejoin Oldsmobile - Cadillac, has had experience in this line both in Monroe and in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Hemphill was with the Twin City Motor Company for ten years, prior to joining Van Veckhoven.

The new agent is married to the former Miss Dorothy Ann Bush of Homer. They have four children. Mrs. Van Veckhoven and family will move to Monroe in the near future, Van Veckhoven said.

Engineering Scholarship Is Awarded At Tech

RUSTON, Nov. 9 (Special)—One of Louisiana Tech's most outstanding students has just been announced as the recipient of a $100 scholarship awarded by the Louisiana Engineering Society.

He is Charles R. Connaughton of 724 Rutherford Street, Shreveport, a petroleum engineering major who will graduate from Tech in June of 1957.

A faculty committee of the School of Engineering at Tech selected Connaughton on the basis of scholastic standing, personality, attitude and activity in professional societies.

Connaughton has a scholastic average of 2.64 out of a possible 3.00. He is a member of the Student Senate, Honor Court, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity, the Arnold Air Society and Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity. He is this year's president of the Tech branch of the American Institute of Mining, Metalurgical and Petroleum Engineers. He is a Distinguished Cadet in the Air Force ROTC at Tech.

In the summers of 1954 and 1955 he was employed by the Core Laboratories, Inc., in Shreveport.

Homecoming Is Slated Saturday At Northwestern

NATCHITOCHES, Nov. 9 (Special) — Hundreds of Northwestern State College graduates and former students will come to Natchitoches this Saturday to participate in NSC's annual Homecoming Day, scheduled to begin in the morning and to last throughout the evening.

Several activities are on tap for the occasion, with registration and a coffee hour starting things off at 8:30 a. m., to be followed by a big parade forming at NSC's main gate at 10:30 a. m. Chairman of the committee for the "coffee hour" is Miss Frances Porter, NSC dean of women, while H. J. Young of the college agriculture and forestry faculty, heads up the parade committee.

Young said several organizations have already entered floats in the parade, with prizes of 75 dollars for first place, 50 dollars for second, 35 dollars for third, 25 dollars for fourth, and 15 dollars for fifth place to be awarded. One of the longest and most colorful parades of the long homecoming series is predicted.

Northwestern alumni, headed by President E. H. Gilson, Shreveport insurance executive, will meet at 11:15 a. m. in the Natchitoches High School auditorium for their annual business meeting. They will hear brief talks by NSC President John S. Kyser and Miss Mary Robson, the latter explaining the role of the American Association of University Women in the college today.

Mrs. Frances Halm of the college's home economics faculty said the alumni luncheon will be held at 12 noon in the high school cafeteria. She is chairman of the committee making arrangements for the special meal, at which new alumni oficers will be presented. A president, vice - president, secretary - treasurer and board members from the Monroe and New Orleans areas will be elected at the business meeting prior to the luncheon.

Highlight of the day will come with the football game between Northwestern's Demons and Southwestern Louisiana of Lafayette, to begin at 2:30 p. m. Prior to that time, however, NSC's homecoming queen, Mrs. Laurie Hennigan, and members of her court will be presented to the fans at 2 p. m., along with winning floats from the parade. A flag - raising ceremony is also scheduled at this time, when the college R. O. T. C. color guard will take over briefly before kick-off time.

A colorful halftime show under the direction of Dwight Davis, NSC band director, is planned, with the Demonettes, coed precision marching group directed by Miss Violet Davion, taking part. Special formations and an extra - special (but secret) theme is on the agenda.

Open house at sororities, fraternities and other organizations is scheduled for 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., with the annual homecoming dance set to begin at 8 p. m. Music will be furnished by Durwood Cline, well-known orchestra leader from Dallas.

Local Gideons To Go To Shreveport For State Meet

A group of fully a dozen members of the Gideons, headed by W. B. Mann, president of this organization in the Twin Cities, will spend the week end in Shreveport where the state convention will be held.

A full program has been arranged and on Sunday many of the pulpits of Shreveport churches will be supplied by members of this group.

Dial Phone System Demonstrated For Tech Engineers

RUSTON, Nov. 9 (Special)—Description and operation of a modern dial telephone system was the topic at a meeting of the Louisiana Tech student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held recently in the Little Theater.

After the talk a short business session was held in which the members voted to proceed with plans to form a joint student branch of the A. I. E. E. with the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Following the meeting the group was taken on a tour of the local telephone exchange, which is one of the most modern in the country. The tour was arranged by J. R. McKinley of Monroe.

West Monroe To Touch Off Big Christmas Fete

West Monroe will touch off the Christmas season in its city December 7 with the traditional parade through the downtown streets and switching on the Christmas lights strung over the city.

The program is under the auspices of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the West Monroe Ministerial Association.

Kelly Thompson, lighting program chairman, anounced that a program will be held at the intersection of Trenton and Natchitoches streets following the parade.

Churches and organizations are invited to enter floats depicting the birth of Christ, Thompson said. Prizes will be awarded the best three floats entered by church groups and $25 is the limit that may be spent on any float, Thompson stated.

Carols and Christmas music by the West Monroe High School band will be the program following the parade, Thompson said. Rev. W. D. Milton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will supervise the program. To conclude the festivities, Santa will distribute candy to the children.

Open house at sororities, fraternities and other organizations is scheduled for 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., with the annual homecoming dance set to begin at 8 p. m. Music will be furnished by Durwood Cline, well-known orchestra leader from Dallas.

Local Gideons To Go To Shreveport For State Meet

A group of fully a dozen members of the Gideons, headed by W. B. Mann, president of this organization in the Twin Cities, will spend the week end in Shreveport where the state convention will be held.

A full program has been arranged and on Sunday many of the pulpits of Shreveport churches will be supplied by members of this group.

Dial Phone System Demonstrated For Tech Engineers

RUSTON, Nov. 9 (Special)—Description and operation of a modern dial telephone system was the topic at a meeting of the Louisiana Tech student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held recently in the Little Theater.

After the talk a short business session was held in which the members voted to proceed with plans to form a joint student branch of the A. I. E. E. with the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Following the meeting the group was taken on a tour of the local telephone exchange, which is one of the most modern in the country. The tour was arranged by J. R. McKinley of Monroe.

West Monroe To Touch Off Big Christmas Fete

West Monroe will touch off the Christmas season in its city December 7 with the traditional parade through the downtown streets and switching on the Christmas lights strung over the city.

The program is under the auspices of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the West Monroe Ministerial Association.

Kelly Thompson, lighting program chairman, anounced that a program will be held at the intersection of Trenton and Natchitoches streets following the parade.

Churches and organizations are invited to enter floats depicting the birth of Christ, Thompson said. Prizes will be awarded the best three floats entered by church groups and $25 is the limit that may be spent on any float, Thompson stated.

Carols and Christmas music by the West Monroe High School band will be the program following the parade, Thompson said. Rev. W. D. Milton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will supervise the program. To conclude the festivities, Santa will distribute candy to the children.

Russian Friendliness Toward Ike

After his overwhelming victory for re-election last Tuesday, President Eisenhower received glowing notes of congratulations from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Klementi Voroshinlov, president of the Soviet Union. This show of warm affection from the Russians may mean one of two things.

It may mean that the Soviet leaders wish to acknowledge a sincere respect for America's president or their actions may have been intended to portray some kind of false illusion before the eyes of the world.

Bulganin's message to the President, as reported by the Russian Tass news agency, said in part: "We send you our warm congratulations and best wishes in connection with your re-election to the presidency.

"We know you as a great statesman and leader of the United States whose aspirations are the relaxation of world tension and the establishment of peaceful, fruitful relations between all states and peoples, to the establishment of such relations between our countries. We have been and are advocates of the most fruitful friendly relations between our peoples and our states."

The Bulganin note went on to wish President Eisenhower "strength and good health."

Voroshilov's message read about the same.

Had Adlai Stevenson been elected he no doubt would have received similarly worded notes from the Soviet Union. It is doubtful, however, that Russian leaders would ever have held the respect for Stevenson which they now possess for President Eisenhower.

The Soviets would have preferred that America elect a president whose views, like Adlai Stevenson's, would have led to Russian superiority militarily and politically. Didn't Stevenson propose that the United States discontinue development of the hydrogen bomb and come out for the curtailment of American military forces? And didn't Bulganin "endorse" Mr. Stevenson for president?

Therefore, it is clear that Moscow would have been pleased had Stevenson been elected.

On the other hand it is clear that the Russians respect Mr. Eisenhower because he insists that America carry a big stick while straining every effort to preserve world peace without resorting to war.

The Russians evidently don't want war either. They would prefer to absorb the world while soft politicians permit the Kremlin to bluff its way to that end.

In Adlai they saw a man who would have permitted the United States to surrender world leadership and allowed Russia to bluff the world, little at a time, into subservience. During his two unsuccessful campaigns against Mr. Eisenhower, Stevenson gave every reason to indicate such a stand with regard to Russia.

The Russians must know that the only way they can deal with President Eisenhower is through honest international diplomacy. The Russians know Eisenhower for what he is—a man of principle and integrity, who is possessed by a sincere desire for world peace.

College Crisis Solution?

There is little doubt about the growing "crisis in the colleges" and many remedies have been suggested.

Now comes a college president with the refreshing suggestion: "Give the colleges back to the students and let them do the learning."

The proposal comes from Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, N. Y. He contends that the present system places too much emphasis on memory and fails to touch the inner consciousness of the student, to deal with his motivations, his emotions, his aims, and his needs."

American colleges and universities have long been criticized for "coddling" and "spoon feeding" their students. European universities scoff at required class attendance, frequent examinations, and other rigid restrictions on the student.

In Europe the student is in a sink or swim environment. He meets once a week or so with a tutor who suggests lectures he attend and perhaps gives him a subject for an essay. From there on the student is on his own—to go to class, read a ream of books, or just play. At the end comes a comprehensive, tough examination which weeds the sheep from the goats.

As more and more students crush into American colleges, there will come a limit to buildings, to gifted teachers, to the quality of instruction as a whole. Perhaps some variation must be found to the inflexible lecture-homework-examination system which often hasn't gotten the job done even in times of normal enrollment in the past.

Emergency Of Peace

The strength of any nation is in its people. That strength increases or diminishes in direct proportion to the attitude of the people toward their government.

If government is kept strong and virile, respected and honored, the nation is safe. If government becomes something to be exploited, a distributor of bounty, which provides instead of governs, its strength turns to weakness and its whole purpose is defeated.

During the history of the United States there have been times when it became necessary to defend the government. In times of war the entire resources of the nation in both materials and manpower have been marshaled in behalf of victory. No sacrifice was too great to that end.

America's sons have died in many lands in defense of the flag. They asked little. The United States emerged from the last conflict the strongest nation in the world because the American people were strong in time of emergency.

Since the coming of peace there has been a growing tendency to exploit the government instead of defending it. The American people have become beggars at the doors of the national treasury. Debts are being piled upon debts. The nation's resources are being dissipated for the benefit of selfish minorities.

Americans are following after strange political gods who would turn the nation away from the security of liberty and freedom.

The People Speak

The volume of votes cast in the 1956 election, more than 51 million out of a total population of 168 million, clearly indicates that the people not only spoke but wished to speak. No one in the United States is required to vote; it is a wholly voluntary process. Eisenhower received more than a majority of the popular vote; the electoral vote does not present the same proportions as the popular vote. In the electoral vote, state by state, winner takes all.

Eisenhower's popularity held up despite the use that was made by the opposition of his ill-health. If anything, this particular argument hurt Stevenson, as Eisenhower appeared hale and often on the television screen to millions of Americans and sometimes he looked less tired than his younger challenger.

As most humans have, at one time or another, been sick of a more or less serious nature, the reiteration that Ike had had a thrombosis and an ileitis evoked not only sympathy but a pride in his energetic comeback.

Another argument that fouled the opposition wa "part-time President." It sounded far-fetched. In this 40-hour-a-week country, who is not working part time. And the assumption is that if the business of the nation gets done to the satisfaction of the people, it only goes to show that Eisenhower knows how to organize his office. The golf ball and the mashie may yet become the symbol of the era. Walter Reuther who advocates a 30-hour week surely cannot object to a President who gets his work done without a stop watch. At any rate, the people so voted.

Another argument that ran foul is that Americans can be led by the nose on a class-conscious basis. Eisenhower carried all the distinctively farm states except six in the South and it was Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who proposed and pursued a farm policy which the Democrats said was ruining the farmer and returning him to the Democratic fold. Except as it affected some members of Congress, and that could also be over other matters, the farmers, by and large, helped to increase the Eisenhower vote.

Similarly, Eisenhower could not have carried such industrial states as Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Connecticut and Ohio if the political efforts of the AFL-CIO counted for much. The evidence is that the American worker while belonging to a union votes for candidates for public office as he chooses. He does not regard the political judgment of his leaders as better than his own.

Also it does not appear in any figures that there was any show of racial or nationality antagonism to the President or that, in this election, such matters counted.

Stevenson undoubtedly frightened some who might have voted for him by his pursuit of the argument that the H-bomb should not be tested. It sounded unrealistic. It gave the impression of careless judgment particularly after the Russian invasion of Hungary and the brutal proposal to the United States that the two atomic nations, the United States and Soviet Russia, join to take the British and the French out of the Suez enterprise. It seemed to many that whereas Stevenson may have had a valid argument about radioactive strontium, this country had to go on testing as long as Soviet Russia rejected every proposal to limit or even abolish the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs by international control and inspection. At any rate, Stevenson's approach to this problem lost for him the confidence of many voters who feared that he accepted immature advice too willingly.

The same applied to his argument concerning the extremely unpopular draft, which most parents fear and hate. But the feeling was also strong that this was not the time to bring up such a subject, not when there was shooting in the Middle East and in Hungary and when Iceland was throwing us out and who can tell what will happen next? It was the wrong campaign in which to take up an issue which, under some circumstances, might have been popular.

Undoubtedly, there will be weeks of discussion about this campaign, but this much looks certain: the Democrats need a new type of leadership if they are to win in 1960. Their present position resembles that of the Republican Party after the defeat of Wendell Willkie.

Lights Over Broadway

Trapped in a treacherous trade, stage actors sip Chateau Yquem one season, shiver in cold water flats the next. In a recent survey of the activities of its membership Actors Equity discovered that in a year's span a sixth of its personnel found no employment in the theatre. Those who did—averaged ten weeks' work . . . Their average income was $790.00 . . . Only one in eight of those who worked made as much as $5,000 . . . Shriveled by its own statistics, Equity came to this conclusion: "Anyone primarily concerned with earning a living by his profession should try elsewhere but the theatre" . . . Most actors would be reduced to the extremity of eating their own young if they didn't add to their income through television, radio and screen engagements.

Playwrights and producers run the same rags - to - riches gamut . . . Because of this deplorable state of affairs many of the stage-crazed have alternate trades, secondary professions to which they can turn — when the wolf starts to claw at the door . . . Playing in "Ball at the Savoy" at London's Drury Lane (in '33) Maurice Evans rode to the theatre in the truck he used to make deliveries for his dry-cleaning business . . . ### The School Library

One of the important rooms in the school is the library. It too often is neglected because there is a limited amount of money that can be used for books, and textbooks must come first. As books are the tools of teaching and learning, one might suppose that they would be supplied in abundance. But they are skimped to the limit always. That is why I hope to call the attention of the P.T.A. to the school library.

Children need a quiet place in their day at schol. A place where no voice lectures, no voice admonishes; a place of peace and quiet and a chance to enjoy their minds, a joy seldom known in many schools this day, worse luck.

This room I speak of ought to be the size of a double classroom, well lighted, walls lined with low bookcases, the room furnished with tables and chairs of comfortable height and of sound construction. It should have simple but restful atmosphere presided over by a book-loving teacher trained as librarian.

But no matter what is skimped, the books must be there in rich abundance. These books should be those that are required reading for each grade, and there ought to be a goodly number of each set. When the teacher of English says, "This next month please read 'Silas Marner,'" and there is just one copy, a tattered one at that, in the library, the children just give up.

Then the social studies teacher says, "We will take up the study of the various industries in the state this coming month," and proceeds to appoint groups to search the material available. If there are no reference books in the library save the unabridged dictionary that the past generations used, the students are stymied. So is the teacher.

Of course, school budgets are limited. They have to be, taxes being what they are, but there are ways to help the libraries. The P.T.A. can raise money to buy good reference books. They can do some research in the neighborhood and, no doubt, find sets of reference books that the owners would donate. Ask the teachers who need and will use the books what ones they most need, and do something toward getting these.

Most teachers would like the standard books, such as the Book of Knowledge, the Junior Britannica, Compton's Encyclopedia, the Standard Britanica, the Funk and Wagnall's new Dictionary that has the seven languages section. There is a world of fine reference books. Try the second-hand book shops.

Do help the school library.

In some families, bedtime for children is trouble time for parents. Dr. Patri tells how to overcome this trouble in his leaflet P-28, "Bedtime Troubles." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Foreign Aid Burden Due For Cold, Hard Study

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' prediction of a few weeks ago that the United States would have to go on spending in excess of four billion dollars annually for foreign aid "for a considerable period of time" will be sharply questioned by leaders of both parties when Congress convenes.

The United States since the end of World War II has handed out or authorized 55 billion dollars in aid to other nations, the larger part of which has gone for military purposes. If the money came from some inexhaustible cornucopia, that giveaway program could be continued ad infinitum. But recent events seem to indicate that while this country has exhibited an unparalleled munificence in a not always intelligent effort to save the free world from communist encroachment, the other leading units of the free world have used our money for their best interests.

The U. S. now has a public debt close to 280 billion dollars. While the cost to taxpayers of foreign aid since World War II will exceed 55 billion dollars, the same taxpayers have contributed no more than 47 billion dollars to all public schools, no more than 51 billions to all veterans' programs, and no more than 14 billion to all federal public works programs.

Because approximately two thirds of foreign aid has gone into military channels, the grants of U. S. money to countries for that purpose cannot be disclosed for security reasons. But an approximate breakdown on military and economic aid during the Eisenhower years shows 10½ billions for military aid and six billions for economic aid.

Of the economic aid, Britain has received during this administration in excess of a billion dollars, France more than 1½ billions and Israel in excess of a quarter of a billion.

It would be no exaggeration to say that in the same period, France has received enough from this country in military aid to finance most of her military costs in Indo-China and in North Africa as well.

During this time, the U. S. has given Egypt on the record scarcely more than 25 million dollars, a pittance compared with the grants of economic aid to the major European powers, Britain and France which has used U. S. aid in considerable part to bolster their colonial policy. That has accounted in large measure for their own recovery, but has enabled the Communist world to circulate its propaganda that the U. S. is a chief supporter of colonialism throughout the world.

U. S. economic aid has undoubtedly kept some nations —Italy in particular — from Communist control. Italy has received more than half a billion dollars in grants under this administration. The return in increased trade with that country has, in the opinion of government officials, and businessmen, made the investment well worth while.

But on the whole the theory that money spent to bolster other countris comes back in the form of friendship and support for the United States has received some rude jolts. We give India huge sums and India is usually on Russia's side an against us. If we can get a precise look in Italy at what our spending has produced it is about the only one we can. In most countries we get scant credit for our aid. More and more they have given proof that they regard United States financial help as something they are entitled to without any accompanying obligation.

The immense and awe - inspiring vents of the last fortnight have augmented the already rising disquietitude in this nation over foreign aid. There is no evidence that we have weaned any neutralist countries ot our side and, indeed they seem to have become more neutralist.

And above all we have lost the two Allies with whom we stood the longest and closest. Whether they double - crossed us as the most extremist have said; or whether they left us our once firmest friend, Winston Churchill, said, because it was for them "not possible to hope for American cooperation on the scale and with the promptness necessary to control events" the fact does remain that we have for the time being lost them.

The net of all the recent events has been to multiply the number of Americans who believe we should abandon some of our philanthropic aspirations and follow a more intelligent policy of our own self interest. Perhaps if we did our home and our world balance sheet would become more encouraging.

RIPLEY'S—Believe It Or Not

Worry Clinic

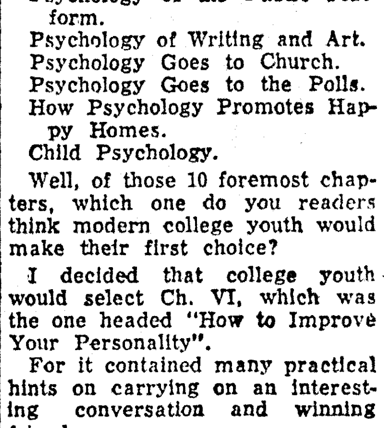
By Dr. George W. Crane

Dr. Hess placed no coercion on his students in the experiment described below. They did as they pleased. But the results bear repetition widely. We need to accentuate the positive virtues of modern youth instead of always stressing the occasional delinquents in their ranks. Young folks want to be good and happy and healthy, so help them!

Case T-318: Dr. L. W. Hess, aged about 50, is one of our outstanding Applied Psychologists.



He is now engaged chiefly in private practice, but while he was Head of the Psychology Department at Hillsdale College in Michigan a couple of years ago, he conducted an interesting experiment.

His large classes in Applied Psychology were using my textbook entitled "Psychology Applied", which has 20 chapters covering all the major fields where psychology is used.

So Dr. Hess assigned his students the written homework problem of picking out the one chapter which they liked best. Then they were to write a short essay explaining their choice.

"Which chapter do you think was their favorite?" I was later asked.

Well, I pondered the matter briefly. Among the 20 chapters were several which I figured would rate fairly high with college youth.

Here are 10 of the typical chapter headings that were high on their list:

- Psychiatry and Mental Hygiene.
- Individual and Sex Differences.
- How to Improve your Personality.
- The Psychology of Advertising.
- Psychology of the Public Platform.
- Psychology of Writing and Art.
- Psychology Goes to Church.
- Psychology Goes to the Polls.
- How Psychology Promotes Happy Homes.
- Child Psychology.

Well, of those 10 foremost chapters, which one do you readers think modern college youth would make their first choice?

I decided that college youth would select Ch. VI, which was the one headed "How to Improve Your Personality".

For it contained many practical hints on carrying on an interesting conversation and winning friends.

"No, Dr. Crane, the most popular choice was Ch. XVIII," came the surprising reply.

Ch. XVIII was headed "Psychology Goes to Church", and contained advice on teaching Sunday school, increasing church attendance, etc.

It also had a section entitled "Jesus—the World's Greatest Applied Psychologist."

And 90 per cent of these college men and women selected that chapter as their first choice!

It is very encouraging to parents, as well as to us educators, to see such tangible proof of the idealism of modern youth.

For we read so many stories about delinquency and juvenile gangs that many folks get the erroneous idea all modern youth are going to the devil.

That is definitely NOT true. Never before in human history have we had such a high level of religious idealism among youth. And this is not idle flattery.

In Colonial Days, only 5 per cent of Americans belonged to any church, whether Jewish, Catholic or Protestant.

The figure was only 25 per cent in 1900. But now it has zoomed to 60 per cent. And a much larger percentage of youth are in Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Sunday school than ever before in American history.

So focus more often on the virtues of modern youth instead of highlighting the few cases of delinquency and crime.

To help young folks live moral lives, be sure they have access in your home or church or high school library to my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Didn't Stevenson propose that the United States discontinue development of the hydrogen bomb and come out for the curtailment of American military forces? And didn't Bulganin "endorse" Mr. Stevenson for president?

Therefore, it is clear that Moscow would have been pleased had Stevenson been elected.

On the other hand it is clear that the Russians respect Mr. Eisenhower because he insists that America carry a big stick while straining every effort to preserve world peace without resorting to war.

The Russians evidently don't want war either. They would prefer to absorb the world while soft politicians permit the Kremlin to bluff its way to that end.

In Adlai they saw a man who would have permitted the United States to surrender world leadership and allowed Russia to bluff the world, little at a time, into subservience. During his two unsuccessful campaigns against Mr. Eisenhower, Stevenson gave every reason to indicate such a stand with regard to Russia.

The Russians must know that the only way they can deal with President Eisenhower is through honest international diplomacy. The Russians know Eisenhower for what he is—a man of principle and integrity, who is possessed by a sincere desire for world peace.

College Crisis Solution?

There is little doubt about the growing "crisis in the colleges" and many remedies have been suggested.

Now comes a college president with the refreshing suggestion: "Give the colleges back to the students and let them do the learning."

The proposal comes from Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, N. Y. He contends that the present system places too much emphasis on memory and fails to touch the inner consciousness of the student, to deal with his motivations, his emotions, his aims, and his needs."

American colleges and universities have long been criticized for "coddling" and "spoon feeding" their students. European universities scoff at required class attendance, frequent examinations, and other rigid restrictions on the student.

In Europe the student is in a sink or swim environment. He meets once a week or so with a tutor who suggests lectures he attend and perhaps gives him a subject for an essay. From there on the student is on his own—to go to class, read a ream of books, or just play. At the end comes a comprehensive, tough examination which weeds the sheep from the goats.

As more and more students crush into American colleges, there will come a limit to buildings, to gifted teachers, to the quality of instruction as a whole. Perhaps some variation must be found to the inflexible lecture-homework-examination system which often hasn't gotten the job done even in times of normal enrollment in the past.

Emergency Of Peace

The strength of any nation is in its people. That strength increases or diminishes in direct proportion to the attitude of the people toward their government.

If government is kept strong and virile, respected and honored, the nation is safe. If government becomes something to be exploited, a distributor of bounty, which provides instead of governs, its strength turns to weakness and its whole purpose is defeated.

During the history of the United States there have been times when it became necessary to defend the government. In times of war the entire resources of the nation in both materials and manpower have been marshaled in behalf of victory. No sacrifice was too great to that end.

America's sons have died in many lands in defense of the flag. They asked little. The United States emerged from the last conflict the strongest nation in the world because the American people were strong in time of emergency.

Since the coming of peace there has been a growing tendency to exploit the government instead of defending it. The American people have become beggars at the doors of the national treasury. Debts are being piled upon debts. The nation's resources are being dissipated for the benefit of selfish minorities.

Americans are following after strange political gods who would turn the nation away from the security of liberty and freedom.

The People Speak

The volume of votes cast in the 1956 election, more than 51 million out of a total population of 168 million, clearly indicates that the people not only spoke but wished to speak. No one in the United States is required to vote; it is a wholly voluntary process. Eisenhower received more than a majority of the popular vote; the electoral vote does not present the same proportions as the popular vote. In the electoral vote, state by state, winner takes all.

Eisenhower's popularity held up despite the use that was made by the opposition of his ill-health. If anything, this particular argument hurt Stevenson, as Eisenhower appeared hale and often on the television screen to millions of Americans and sometimes he looked less tired than his younger challenger.

As most humans have, at one time or another, been sick of a more or less serious nature, the reiteration that Ike had had a thrombosis and an ileitis evoked not only sympathy but a pride in his energetic comeback.

Another argument that fouled the opposition wa "part-time President." It sounded far-fetched. In this 40-hour-a-week country, who is not working part time. And the assumption is that if the business of the nation gets done to the satisfaction of the people, it only goes to show that Eisenhower knows how to organize his office. The golf ball and the mashie may yet become the symbol of the era. Walter Reuther who advocates a 30-hour week surely cannot object to a President who gets his work done without a stop watch. At any rate, the people so voted.

Another argument that ran foul is that Americans can be led by the nose on a class-conscious basis. Eisenhower carried all the distinctively farm states except six in the South and it was Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who proposed and pursued a farm policy which the Democrats said was ruining the farmer and returning him to the Democratic fold. Except as it affected some members of Congress, and that could also be over other matters, the farmers, by and large, helped to increase the Eisenhower vote.

Similarly, Eisenhower could not have carried such industrial states as Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Connecticut and Ohio if the political efforts of the AFL-CIO counted for much. The evidence is that the American worker while belonging to a union votes for candidates for public office as he chooses. He does not regard the political judgment of his leaders as better than his own.

Also it does not appear in any figures that there was any show of racial or nationality antagonism to the President or that, in this election, such matters counted.

Stevenson undoubtedly frightened some who might have voted for him by his pursuit of the argument that the H-bomb should not be tested. It sounded unrealistic. It gave the impression of careless judgment particularly after the Russian invasion of Hungary and the brutal proposal to the United States that the two atomic nations, the United States and Soviet Russia, join to take the British and the French out of the Suez enterprise. It seemed to many that whereas Stevenson may have had a valid argument about radioactive strontium, this country had to go on testing as long as Soviet Russia rejected every proposal to limit or even abolish the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs by international control and inspection. At any rate, Stevenson's approach to this problem lost for him the confidence of many voters who feared that he accepted immature advice too willingly.

The same applied to his argument concerning the extremely unpopular draft, which most parents fear and hate. But the feeling was also strong that this was not the time to bring up such a subject, not when there was shooting in the Middle East and in Hungary and when Iceland was throwing us out and who can tell what will happen next? It was the wrong campaign in which to take up an issue which, under some circumstances, might have been popular.

Undoubtedly, there will be weeks of discussion about this campaign, but this much looks certain: the Democrats need a new type of leadership if they are to win in 1960. Their present position resembles that of the Republican Party after the defeat of Wendell Willkie.

Lights Over Broadway

Trapped in a treacherous trade, stage actors sip Chateau Yquem one season, shiver in cold water flats the next. In a recent survey of the activities of its membership Actors Equity discovered that in a year's span a sixth of its personnel found no employment in the theatre. Those who did—averaged ten weeks' work . . . Their average income was $790.00 . . . Only one in eight of those who worked made as much as $5,000 . . . Shriveled by its own statistics, Equity came to this conclusion: "Anyone primarily concerned with earning a living by his profession should try elsewhere but the theatre" . . . Most actors would be reduced to the extremity of eating their own young if they didn't add to their income through television, radio and screen engagements.

Playwrights and producers run the same rags - to - riches gamut . . . Because of this deplorable state of affairs many of the stage-crazed have alternate trades, secondary professions to which they can turn — when the wolf starts to claw at the door . . . Playing in "Ball at the Savoy" at London's Drury Lane (in '33) Maurice Evans rode to the theatre in the truck he used to make deliveries for his dry-cleaning business . . . Elmer Rice was a 21-year-old lawyer when he wrote his first great hit, "On Trial" . . . Michael Redgrave ("The Sleeping Prince"), actress Mildred Dunnock, playwrights Paul Vincent Carroll "Shadow and Substance") and Marcel Pagnol ("Topaze") are qualified school teachers . . . Judy Holliday ("The Bells Are Ringing") operated a telephone switchboard for Orson Welles' Mercury Theatre before she got her first acting assignment in "Kiss Them for Me."

Buddy Hackett ("Lunatics and Lovers") is a skilled upholsterer; during World War II invented the first contour chair . . . Ethel Merman, nee Ethel Zimmerman ("Happy Hunting"), was an Astoria stenographer before she clicked in Gershwin's "Girl Crazy" . . . Alec Guinness (last seen here as the enigmatic psychiatrist in "The Cocktail Party") was a copy writer in a London advertising agency before he made his first entrance . . . F. Hugh ("The Moon Is Blue") Herbert was an advertising expert at Selfridge's, leading London dept. store, before the tinkered with plot and dialogue . . . His progress in the theatre fitful —John Lodge — following his performance in "Watch on the Rhine" —successively became a congressman, governor of Conn. and ambassador to Spain . . . The late Robert Sherwood (three times winner of the Pulitzer Prize for "best play of the season") was an editor of Life (the comic weekly.)

Mata Hari (born Gertrude Margaret Zelle) was an oriental dancer before she took to spying for Germans in World War I. She did a Javanese dance for fellow prisoners the night before she was executed by a French firing squad . . . Ralph Roberts (recently the executioner in "The Lark") is a professional masseur, regularly pummels and kneads Imogene Coca, Milton Berle, Eddie Albert and Agnes DeMille . . . Adrianne Allen (star of "The Reluctant Debutante") was an apprentice dressmaker with couturier Lanvin (in Paris) before she entered London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

If "My Fair Lady" should fold —producer Herman Levin could resume his practice of law. . . Following graduation from St. John's —Mayor LaGuardia named him Director of Division of Public Solicitation. As such, Levin supervised investigation and licensing of fund-raising campaigns. . . This experience stood him in good stead— when he raised funds for "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "Call Me Mister" and "Bless You All" . . . Kermit Bloomgarden (producer of "Most Happy Fella" and "Diary of Anne Frank") is a Certified Public Accountant . . . Laurence Langner (Theatre Guild big-wig) is one of the nation's top patent attorneys.

Ray Walston (the Devil in "Damn Yankees") used to operate a linotype machine at the Herald-Tribune. He still holds a card in the Int'l Typographer's Union . . . Dave Chasen (Joe Cook's most famous stooge) deserted the stage to open his own popular restaurant in H'wood . . . Producer Leland Hayward started as a press agent for United Artists . . . Georgie Price, vaudevillian and musical comedy zan, lammed from the two-a-day to become a Wall Street broker . . . Even the critics have alternate trades . . . The Herald-Tribune's Walter Kerr long headed the drama dept at Catholic Univ, Washington, D.C. . . . The New Yorker mag's critic—Wolcott Gibbs —was a conductor on the L. I. Railroad . . . Talented John Mason Brown abdicated his critical chair to become a full-time lecturer.

The School Library

One of the important rooms in the school is the library. It too often is neglected because there is a limited amount of money that can be used for books, and textbooks must come first. As books are the tools of teaching and learning, one might suppose that they would be supplied in abundance. But they are skimped to the limit always. That is why I hope to call the attention of the P.T.A. to the school library.

Children need a quiet place in their day at schol. A place where no voice lectures, no voice admonishes; a place of peace and quiet and a chance to enjoy their minds, a joy seldom known in many schools this day, worse luck.

This room I speak of ought to be the size of a double classroom, well lighted, walls lined with low bookcases, the room furnished with tables and chairs of comfortable height and of sound construction. It should have simple but restful atmosphere presided over by a book-loving teacher trained as librarian.

But no matter what is skimped, the books must be there in rich abundance. These books should be those that are required reading for each grade, and there ought to be a goodly number of each set. When the teacher of English says, "This next month please read 'Silas Marner,'" and there is just one copy, a tattered one at that, in the library, the children just give up.

Then the social studies teacher says, "We will take up the study of the various industries in the state this coming month," and proceeds to appoint groups to search the material available. If there are no reference books in the library save the unabridged dictionary that the past generations used, the students are stymied. So is the teacher.

Of course, school budgets are limited. They have to be, taxes being what they are, but there are ways to help the libraries. The P.T.A. can raise money to buy good reference books. They can do some research in the neighborhood and, no doubt, find sets of reference books that the owners would donate. Ask the teachers who need and will use the books what ones they most need, and do something toward getting these.

Most teachers would like the standard books, such as the Book of Knowledge, the Junior Britannica, Compton's Encyclopedia, the Standard Britanica, the Funk and Wagnall's new Dictionary that has the seven languages section. There is a world of fine reference books. Try the second-hand book shops.

Do help the school library.

In some families, bedtime for children is trouble time for parents. Dr. Patri tells how to overcome this trouble in his leaflet P-28, "Bedtime Troubles." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Foreign Aid Burden Due For Cold, Hard Study

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' prediction of a few weeks ago that the United States would have to go on spending in excess of four billion dollars annually for foreign aid "for a considerable period of time" will be sharply questioned by leaders of both parties when Congress convenes.

The United States since the end of World War II has handed out or authorized 55 billion dollars in aid to other nations, the larger part of which has gone for military purposes. If the money came from some inexhaustible cornucopia, that giveaway program could be continued ad infinitum. But recent events seem to indicate that while this country has exhibited an unparalleled munificence in a not always intelligent effort to save the free world from communist encroachment, the other leading units of the free world have used our money for their best interests.

The U. S. now has a public debt close to 280 billion dollars. While the cost to taxpayers of foreign aid since World War II will exceed 55 billion dollars, the same taxpayers have contributed no more than 47 billion dollars to all public schools, no more than 51 billions to all veterans' programs, and no more than 14 billion to all federal public works programs.

Because approximately two thirds of foreign aid has gone into military channels, the grants of U. S. money to countries for that purpose cannot be disclosed for security reasons. But an approximate breakdown on military and economic aid during the Eisenhower years shows 10½ billions for military aid and six billions for economic aid.

Of the economic aid, Britain has received during this administration in excess of a billion dollars, France more than 1½ billions and Israel in excess of a quarter of a billion.

It would be no exaggeration to say that in the same period, France has received enough from this country in military aid to finance most of her military costs in Indo-China and in North Africa as well.

During this time, the U. S. has given Egypt on the record scarcely more than 25 million dollars, a pittance compared with the grants of economic aid to the major European powers, Britain and France which has used U. S. aid in considerable part to bolster their colonial policy. That has accounted in large measure for their own recovery, but has enabled the Communist world to circulate its propaganda that the U. S. is a chief supporter of colonialism throughout the world.

U. S. economic aid has undoubtedly kept some nations —Italy in particular — from Communist control. Italy has received more than half a billion dollars in grants under this administration. The return in increased trade with that country has, in the opinion of government officials, and businessmen, made the investment well worth while.

But on the whole the theory that money spent to bolster other countris comes back in the form of friendship and support for the United States has received some rude jolts. We give India huge sums and India is usually on Russia's side an against us. If we can get a precise look in Italy at what our spending has produced it is about the only one we can. In most countries we get scant credit for our aid. More and more they have given proof that they regard United States financial help as something they are entitled to without any accompanying obligation.

The immense and awe - inspiring vents of the last fortnight have augmented the already rising disquietitude in this nation over foreign aid. There is no evidence that we have weaned any neutralist countries ot our side and, indeed they seem to have become more neutralist.

And above all we have lost the two Allies with whom we stood the longest and closest. Whether they double - crossed us as the most extremist have said; or whether they left us our once firmest friend, Winston Churchill, said, because it was for them "not possible to hope for American co-operation on the scale and with the promptness necessary to control events" the fact does remain that we have for the time being lost them.

The net of all the recent events has been to multiply the number of Americans who believe we should abandon some of our philanthropic aspirations and follow a more intelligent policy of our own self interest. Perhaps if we did our home and our world balance sheet would become more encouraging.

RIPLEY'S—Believe It Or Not

Worry Clinic

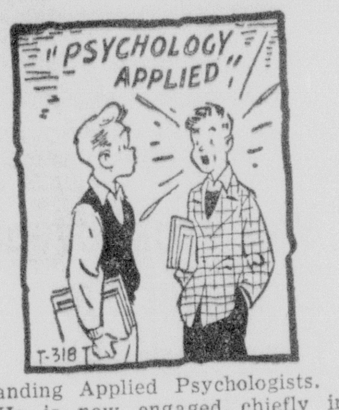
By Dr. George W. Crane

Dr. Hess placed no coercion on his students in the experiment described below. They did as they pleased. But the results bear repetition widely. We need to accentuate the positive virtues of modern youth instead of always stressing the occasional delinquents in their ranks. Young folks want to be good and happy and healthy, so help them!

Case T-318: Dr. L. W. Hess, aged about 50, is one of our outstanding Applied Psychologists.



He is now engaged chiefly in private practice, but while he was Head of the Psychology Department at Hillsdale College in Michigan a couple of years ago, he conducted an interesting experiment.

His large classes in Applied Psychology were using my textbook entitled "Psychology Applied", which has 20 chapters covering all the major fields where psychology is used.

So Dr. Hess assigned his students the written homework problem of picking out the one chapter which they liked best. Then they were to write a short essay explaining their choice.

"Which chapter do you think was their favorite?" I was later asked.

Well, I pondered the matter briefly. Among the 20 chapters were several which I figured would rate fairly high with college youth.

Psychiatry and Mental Hygiene.
Individual and Sex Differences.
How to Improve your Personality.
The Psychology of Advertising.
Psychology of the Public Platform.
Psychology of Writing and Art.
Psychology Goes to Church.
Psychology Goes to the Polls.
How Psychology Promotes Happy Homes.
Child Psychology.

Well, of those 10 foremost chapters, which one do you readers think modern college youth would make their first choice?

I decided that college youth would select Ch. VI, which was the one headed "How to Improve Your Personality".

For it contained many practical hints on carrying on an interesting conversation and winning friends.

"No, Dr. Crane, the most popular choice was Ch. XVIII," came the surprising reply.

Ch. XVIII was headed "Psychology Goes to Church", and contained advice on teaching Sunday school, increasing church attendance, etc.

It also had a section entitled "Jesus—the World's Greatest Applied Psychologist."

And 90 per cent of these college men and women selected that chapter as their first choice!

It is very encouraging to parents, as well as to us educators, to see such tangible proof of the idealism of modern youth.

For we read so many stories about delinquency and juvenile gangs that many folks get the erroneous idea all modern youth are going to the devil.

That is definitely NOT true. Never before in human history have we had such a high level of religious idealism among youth. And this is not idle flattery.

In Colonial Days, only 5 per cent of Americans belonged to any church, whether Jewish, Catholic or Protestant.

The figure was only 25 per cent in 1900. But now it has zoomed to 60 per cent. And a much larger percentage of youth are in Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Sunday school than ever before in American history.

So focus more often on the virtues of modern youth instead of highlighting the few cases of delinquency and crime.

To help young folks live moral lives, be sure they have access in your home or church or high school library to my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

This is a non-profit educational service of this newspaper, so take full advantage thereof.

Puzzled State Democrats Pore Over Theories As To Reason For Ike's Victory

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (UP)—Puzzled Louisiana Democratic leaders still sought today the cause of President Eisenhower's smashing state victory in Tuesday's general election which has apparently created a new split in party ranks.

Numerous reasons were advanced for the president's victory—the first time a Republican candidate has carried this traditionally Democratic state since the bitter days of the Reconstruction period immediately after the War Between the States.

All Democrats, however, agreed on one thing—it did not mean the start of a two-party system in Louisiana as some Republican leaders have proclaimed.

Louisiana party members have been arguing among themselves since the 1948 presidential election, when the state went to the States Rights party against former Presiden Harry Truman.

Again in 1952, the state split with then Gov. Robert Kennon and a number of others going for President Eisenhower. This created deep wounds inside the state party. However, those wounds supposedly had been healed, but private charges now indicate they were not. In addition, some new wounds have been opened.

Some groups of staunch Democrats claimed members in some sections failed to support the party financially. Others claimed the wound this time was opened by Gov. Earl Long, who has some bitter political foes among ranking Democrats in the state.

Many saw the win by Mr. Eisenhower as a vote against Long who backed Adlai Stevenson. The governor, who won an overwhelming first primary victory last January, lost a lot of his support when he tried to raise taxes in the Legislature. His proposal for a constitutional convention was soundly beaten in Tuesday's election. That was one of his worst political defeats.

Sen. Russell Long aimed a sharp barb, apparently at the chief executive who is his uncle, when he said the Democratic loss in the state was due primarily to the fact some Democratic leaders failed to campaign for Stevenson as they should have.

Gov Long made no speeches for Stevenson in the state.

Many other theories for the victory were also advanced. These included:

1. The Negro vote went for Eisenhower in the state this time instead of to the Democrats as in 1952.

2. An apparent lack of a package agricultural vote, though "the farm issue" was a national campaign controversy.

3. The personal popularity of President Eisenhower.

4. The women's vote. A large percentage of women in the state went for the President, apparently because of his peace efforts.

5. A surprisingly large independent vote in the state.

6. The Middle East crisis.

7. Lack of a first lady had Stevenson won.

8. The fact Stevenson is divorced.

9. Dislike of Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democrats' vice-presidential nominee.

Some thought the religious angle played an important part in Mr. Eisenhower's election here, pointing to the fact that the President is a "deeply religious man" and that his "family life" is a model for Americans. This would especially appeal to all religious groups—both Protestant and Catholics.

A prominent official from French-speaking South Louisiana said the French people of Louisiana would be more inclined to support a man of Mr. Eisenhower's background because they are extremely clanish about their families.

"It was claimed that the president stopped the Korean War," he said. "Any French family that had a boy in that war was extremely grateful. Stopping the Korean war was a terrifically strong element in the French country where they follow the international situation very closely."

He also said the fact the president appears to "be a peace-loving man who has won wars may have helped more than the rest. But Stevenson had no wife and is divorced. If his wife had died he would have had some sympathy, but it would still have hurt him. The people want to have a first lady in the White House. It's tradition. That is true not just among Roman Catholics, but all faiths as evidence by the fact the President won in both Catholic and Protestant parishes—in the city as well as the country parishes."

Camille F. Gravel Jr., the state's Democratic national committeeman, blamed the President's personal popularity, the heavy burden of local controversial issue, the lack of adequate financing to set up a statewide organization and the defection of the Negro vote.

Secretary of State Wade O. Martin said Gov. Long's support hurt Stevenson as much as anything.

Les Barnham, Negro newspaper publisher, said his race "very definitely" turned out in larger numbers this time than in 1952 and he estimated at least 56 per cent of the Negro vote went to Mr. Eisenhower this time in sharp contrast to a predominant Stevenson vote in 1952.

He concluded that the average Negro figured he got more in the past four years under Mr. Eisenhower than he got under previous Democratic administrations, although the difference in party planks on civil rights was not so clear.

"To the Negro, the Democratic party looked more and more like people such as Sen. (James) Eastland (of Mississippi.)"

However, on the other hand, many say thousands of strong pro-segregation Democrats in the state voted for Mr. Eisenhower because of his "moderate stand" on the segregation issue, although it was during his term that the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation.

They pointed out that the President has said force will not solve the segregation problem and has indicated he will not use it to end segregation. On the other hand, many thought Kefauver and Stevenson would have had they won.

As one Democrat summed it up: 'It was just one of those things that's hard to explain—sort of a freak accident. And it probably won't happen again in another 80 years."

Rotary Told Of Britain's Part In Middle East

"Britain acted in sincerity and good faith in separating the two contestants so that the fighting would not cross the Suez Canal," British Consul General Robert G. Dundas told Monroe Rotarians and guests at the Thursday meeting of the club.

Dundas, of the British consulate-general in New Orlean, was introduced by George Rorex, vice-chairman of the international service committee of the Monroe Rotary Club. Subject of the address was "The Suez Canal and the Middle East Situation," the pertinence of which drew a record attendance of club members and guests. In addition to the fact that Dundas is in the employ of the English foreign service, he has spent most of his diplomatic career in diplomatic and consular posts in the Middle East.

"Pouring of oil on troubled waters is an expression indicating a peaceful solution, but in the Middle East, when the oil started pouring the trouble was just beginning," the official stated. He continued his remarks by summing up the events of the past 50 years in the Middle East, explaining how revenue and profits from oil enabled areas of that part of the globe to become nations. "The oil led to money, the money led to freedom, and the freedom was one of choice as to whether the money would be spent on guns or butter," the consul observed. He pointed to the country of Iraq with its irrigation developments on the Tigris and Euphrates rivers as a nation which had made good use of its enlarged treasury.

"On the other hand," Dundas declared, "Saudi Arabia, with a large but unbudgeted annual income, has shown no progress." In the category of nations of the Middle East which have very small or no oil reserves but who sign receipts for pipeline routes, Dundas included Syria and Lebanon. In general, the consular official expressed the conviction that the countries of Asia Minor exist as nations today because of foreign capital risked for oil development and as a result of other nations' wars.

Dundas pointed out that it was not oil but transit rights of shipping through the Suez Canal which had brought Egypt into the foreground as a nation. He added that half of the 1955 tonnage which passed through the canal was oil from other parts of the Middle East where many countries — with the United States holding 60 per cent of the oil interests — have risked their capital to bring the oil out of the ground. In this manner the speaker stated the case in favor of international control of the waterway.

The official denied that the British and French plotted with the Israeli prior to the attack on Egypt. He stressed the issue that his country entered Egypt not as an aggressor but in order to protect the canal. "The police stop a fight by moving in between the two fighters, not by standing two blocks away," the speaker noted. He indicated that he firmly believed that his nation would be willing to see the cease-fire zone patrolled by a United Nations force as soon as one "adequate to handle the situation" could be organized.

In a question and answer period following the address, Dundas never deviated from the viewpoint that British intervention in the idle East was a police action taken in sincerity and good faith.

'Sterlington And Its Needs' To Be Theme Of Address

The Sterlington P.-T. A. is to meet November 15 at 3:10 p.m. in the A. L. Smith school cafeteria.

The address of the occasion will be delivered by Dr. B. E. Spencer, member of the school board, who will talk on the "Needs of Sterlington and Its Area."

Following his address, students of the junior high, will participate in a panel discussion of the same subject.

Dr. D. L. Dykes Of Shreveport To Speak Here

Dr. D. L. Dykes, pastor of the First Methodist church of Shreveport, will be the principal speaker at the second report luncheon-meeting of the United Givers fund of Ouachita parish, when it meets Monday. The luncheon is scheduled for the ball room of the Virginia hotel.

Dr. Dykes has served as pastor of the Shreveport church for the past two years. Prior to that, he was at the First Church in Fayetteville, Ark. He holds degrees from Centenary college, Southern Methodist, and Emery University. His degree of Doctor of Divinity was awarded at Centenary college.

C. D. McAdams, chairman of the large firms division, said three firms will be among those listed as being 100 per cent in the current drive. These are James Machine Works, Kellogg Lumber company and the Kellogg Oil Company.

Also slated to make reports are Murray Hudson, chairman of the professional division, which includes physicians, attorneys, governmental units and the clergy, and George Moses, head of the business division. Working with Moses are J. W. Roberson, Gardiner Young, and Mrs. George Forman.

Electric Power Is Disrupted By Break In Line

Electrical power was disrupted for approximately four hours from about midnight Thursday in the Stuart street-Island drive area, C. C. Boardman, chairman of the utilities commission, reported Friday.

Puzzled State Democrats Pore Over Theories As To Reason For Ike's Victory

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (UP)—Puzzled Louisiana Democratic leaders still sought today the cause of President Eisenhower's smashing state victory in Tuesday's general election which has apparently created a new split in party ranks.

Numerous reasons were advanced for the president's victory—the first time a Republican candidate has carried this traditionally Democratic state since the bitter days of the Reconstruction period immediately after the War Between the States.

All Democrats, however, agreed on one thing—it did not mean the start of a two-party system in Louisiana as some Republican leaders have proclaimed.

Louisiana party members have been arguing among themselves since the 1948 presidential election, when the state went to the States Rights party against former Presiden Harry Truman.

Again in 1952, the state split with then Gov. Robert Kennon and a number of others going for President Eisenhower. This created deep wounds inside the state party. However, those wounds supposedly had been healed, but private charges now indicate thay were not. In addition, some new wounds have been opened.

Some groups of staunch Democrats claimed members in some sections failed to support the party financially. Others claimed the wound this time was opened by Gov. Earl Long, who has some bitter political foes among ranking Democrats in the state.

Many saw the win by Mr. Eisenhower as a vote against Long who backed Adlai Stevenson. The governor, who won an overwhelming first primary victory last January, lost a lot of his support when he tried to raise taxes in the Legislature. His proposal for a constitutional convention was soundly beaten in Tuesday's election. That was one of his worst political defeats.

3. The personal popularity of President Eisenhower.

4. The women's vote. A large percentage of women in the state went for the President, apparently because of his peace efforts.

5. A surprisingly large independent vote in the state.

6. The Middle East crisis.

7. Lack of a first lady had Stevenson won.

8. The fact Stevenson is divorced.

9. Dislike of Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democrats' vice-presidential nominee.

Some thought the religious angle played an important part in Mr. Eisenhower's election here, pointing to the fact that the President is a "deeply religious man" and that his "family life" is a model for Americans. This would especially appeal to all religious groups—both Protestant and Catholics.

Two Segregation Leaders Defend Kasper At Trial

CLINTON, Tenn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Two prominent segregation leaders came to John Kasper's defense today at his trial on charges concerning demonstrations over integration of Clinton High School.

Adm. John G. Crommelin (ret.), Montgomery, Ala., called the Washington, D.C. segregationist a "dedicated and peaceful young man." Criminal Court Judge J. Raulston Schoolfield of Chattanooga said he did not believe Kasper responsible, as charged, for inciting the disorders.

Their testimony highlighted the fourth day of the trial, which Criminal Court Judge D. L. Hutson recessed for a week until Monday, Nov. 19.

Kasper is charged with sedition and inciting to riot by advocating disregard of law and order and stirring up mobs against admissions of 12 Negroes to the previously all-white high school on Aug. 27.

The disorders stopped when Gov. Frank Clement dispatched National Guardsmen and state troopers here over Labor Day weekend.

The charges are misdemeanors, punishable by a maximum of a year in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

Kasper is under a year's federal sentence for violating a restraining order against interfering with peaceful integration. U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor of Knoxville, 20 miles to the southeast, issued the original order and also sentenced Kasper for contempt.

Kasper, executive secretary of Seaboard White Citizens Council, is free under $10,000 bond pending appeal of the federal sentence.

Iceland Party Asks New Study On U. S. Troops

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 9 (AP)—Iceland's Independence Party today called on the government to reconsider its international treaties in the light of recent "terrifying international incidents."

Iceland earlier had been demanding withdrawal of U. S. forces from their North Atlantic bases in this island country.

All 19 Parliament members of the Independence Party made the call in a motion submitted to a joint session of the Icelandic Parliament.

It said the forthcoming revision of the defense treaty with the United States "shall be carried out with the purpose that adequate security of the country should be maintained."

STAY GRANTED

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 9 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Friday granted the customary 30-day stay of execution to John Edward McHenry, convicted at Houston of rape and sentenced to be electrocuted.

The stay moves McHenry's scheduled execution date from Dec. 4 to Jan. 3.

Four years after the British Museum placed the shell of an Egyptian desert snail on exhibition, a snail crawled out. It was hungry.

La. Institutions Board Requests Over $1 Million

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Institutions Board today voted to ask the Legislature for $1,135,405 in emergency funds despite Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar's warning Tuesday's election showed the people want economy.

As for a special session, Frazar said, "Maybe there will be one, maybe not."

The request includes $350,000 for a death house Warden Maurice Sigler said the penitentiary needs because of a new law calling for executions at the prison.

Frazar, top government spokesman since Gov. Earl Long chooses to remain silent on state affairs, suggested the board request death house funds as a "must," but warned it would be unwise to ask much otherwise.

"An economy wave was generally expressed all over the state in Tuesday's vote," Frazar said. "We certainly want to abide by the people's wishes."

Dr. G. Earl Guinn, board chairman, pushed the extra money requests, saying, "I believe we should call the legislature's attention to these needs, whether they are approved or not."

"You're in a serious situation for additional money," Frazar said. "When you go before the legislature with requests for too much money—you weaken your position. If the legislature meets in special session, you've got to get the death house request in or else wait until the fiscal session in May.

"Where are you going to get the money for all these things? You had bond issues of 50 million dollars in the previous administration, but this administration is not going to bond anything—we don't believe in taking away revenues of future generations. We don't have the taxes and I'm just trying to put on the brakes."

The board met in what institutions director Edward Grant described as an emergency meeting in the belief a special session of the Legislature is near.

Talk of a special session continues because of teacher demands for pay raise funds. Long promised to consider a session for teachers pay after the election, but has remained silent.

The board's fiscal request included:

1. $350,000 for a death house.
2. $25,000 to complete dairy and cattle barns at Louisiana training institute, Monroe.
3. $75,000 for quarters for officials at Louisiana correctional institute being completed at Dequincy.
4. $40,000 for a new warden's residence at Angola.
5. $380,000 for 40 staff houses at Angola.
6. $8,000 for barriers to assure racial segregation in Angola mess halls.
7. $165,000 to cover Angola operating deficit.
8. $25,000 fo Louisiana Correctional Institute budget.
9. $27,405 for items eliminated from institutions budget.

Another $200,000 request for equipment at Dequincy was given state treasurer A. P. Tugwell to include in his legislative requests. Tugwell said his partial list included $125,000 for laboratory equipment at Northwestern State college and $175,000 for state office building equipment in New Orleans.

Two Segregation Leaders Defend Kasper At Trial

CLINTON, Tenn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Two prominent segregation leaders came to John Kasper's defense today at his trial on charges concerning demonstrations over integration of Clinton High School.

Adm. John G. Crommelin (ret.), Montgomery, Ala., called the Washington, D.C. segregationist a "dedicated and peaceful young man." Criminal Court Judge J. Raulston Schoolfield of Chattanooga said he did not believe Kasper responsible, as charged, for inciting the disorders.

Their testimony highlighted the fourth day of the trial, which Criminal Court Judge D. L. Hutson recessed for a week until Monday, Nov. 19.

Kasper is charged with sedition and inciting to riot by advocating disregard of law and order and stirring up mobs against admissions of 12 Negroes to the previously all-white high school on Aug. 27.

The disorders stopped when Gov. Frank Clement dispatched National Guardsmen and state troopers here over Labor Day weekend.

The charges are misdemeanors, punishable by a maximum of a year in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

Kasper is under a year's federal sentence for violating a restraining order against interfering with peaceful integration. U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor of Knoxville, 20 miles to the southeast, issued the original order and also sentenced Kasper for contempt.

Kasper, executive secretary of Seaboard White Citizens Council, is free under $10,000 bond pending appeal of the federal sentence.

Liberty LOANS

What Liberty Loan means to your Community ... and what it means to you.

To expand, a community must have a ready source of available money, and must put that money to work. That's where Liberty comes in.

Liberty can provide the money to finance the butcher, baker, and candlestick maker. You and your neighbors can purchase the things you need, when you need them. You can maintain your good credit rating by paying all your bills on time. Additional money can be yours as needed.

Most important of all, Liberty puts the Community's money to work locally.

We hope that we will soon be able to welcome you as one of our customers.

WSCS Plans Bazaar For Wednesday

Members of the WSCS of St. Paul's Methodist Church are completing plans for their "Country Home" bazaar to be held between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Wednesday, November 14 at St. Paul's Church on Lexington avenue.

Mrs. John Hart, chairman of the bazaar, announced plans for a lunch to be served under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Freeman and Mrs. L. A. Fluesmeier during the noon hour.

A variety of foods, children's toys, needlework, fancy dried material, Christmas decorations and shrubs will be featured at the bazaar.

Mrs. G. L. Morgan is serving as chairman of the food booth where cakes, pies, relishes, frozen foods, salads, gumbo and many other items will be available.

Mrs. Robert Clay is in charge of the chidren's toys. Included in the selection will be toy clowns, money, novety pillows, stuffed animals and bulletin boards.

Heading the needlework and sewing committee has been Mrs. Richard Port, whose committee is responsible for a variety of items for the entire family.

Serving as chairman of the fancy dried material committee is Mrs. Joe Powell. She explained that a number of arrangements will be sold and other dried materias for arrangements can be purchased.

Chairman of the Christmas decorations is Mrs. Thomas A. Pitt who reports that a number of festive items for the home have been prepared for the bazaar.

Many shrubs will also be available. Mrs. Charles McKenzie, Jr., is serving as chairman of the shrub dispay.

Mrs. Harold Vaughan is co-chairman of the bazaar. Others on committees are Mrs. V. S. Garnett, workshop consultant, Mrs. Fred Parrish, general cashier, Mrs. John Clay, hostesses and Mrs. Ben Olliphint, publicity.

Mrs. Scogin And Mrs. Gilliland Give Coffee

Mrs. J. H. Scogin, Jr. and Mrs. Claude Gilliland entertained Mrs. W. C. Ekholm, who is leaving Monroe this month, at a coffee Tuesday morning at the Country Club.

A gold cloth was used on the table, and the centerpiece was a green pottery cornicopia filled with bronze and yellow mums, accented by wheat spikes.

Mrs. S. A. Collins and Mrs. Cyril Yancey alternated at the coffee service. Others assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Charles Ferguson, Mrs. Allen Givens, Mrs. M. R. Howell, and Mrs. S. S. Hollan.

Around 75 guests called in the morning.

Wind-Lashing Hard On Laundry

NEW YORK — You'll save wear and tear on clothes and linens if you take them off the line as soon as they are dry.

This is the advice from the Gas Appliance Manufacturers, which said the question of wear and tear came up when first - time users of automatic dryers wondered if the appliance was hard on clothes.

The manufacturers said the dryer causes less wear than that of a wind-lashing on a clothesline.

Mrs. Wilson Discusses Bach At Musical Coterie

The Musical Coterie met in the home of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, with Mrs. H. G. McDonald, president, presiding.

After the business session, Mrs. Bobby Wilson gave an interesting discussion of Bach's B Minor Mass which was a continuation of the study from the previous meeting.

The B Minor Mass exhibits in the most absolute manner, and on the grandest scale, the deep and intimate feeling of its creator as a Christian and a member of the church, she explained.

Mrs. Wilson pointed out that there is something almost unearthly in the solitary eminence which this mass occupies in history.

Several recordings from the mass were played following Mrs. Wilson's discussion.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., Mrs. H. G. McDonald, Mrs. J. R. McKinley, Mrs. William Harper, Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. Bobby Wilson and Mrs. John Birdsong, Jr.

Achievement Day Dinner Planned

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Plans are being completed for the Adult Achievement Day dinner, given annually by the members of the Home Demonstration Clubs throughout East Carroll Parish, according to Miss Eunyce Howard, Parish Home Agent.

Date for the meeting has been set for Wednesday, November 14th at the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. Special guests for the dinner will be members of the East Carroll Parish School Board and Police Jury. Club Presidents for the current year will serve as hostesses.

Special recognition will be given to the outstanding club members from each club in the parish and a display of handiwork by the members will be a feature attraction of the day. During the program, a style revue will be given by those members who made and entered dresses in the different club style shows. The script for the occasion will be written and given by Mrs. Maude Van Fossen.

Miss Howard has named the following ladies to be in charge of decorations for the day and arrangement of the banquet tables—Mrs. W. H. Maden, Mrs. W. F. Bonner, Mrs. J. E. Peeler, Mrs. Sedric Wilson, Mrs. L. E. Townsend, Jr., Mrs. W. P. Rushing, Mrs. Graham Schneider, Mrs. A. I. Guenard.

Those having charge of the serving will be Mrs. Jack Hamilton, Mrs. Herman Ragus, Mrs. Russel Fleeman, Mrs. Roy Burgess, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Bullock, Mrs. John Bullock, Mrs. Reece Coleman and Mrs. David Coleman.

Bridge Club Entertained

Mrs. Ruth Hudson entertained the Emanon Bridge club in her home in Oak Grove on Wednesday. Arrangements of autumn flowers decorated the house.

Mrs. Joe Kelly won high score, Mrs. Glenn Sims, second and honor prize, Mrs. Edgar McCormick, low score. Also playing were Mrs. Arden Smith, Mrs. Fred Primm-Mrs. Ellis Womack and Mrs. Harry Roundtree.

Flower Show School Held In Ferriday

The Ferriday Garden club held a very successful Flower show school Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The school was held at the REA building with Mrs. C. T. Payne of Natchez giving flower show practice and with Dr. R. H. Hanchy teaching horticulture. The school was well attended. The club will meet Nov. 15 with Dr. R. E. Monroe guest speaker.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Never cut the cuticle if you can avoid it . . . push the cuticle back gently, using an orange stick with a little oiled cotton on the end of it.

Treat Hands With Care—Follow Five Measures

Many women and men do not know what to do about their hands when standing or sitting. One thing is certain — our hands are always in evidence. Even when we are not conscious of them, others are. Care of the hands and nails, therefore, become an important factor in the impression we give others.

If we are to look well-groomed we must either give ourselves a manicure once a week or have one at a beauty salon. In between times a nail brush and perhaps a little polish patching is all that will be necessary.

There are, however, some extra measures which will greatly enhance the appearance of these appendages. Here are some of them:

1. Whenever possible, keep your hands out of very hot water. When doing cleaning or laundry or anything which calls for strong soaps, use rubber gloves. Always use a hand lotion of course, after washing the hands.

2. Once or twice a week massage hand cream into the hands and then wear a pair of little hand mitts while you sleep. Many of these are most attractive.

3. Never cut the cuticle if you can avoid it. Naturally you will have to use cuticle scissors if you have a hangnail. Otherwise, push the cuticle back gently, using an orange stick with a little oiled cotton on the end of it.

4. Many women write about large veins in the hands. These are an inherited characteristic. Sometimes extreme underweight makes the veins more prominent. Keep the hands out of hot water and when you sit hold them up, whenever feasible, or place them on the arms of the chair rather than in your lap.

5. Paint the nails all the way to the tip if your fingers are short. This is slenderizing.

If you would like to have my hand exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 12 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

ADDITION OKAYED

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP)—The city today issued Hotel Buena Vista a permit to build a $350,000 motel addition.

The 84-unit project will be located on the beach in front of the hotel and will be connected to the main buiding by an overpass. P. E. Bass & Co., Jackson, is the general contractor.

One good cook likes to spread sponge - cake shells with a mixture of honey and butter or margarine; then the shells are toasted in a hot oven. The shells are filled with sliced fruit, given a dollop of whipped cream and served at once.

Bids To Be Taken For 20,000 Acre Management Area

Bids for the 2,000-acre game management area and water-resources project in Richland and Morehouse parishes will be received by the Louisiana Department of Public Works until November 26, Ouachita parish Rep. Lawrence Gibbs said here last night.

Gibbs said he was notified of the submitting of bids by Lorris Wimberly, director of the Department of Public Works.

Gibbs and Wimberly have been working together on this project for about three months.

The Ouachita parish representative pointed out that the project was to particularly benefit Ouachita duck hunters and farmers.

In the summertime the farmers will have access to the water - resources project for irrigational purposes, he said. "In the winter the project will hold water for the duck hunter." Gibbs added.

This project, Gibbs explained, will divert water from Erwin Lake and Bayou Boeuf through Little Lake, LaFourche and Crew Lake into this 2,000 acre area.

It will include Little Lake LaFourche, Crew Lake (flood gate and outfall channel, Litle Lake LaFourche Dam, dam one and two, and Crew Lake enlargement) in the two parishes.

Gibbs said that sealed bids will be received at the public works department office up until 2:30 p.m. on November 26.

The bids, he said, will be publicly opened and read. The deposit required on this job will be five per cent of the bid wih the bond required being 100 per cent of the cost of the job, Gibbs added.

"Only contractors or contracting firms who have been fully qualified as such by the Louisiana state licensing Board in accordance with Act 233 of 1956 will be permitted to submit bids," the representative stated.

Any further information desired on the project may be obtained from the Department of Public Work, 105 Capital Annex Building P. O. Box 4155, Baton Rouge, La. he said.

Ike's Victory Margin Reaches To 9,323,585

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower's total vote climbed today to 34,750,946 or 9,323,585 more than the 25,427,361 Adlai Stevenson got.

Meanwhile, the Democrats seemed likely to have a wider margin in House seats than the 232-203 edge they held in the 84th Congress.

Already assured of 232 seats, the Democrats led in three of the four House races still remaining to be decided.

When returns were in from all but 3,433 of the nation's 154,869 precincts, the combined Eisenhower-Stevenson vote was 60,178,307. This compared with the 61,242,433 they shared in 1952—33,927,441 for Eisenhower then and 27,314,992 for Stevenson.

Nation Records Both Cold, Warm Temperatures

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation had both cold and hot spot Friday, and the weather was generally fair except for some nighttime snow dusting in the northern Great Lakes and Appalachian regions.

A new wave of cold slipped across the Canadian border bringing daytime temperatures down to the 20s and 30s in the Dakotas and Minnesota. It reinforced an earlier cold front which dropped the mercury into the 40s from Texas to New England.

Freezing temperatures were in store for the Eastern Seaboard from New England to northern Florida Friday night, the Weather Bureau said, with a touch of frost expected in a few localities of central Florida.

The mountains of western North Carolina recorded readings in the teens early Friday, and snow fell, spreading one half inch deep in some places.

Relatively mild weather covered much of the West. And a heat wave reigned in southern California the fourth straight day. There, Los Angeles reported 91 degrees and San Diego 95. No weekend relief was in sight.

Netherlands, has presented the 300-year-old Dutch Bible, which was printed when New York City was still the Dutch Colony of New Amsterdam, to the New York Historical Society.

Bobby C. Pappas In 'Who's Who'

Bobby C. Pappas, prominent Monroe restaurant operator, has been named by the A. N. Marquis Co. of Chicago to the "Who's Who in the South and Southwest."

According to the Chicago firm, which publishes "Who's Who in America," Pappas was selected for "noteworthy achievement in reputable fields of endeavor, and living or following vocations within the area comprising the designated Southern and Southwestern states."

Pappas' activities include national director of Cerebral Palsy Association, 1954-56, and also campaign chairman of the association, 1954-55; member of the Louisiana State Welfare Board, 1952-53; member of the industrial board of Monroe and West Monoroe, 1952-53; member of the Louisiana Restaurant Association and also direct past president of that organization; member of the Greek Orthodox Church; Mason, Shriner, district governor of the Aheap for Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, president of Ahepa, and 1955 president of the Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsy Association School-Clinic in Monroe.

Married and the father of two, Pappas, 41, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pappas.

PURCHASES BUSES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Greyhound Corp. today announced the purchase of 125 new buses and an additional car rental company.

A spokesman said Greyhound placed a 5 million dollar order for buses on routes served by Southeastern Greyhound Lines.

Greyhound also bought the physical assets of the R. A. Company through its Greyhound Rent-A-Car, Inc., subsidiary.

World Tense, But Little Chance Of Total War Seen

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

New Russian troop deployments, the Hungarian horror and the resort to force by two of the so-called peace-loving nations have brought world tensions to a pitch which the Egyptian cease-fire has done little to ease.

Yesterday's battle in the United Nations did nothing to promote peace. Yet is a time, if there ever was one, for the repression of passions.

Britain and France apparently have recognized their mistake in resorting to force in Egypt, and are now urging quick organization of the U.N. international force that will permit them to withdraw.

Israel has reversed her original intention of keeping the Sinai Peninsula. There is hope that world reaction and the clear danger of starting a world war will restrain her from further adventures, such as an invasion of Jordan.

The United Nations, alerting her air force and deploying fleets both to have them in position if needed and to avoid concentrations which might permit another Pearl Harbor, is being very careful to say what she is doing so that Russia will not misunderstand and fear a surprise.

There was nothing to support rumors of general mobilization in the United States.

Indeed, the tensions had mounted just when it seemed they should be relaxing after two hectic weeks.

It is true that there are dangers of war. They come chiefly from two possibilities.

One, the one that causes chief concern among American officials, is that somebody will make a fatal slip, unwittingly creating a situation in which someone else will have to react.

The other is that Russia might decide the North Atlantic Alliance has been sufficiently weakened, both by Anglo-French-American political differences and by the diversion of Anglo-French military power to the south side of the Mediterranean, to warrant a deliberate attack on Europe.

There are good reasons for believing that Russia will do no such thing.

Her officials have indicated they understand, just as well as it is understood in the West, that to chance war in these times is to chance annihilation.

They understand that it will be years before their industrial base for war will compare with that of the West.

They are doing well in the political war, aside from the trouble in the satellites, and the action of Britain and France in reverting to what may easily be taken as colonialism promises to enhance the Communist position almost as much as the Hungarian situation damages it.

Deliberate war seems illogical at this time.

The main objective must then be to clear up the situations which leave the door wide open for a fatal slip.

Child Beaten To Death By Agitator Of Washing Unit

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—A 14-month-old boy climbed into his mother's automatic washing machine today while she was in a bedroom sorting out more dirty clothes and was killed by the agitator action.

Mrs. Vasso, 24, loaded the washer in the kitchen of her third-floor North Philadelphia apartment and then stepped into an adjoining bedroom.

When she heard a loud, thumping noise she rushed back and found Peter in the machine. Her screams brought Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summers running from their second-floor apartment.

Summers lifted the child out but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Women's Medical College Hospital of head and internal injuries.

McGuire Sisters Apartment Looted Of Valuables

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two of the singing McGuire sisters have reported their Manhattan apartment was looted of $40,000 in valuables — including furs, jewelry, clothing, a TV set and refrigerator.

The thieves even took rugs and drapes worth $1,250 and $1,000 worth of silverware, police were told by Dorothy and Phyllis McGuire. The third sister, Chris, is married and lives elsewhere.

The burglary took place Wednesday night while the sisters were warbling on the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — Personnel at the United Nations Cafeteria says it was coincidental. The noontime special during the lunch break Thursday in the General Assembly's discussion of the Hungarian situation was "Hungarian goulash."

'Garage Bandit' Given 15 Years For Third Felony

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP) — William Aeby, 28-year-old "garage bandit," today received a 15-year sentence as a multiple offender.

The new sentence, handed down by Judge William J. O'Hara, will begin when a current 20-year sentence is completed. Aeby was serving at the state penitentiary at Angola on an armed robbery conviction when he escaped a year ago.

A jury found him guilty last month of attempted armed robbery of a lakefront club during the freedom he enjoyed after his escape. Aeby was recaptured last May and charged with the attempted robbery and several other similar crimes. He has not been tried on the other charges.

The state today tried to show that Aeby was a quadruple offender and should be sentenced to life, but the defense argued successfully that the alleged fourth offense, a "prison break" in Michigan in September, 1948, did not meet the definition of a felony under the law. Aeby pleaded guilty as a multiple, three-time, offender.

Philippine Chief Wants MacArthur As Ambassador

MANILA, Nov. 9 (UP)—President Ramon Magsaysay may request the appointment of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as United States Ambassador to the Philippines, it was reported today.

Sources close to President Magsaysay told United Press the Philippines chief executive was seriously considering making such a request.

The former ambassador to the Philippines, popular Spanish-speaking Albert F. Nufer, died unexpectedly in Manila last Tuesday. His body was flown today to Havana, Cuba, for burial.

Marine Appointed Head On U. N. Truce Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Nov. 9 (AP)— U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has appointed Col. Byron V. Leary of the U. S. Marine Corps to head U. N. truce observers in Palestine.

He named him acting chief of staff of the U. N. Truce Supervision Organization to serve in place of Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

Hammarskjold, meanwhile, telegraphed Burns to confirm his appointment as chief of staff of the U. N. Command for the emergency international force due in Egypt.

Arch Masons Slate 100th Anniversary Observance Sun.

FARMERVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) — D. F. Reeder chapter No. 9, Royal Arch Masons, of Farmerville, will celebrate its 100th anniversary Sunday. The meeting will begin at the local Masonic temple at 1:30 p.m.

P. H. Farmer, grand high priest of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Louisiana, and members of his official family are expected to be present.

The Grand High Priest will formally present a 100-year plaque to the local chapter. Following the program, refreshments will be served.

Winnsboro Jaycees To Sponsor Dinner And Demonstration

WINNSBORO, Nov. 9 (Special)— A Dale Carnegie demonstration and free dinner will be given at the local V. F. W. hall Monday at 7 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Winnsboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Open to the public, the event will feature a spaghetti and meatball dinner and the Dale Carnegie demonstration, to be given by Mr. O. C. Merrett, area manager of Shreveport.

There will be no charge and no obligation by attending the demonstration, but dinner reservations should be given to Bruce Landis or Shirley Evans, by Monday afternoon.

According to Evans, president of the Winnsboro Jaycees, proceeds received by the local chapter will be used for projects "toward the betterment of the community."

Brochures Will Tell Public Of Sales Tax Plan

Brochures giving pertinent facts concerning the financial picture of the city of Monroe will have been distributed to the residents of Monroe by Friday afternoon, Mayor W. L. Howard reported Friday.

An election on the issue will be held November 27.

Marshall Field Buried In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (UP)—Funeral services were held Friday for Marshall Field III, publisher and philanthropist, who died Thursday.

About 800 persons attended the services which were held at 3 p. m. in St. James Protestant Episcopal church. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Lee kinsolving, rector of the church, officiated, with the assistance of the Rev. Lyman C. Bleeker, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, N. Y. Burial will be in Chicago.

Field, 63, was founder of the Chicago Sun-Times and head of Field Enterprises, Inc., a holding company which had invested heavily in magazine and book publishing businesses as well as in retail concerns and banks.

Liz Taylor To File For Slower Calif. Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (UP)—Film beauty Elizabeth Taylor disclosed Friday she will file for a California divorce from British actor Michael Wilding instead of getting a quicker Nevada or Mexican decree.

The actress previously had indicated she planned to get either a Nevada or Mexican divorce in order that she might marry 51-year-old producer Michael Todd without waiting a year for a final decree under California laws.

In announcing her change in plans, the dark-haired star said the divorce would be filed by Monday.

"I am asking for the divorce on a charge of mental cruelty but will say as little as possible," Miss Taylor disclosed.

Her attorney, Bentley Ryan, said the divorce will be "a friendly one" and added that Miss Taylor had decided on the California decree because of the question of custody of her children by Wilding.

Miss Taylor added, "I want a divorce, but not one that might be questioned at a future date. I am thinking of the children as well as myself.

The couple have two sons, Michael Howard 3½, and Christopher Edward, 1½. Miss Taylor, now 24, and Wilding, 43, were married in London on Feb. 21, 1952.

Miss Taylor denied that her decision to obtain the California divorce might have resulted from a quarrel with Todd, whose 30-carat diamond engagement ring she wears.

"Mike and I haven't been squabbling," she said. "I hope to see him tomorrow. I finished the final scenes for my new picture yesterday and I hope to get permission from MGM to fly to New York for a week."

Miss Taylor and Todd had planned on a trip to Europe together following their marriage but she said she believed the trip was off now "unless we take separate boats."

World Tense, But Little Chance Of Total War Seen

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

New Russian troop deployments, the Hungarian horror and the resort to force by two of the so-called peace-loving nations have brought world tensions to a pitch which the Egyptian cease-fire has done little to ease.

Yesterday's battle in the United Nations did nothing to promote peace. Yet is a time, if there ever was one, for the repression of passions.

Britain and France apparently have recognized their mistake in resorting to force in Egypt, and are now urging quick organization of the U.N. international force that will permit them to withdraw.

Israel has reversed her original intention of keeping the Sinai Peninsula. There is hope that world reaction and the clear danger of starting a world war will restrain her from further adventures, such as an invasion of Jordan.

The United Nations, alerting her air force and deploying fleets both to have them in position if needed and to avoid concentrations which might permit another Pearl Harbor, is being very careful to say what she is doing so that Russia will not misunderstand and fear a surprise.

There was nothing to support rumors of general mobilization in the United States.

Indeed, the tensions had mounted just when it seemed they should be relaxing after two hectic weeks.

It is true that there are dangers of war. They come chiefly from two possibilities.

One, the one that causes chief concern among American officials, is that somebody will make a fatal slip, unwittingly creating a situation in which someone else will have to react.

The other is that Russia might decide the North Atlantic Alliance has been sufficiently weakened, both by Anglo-French-American political differences and by the diversion of Anglo-French military power to the south side of the Mediterranean, to warrant a deliberate attack on Europe.

There are good reasons for believing that Russia will do no such thing.

Her officials have indicated they understand, just as well as it is understood in the West, that to chance war in these times is to chance annihilation.

They understand that it will be years before their industrial base for war will compare with that of the West.

They are doing well in the political war, aside from the trouble in the satellites, and the action of Britain and France in reverting to what may easily be taken as colonialism promises to enhance the Communist position almost as much as the Hungarian situation damages it.

Deliberate war seems illogical at this time.

The main objective must then be to clear up the situations which leave the door wide open for a fatal slip.

Child Beaten To Death By Agitator Of Washing Unit

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—A 14-month-old boy climbed into his mother's automatic washing machine today while she was in a bedroom sorting out more dirty clothes and was killed by the agitator action.

Mrs. Vasso, 24, loaded the washer in the kitchen of her third-floor North Philadelphia apartment and then stepped into an adjoining bedroom.

When she heard a loud, thumping noise she rushed back and found Peter in the machine. Her screams brought Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summers running from their second-floor apartment.

Summers lifted the child out but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Women's Medical College Hospital of head and internal injuries.

McGuire Sisters Apartment Looted Of Valuables

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two of the singing McGuire sisters have reported their Manhattan apartment was looted of $40,000 in valuables — including furs, jewelry, clothing, a TV set and refrigerator.

The thieves even took rugs and drapes worth $1,250 and $1,000 worth of silverware, police were told by Dorothy and Phyllis McGuire. The third sister, Chris, is married and lives elsewhere.

The burglary took place Wednesday night while the sisters were warbling on the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — Personnel at the United Nations Cafeteria says it was coincidental. The noontime special during the lunch break Thursday in the General Assembly's discussion of the Hungarian situation was "Hungarian goulash."

WHERE PLANE HIT — This gaping hole in an apartment house roof in North Bergen, N. J., was made after a light plane clipped an 810-foot radio tower and crashed into the multiple dwelling. At least three persons died in the fire that followed the crash. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Garage Bandit' Given 15 Years For Third Felony

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP) — William Aeby, 28-year-old "garage bandit," today received a 15-year sentence as a multiple offender.

The new sentence, handed down by Judge William J. O'Hara, will begin when a current 20-year sentence is completed. Aeby was serving at the state penitentiary at Angola on an armed robbery conviction when he escaped a year ago.

A jury found him guilty last month of attempted armed robbery of a lakefront club during the freedom he enjoyed after his escape. Aeby was recaptured last May and charged with the attempted robbery and several other similar crimes. He has not been tried on the other charges.

The state today tried to show that Aeby was a quadruple offender and should be sentenced to life, but the defense argued successfully that the alleged fourth offense, a "prison break" in Michigan in September, 1948, did not meet the definition of a felony under the law. Aeby pleaded guilty as a multiple, three-time, offender.

Philippine Chief Wants MacArthur As Ambassador

MANILA, Nov. 9 (UP)—President Ramon Magsaysay may request the appointment of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as United States Ambassador to the Philippines, it was reported today.

Sources close to President Magsaysay told United Press the Philippines chief executive was seriously considering making such a request.

The former ambassador to the Philippines, popular Spanish-speaking Albert F. Nufer, died unexpectedly in Manila last Tuesday. His body was flown today to Havana, Cuba, for burial.

Marine Appointed Head On U. N. Truce Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Nov. 9 (AP)— U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has appointed Col. Byron V. Leary of the U. S. Marine Corps to head U. N. truce observers in Palestine.

He named him acting chief of staff of the U. N. Truce Supervision Organization to serve in place of Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

Hammarskjold, meanwhile, telegraphed Burns to confirm his appointment as chief of staff of the U. N. Command for the emergency international force due in Egypt.

Arch Masons Slate 100th Anniversary Observance Sun.

FARMERVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) — D. F. Reeder chapter No. 9, Royal Arch Masons, of Farmerville, will celebrate its 100th anniversary Sunday. The meeting will begin at the local Masonic temple at 1:30 p.m.

P. H. Farmer, grand high priest of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Louisiana, and members of his official family are expected to be present.

The Grand High Priest will formally present a 100-year plaque to the local chapter. Following the program, refreshments will be served.

Winnsboro Jaycees To Sponsor Dinner And Demonstration

WINNSBORO, Nov. 9 (Special)—A Dale Carnegie demonstration and free dinner will be given at the local V. F. W. hall Monday at 7 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Winnsboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Open to the public, the event will feature a spaghetti and meatball dinner and the Dale Carnegie demonstration, to be given by Mr. O. C. Merrett, area manager of Shreveport.

There will be no charge and no obligation by attending the demonstration, but dinner reservations should be given to Bruce Landis or Shirley Evans, by Monday afternoon.

According to Evans, president of the Winnsboro Jaycees, proceeds received by the local chapter will be used for projects "toward the betterment of the community."

Brochures Will Tell Public Of Sales Tax Plan

Brochures giving pertinent facts concerning the financial picture of the city of Monroe will have been distributed to the residents of Monroe by Friday afternoon, Mayor W. L. Howard reported Friday.

An election on the issue will be held November 27.

Marshall Field Buried In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (UP)—Funeral services were held Friday for Marshall Field III, publisher and philanthropist, who died Thursday.

About 800 persons attended the services which were held at 3 p. m. in St. James Protestant Episcopal church. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Lee kinsolving, rector of the church, officiated, with the assistance of the Rev. Lyman C. Bleeker, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, N. Y. Burial will be in Chicago.

Field, 63, was founder of the Chicago Sun-Times and head of Field Enterprises, Inc., a holding company which had invested heavily in magazine and book publishing businesses as well as in retail concerns and banks.

Liz Taylor To File For Slower Calif. Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (UP)—Film beauty Elizabeth Taylor disclosed Friday she will file for a California divorce from British actor Michael Wilding instead of getting a quicker Nevada or Mexican decree.

The actress previously had indicated she planned to get either a Nevada or Mexican divorce in order that she might marry 51-year-old producer Michael Todd without waiting a year for a final decree under California laws.

In announcing her change in plans, the dark-haired star said the divorce would be filed by Monday.

"I am asking for the divorce on a charge of mental cruelty but will say as little as possible," Miss Taylor disclosed.

Her attorney, Bentley Ryan, said the divorce will be "a friendly one" and added that Miss Taylor had decided on the California decree because of the question of custody of her children by Wilding.

Miss Taylor added, "I want a divorce, but not one that might be questioned at a future date. I am thinking of the children as well as myself.

The couple have two sons, Michael Howard 3½, and Christopher Edward, 1½. Miss Taylor, now 24, and Wilding, 43, were married in London on Feb. 21, 1952.

Miss Taylor denied that her decision to obtain the California divorce might have resulted from a quarrel with Todd, whose 30-carat diamond engagement ring she wears.

"Mike and I haven't been squabbling," she said. "I hope to see him tomorrow. I finished the final scenes for my new picture yesterday and I hope to get permission from MGM to fly to New York for a week."

Miss Taylor and Todd had planned on a trip to Europe together following their marriage but she said she believed the trip was off now "unless we take separate boats."

Negro Arrested On Four Counts

A Monroe Negro, Rev. T. M. Mangrum, 40, of 402 North 25th street, was arrested late Thursday on four counts of theft and one of practicing medicine with out a state license. Mangrum was released later after posting bonds totaling $4,250.

Sheriff Bailey Grant said Mangrum is charged with treating other Negroes for ailments and accepting payments for the services.

He was arrested by the parish sheriff department and Monroe city detectives.

Also picked up by the sheriff department was a 15-year-old Negro boy, who was wanted for indecent exposure. He was picked up after several complaints were received of various incidents in the vicinity of the Columbia road, just south of the Monroe city limits.

He was turned over to juvenile authorities for juvenile court.

Colleges Vie For Forensic Trophy At La. Tech Meet

RUSTON, Nov. 9 (Special)—Louisiala Tech is host to a orensic tournament on Friday and Saturday with students representing nine colleges and universities expected to attend.

Schools expected to participate are the University of Houston, Louisiana State University, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Northwestern State, Northeast State, Southeastern Oklahoma, and Mississippi Southern.

Divisions for senior men, junior men and women will be arranged. The subject for debate will be "Resolved, That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries."

Separate divisions have been set up for poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, oratory reading and radio for men and women. "Current events" will be the subject used in extemporaneous speaking.

A trophy will be awarded to the college scoring the highest number of sweepstakes points.

2 Dallas Youths Charged With Robbery, Assault

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (UP)—Two Dallas youths, one of them a member of the notorious Fairris outlaw clan, were charged with robbery by assault today in a $500 robbery-kidnap.

The pair, Robert A. Burns, 19, and Jerry Leonard Fairris, 20, were captured Thursday near Jasper, Tex., after their getaway car ran out of gas following a $1,500 tourist court robbery. With them was Fairris' wife, Ann Marie, 29.

Jasper police said Burns "talked" about the Houston robbery of the U-Tote'm Store last Sunday night and Houston officers went to Jasper Thursday, obtained a confession and brought Burns back Thursday night for identification.

Burns admitted, police said, robbing the Houston store while Fairris played lookout, then driving store Manager Joe Blair several miles, finally pistol - whipping him and dumping him out of the car.

Fairris and his wife remained in the Jasper jail to face charges in the tourist court robbery near that city Tuesday night.

Fairris is the son of Iwana Clyde Fairris, serving life in Texas state prison for robbery. His brother, Bethel Ray Fairris, was executed for the murder of an Oklahoma policeman. An aunt, Margie Zeglen, has killed three men, and a cousin, Raymond Farris, is serving time for robbery.

Cast, Committees Named For Start High School Play

START, Nov. 9 (Special)—The cast and committees for the Start High school senior play, "You Can't Kiss Caroline," have been announced by Miss Elaine Kirkland and Miss Wilma Colson, class sponsors.

The three act comedy, based upon a narrative by Maureen Daly, was dramatized by Anne Coulter Martens.

The cast includes Pat Fuller as Ma Rand, LaJuana Flint as Susie, "Bubba" Moore as Milt, Joe Swendson as Johnnie, Lynwood Lofton as Willie, John Watts as Joe, Jerry Head as Stanley, J. B. Montgomery as Howie, Barbara Epps as Bunnie, Mary Nell Eager as Pat, Greta Jo Senn as Shirley, Betty Joye Coughran as Jeanette, Faye Trisler as Caroline, Delores Nolan as Sally, and Margaret Tillie as Miss Jameson.

George Alford will be the announcer for the event scheduled for Dec. 12.

Shreveport Man To Address Local Safety Council

Charles Doerler of Shreveport, executive secretary of the Louisiana Safety Council, will be in Monroe Monday evening to help reorganize the Ouachita Parish Safety Council, Garland Shell, president, has announced. Doerler will speak to the group at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the United Gas building on Louisville avenue.

In several previous meetings the local safety group decided to coordinate its program among the civic clubs, insurance associations, automobile dealers, state, parish and city traffic officers and other groups interested in safety.

All interested persons are requested to attend the meeting.

Rabbi Lantz Is Civitan Speaker; Mid-East Topic

Rabbi Jacob Lantz, of Temple B'nai Israel, was the speaker for the Civitan club at the Thursday night meeting in the La Casa tearoom.

Rabbbi Lantz was born in Europe and was brought to this country in early childhood. He attended and graduated from the Hartford (Conn.) High school, after which he attended a Methodist college in that state, and for a time he was in armed service. Following his discharge from service, he attended colleges to fit him for his lifework as a rabbbi.

He was for some time in the Holy Land, where he continued religious studies. All of this background fitted him eminently for his lifework and for the past year he has been rabbi at the local temple.

His talk was a scholarly dissertation of the troubled affairs today in the Middle East and he showed deep interest and study of events as they are isturbing the world today.

Five Children Burn To Death In Home Blaze

SPOKANE, Wash. Nov. 9 (UP)—Five young children were burned to death late Thurs. night when a fire destroyed their two - story home in the Spokane Valley.

Mrs. Ronald Lair — mother of the children — told Spokane Valley Fire Department officials she was asleep on the davenport on the first floor of her home when she smelled smoke.

"It woke me up," she said. "I tried to reach the children but the smoke and flames drove me back."

Fire trucks sped to the scene of the fire but the blaze was beyond control by the time they arrived.

The victims were identified as Steve, 9; Merle, 7; Louise Laura, 6; Jack, 4, and Timmy, 2.

Cause of the blaze was not known. Firemen said the bodies of most beyond recognition.

Medal Of Honor Society Meets For Five Days

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—The cool-headed corporal pulled safety pins from mortar shells and used them for hand grenades. He also used a lot of other ammo in killing 40 Germans while protecting his comrades.

That chap, who then was 23, was Charles E. (Commando) Kelly. His bravery in covering his unit's withdrawal near Altavilla, Italy, in World War II won him the medal of honor. It was the highest award his nation could give him.

Kelly today joins scores of other holders of this coveted award at the first meeting of the Medal of Honor Society. The society meets here for five days.

Russell Long No Longer Youngest Senate Member

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Election of nine new faces among the 96 senators will lop more than a hundred years from the aggregate age of that body, but the average senator in January still will be between 57 and 58 years old.

The average has been between 57 and 58½ years at the start of each of the last five two-year sessions, the Library of Congress says.

The Senate acquires a new "baby member" in 32-year-old Frank Church, Idaho Democrat. He takes this distinction from Sen. Long (D-La) now 38, who has been the youngest senator for eight years.

Long was elected before he reached the minimum legal age of 30 but qualified before he was sworn in.

When Church and other new senators take the oath in January the Senate ages will range from his 32 to 89 for Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI), oldest present member of Congress and the oldest man ever to sit in the Senate.

All of the nine newly elected senators replace older men except Gov. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) who is 10 months older than Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), whom he replaces. Lausche, 61 next week, and Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa), now 61, are the oldest of the newly elected group.

Church defeated Sen. Herman (R-Idaho) who at 50 was the youngest senator to lose or retire.

Church will joint a tiny group of senators who are 40 and below. In addition to Long they are John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 39,, and Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), 40.

Only 15 other senators are below 50. This group includes both Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican leader William F. Knowland of California, both 48.

At the other end of the age range are 16 senators who will be past 65 years, the age of retirement for any workers, when the new session starts.

Band Boosters To Sponsor Benefit Sales At Vidalia

VIDALIA, Nov. 9 (Special) —A Magazine subscription sale to raise funds for the Vidalia High school band is being sponsored here by the Vidalia Band Boosters club. Bernie Driskill, band instructor, is chairman and members of the Vidalia school band are participating in the sale.

At a call meeting Tuesday, at which Mrs. T. T. Bretherick presided, a light bulb sale was scheduled for Nov. 16 for the benefit of the newly organized Vidalia High school band.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephens were appointed general chairmen, and volunteering to aid in the sale were Mr. and Mrs. W. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. W. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sartor and band director Driskill.

Thirty - two members were present at the meeting.

Concordia Parish Deadline For CRP Contracts Changed

FERRIDAY, Nov. 9 (Special) — Final date for the signing of conservation reserve contracts has been extended to Nov. 30, according to T. W. Compton, chairman of the Concordia parish ASC committee.

Farmers who wish to participate in the conservation reserve program should come to the ASC office in Vidalia and execute the conservation reserve worksheet for determining their soil base.

Land, to be eligible for the conservation reserve program, must not have been grazed nor had a crop harvested on it during the year 1956.

Negro Arrested On Four Counts

A Monroe Negro, Rev. T. M. Mangrum, 40, of 402 North 25th street, was arrested late Thursday on four counts of theft and one of practicing medicine with out a state license. Mangrum was released later after posting bonds totaling $4,250.

Sheriff Bailey Grant said Mangrum is charged with treating other Negroes for ailments and accepting payments for the services.

He was arrested by the parish sheriff department and Monroe city detectives.

Also picked up by the sheriff department was a 15-year-old Negro boy, who was wanted for indecent exposure. He was picked up after several complaints were received of various incidents in the vicinity of the Columbia road, just south of the Monroe city limits.

He was turned over to juvenile authorities for juvenile court.

2 Dallas Youths Charged With Robbery, Assault

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (UP)—Two Dallas youths, one of them a member of the notorious Fairris outlaw clan, were charged with robbery by assault today in a $500 robbery-kidnap.

The pair, Robert A. Burns, 19, and Jerry Leonard Fairris, 20, were captured Thursday near Jasper, Tex., after their getaway car ran out of gas following a $1,500 tourist court robbery. With them was Fairris' wife, Ann Marie, 29.

Jasper police said Burns "talked" about the Houston robbery of the U-Tote'm Store last Sunday night and Houston officers went to Jasper Thursday, obtained a confession and brought Burns back Thursday night for identification.

Burns admitted, police said, robbing the Houston store while Fairris played lookout, then driving store Manager Joe Blair several miles, finally pistol - whipping him and dumping him out of the car.

Fairris and his wife remained in the Jasper jail to face charges in the tourist court robbery near that city Tuesday night.

Fairris is the son of Iwana Clyde Fairris, serving life in Texas state prison for robbery. His brother, Bethel Ray Fairris, was executed for the murder of an Oklahoma policeman. An aunt, Margie Zeglen, has killed three men, and a cousin, Raymond Farris, is serving time for robbery.

Shreveport Man To Address Local Safety Council

Charles Doerler of Shreveport, executive secretary of the Louisiana Safety Council, will be in Monroe Monday evening to help reorganize the Ouachita Parish Safety Council, Garland Shell, president, has announced. Doerler will speak to the group at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the United Gas building on Louisville avenue.

In several previous meetings the local safety group decided to coordinate its program among the civic clubs, insurance associations, automobile dealers, state, parish and city traffic officers and other groups interested in safety.

All interested persons are requested to attend the meeting.

Rabbi Lantz Is Civitan Speaker; Mid-East Topic

Rabbi Jacob Lantz, of Temple B'nai Israel, was the speaker for the Civitan club at the Thursday night meeting in the La Casa tearoom.

Rabbbi Lantz was born in Europe and was brought to this country in early childhood. He attended and graduated from the Hartford (Conn.) High school, after which he attended a Methodist college in that state, and for a time he was in armed service. Following his discharge from service, he attended colleges to fit him for his lifework as a rabbbi.

He was for some time in the Holy Land, where he continued religious studies. All of this background fitted him eminently for his lifework and for the past year he has been rabbi at the local temple.

His talk was a scholarly dissertation of the troubled affairs today in the Middle East and he showed deep interest and study of events as they are isturbing the world today.

Five Children Burn To Death In Home Blaze

SPOKANE, Wash. Nov. 9 (UP)—Five young children were burned to death late Thurs. night when a fire destroyed their two - story home in the Spokane Valley.

Mrs. Ronald Lair — mother of the children — told Spokane Valley Fire Department officials she was asleep on the davenport on the first floor of her home when she smelled smoke.

"It woke me up," she said. "I tried to reach the children but the smoke and flames drove me back."

Fire trucks sped to the scene of the fire but the blaze was beyond control by the time they arrived.

The victims were identified as Steve, 9; Merle, 7; Louise Laura, 6; Jack, 4, and Timmy, 2.

Cause of the blaze was not known. Firemen said the bodies of most beyond recognition.

Medal Of Honor Society Meets For Five Days

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—The cool-headed corporal pulled safety pins from mortar shells and used them for hand grenades. He also used a lot of other ammo in killing 40 Germans while protecting his comrades.

That chap, who then was 23, was Charles E. (Commando) Kelly. His bravery in covering his unit's withdrawal near Altavilla, Italy, in World War II won him the medal of honor. It was the highest award his nation could give him.

Kelly today joins scores of other holders of this coveted award at the first meeting of the Medal of Honor Society. The society meets here for five days.

Russell Long No Longer Youngest Senate Member

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Election of nine new faces among the 96 senators will lop more than a hundred years from the aggregate age of that body, but the average senator in January still will be between 57 and 58 years old.

The average has been between 57 and 58½ years at the start of each of the last five two-year sessions, the Library of Congress says.

The Senate acquires a new "baby member" in 32-year-old Frank Church, Idaho Democrat. He takes this distinction from Sen. Long (D-La) now 38, who has been the youngest senator for eight years.

Long was elected before he reached the minimum legal age of 30 but qualified before he was sworn in.

When Church and other new senators take the oath in January the Senate ages will range from his 32 to 89 for Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI), oldest present member of Congress and the oldest man ever to sit in the Senate.

All of the nine newly elected senators replace older men except Gov. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) who is 10 months older than Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), whom he replaces. Lausche, 61 next week, and Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa), now 61, are the oldest of the newly elected group.

Church defeated Sen. Herman (R-Idaho) who at 50 was the youngest senator to lose or retire.

Church will joint a tiny group of senators who are 40 and below. In addition to Long they are John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 39,, and Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), 40.

Only 15 other senators are below 50. This group includes both Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican leader Wiliam F. Knowland of California, both 48.

At the other end of the age range are 16 senators who will be past 65 years, the age of retireent for any workers, when the new session starts.

Band Boosters To Sponsor Benefit Sales At Vidalia

VIDALIA, Nov. 9 (Special) —A Magazine subscription sale to raise funds for the Vidalia High school band is being sponsored here by the Vidalia Band Boosters club. Bernie Driskill, band instructor, is chairman and members of the Vidalia school band are participating in the sale.

At a call meeting Tuesday, at which Mrs. T. T. Bretherick presided, a light bulb sale was scheduled for Nov. 16 for the benefit of the newly organized Vidalia High school band.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephens were appointed general chairmen, and volunteering to aid in the sale were Mr. and Mrs. W. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. W. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sartor and band director Driskill.

Thirty - two members were present at the meeting.

Concordia Parish Deadline For CRP Contracts Changed

FERRIDAY, Nov. 9 (Special) — Final date for the signing of conservation reserve contracts has been extended to Nov. 30, according to T. W. Compton, chairman of the Concordia parish ASC committee.

Farmers who wish to participate in the conservation reserve program should come to the ASC office in Vidalia and execute the conservation reserve worksheet for determining their soil base.

Land, to be eligible for the conservation reserve program, must not have been grazed nor had a crop harvested on it during the year 1956.

Crop Production 'Near Record' Is Forecast For U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today a slight increase in the outturn of late crops in October assures a near record total crop production this year.

With production of livestock products running ahead of last year, this year's production of all farm commodities will be the largest on record.

Increases in estimates from a month ago were reported for corn, sorghum grain, rice, tobacco, potatoes, sugarcane and some fruits.

This year's corn crop was indicated to be the second largest of record.

The indicated yield per acre and the production, respectively, of important crops by major producing states included:

CORN: Tennessee 33 bushels per acre and 58,377,000 production; Alabama 24 and 53,856,000; Mississippi 25 and 37,125,000; Arkansas 26 and 16,900,000.

Soybeans for beans

Tennessee 17.5 bushels per acre and 4,725,000; Alabama 21 and 1,995,000; Mississippi 14 and 10,514,000; Arkansas 19 and 26,866,000.

RICE: Mississippi 2,800 pounds per acre and production 1,260,000 bags of 100 pounds; Arkansas 2,900 and 11,339,000; Louisiana 2,500 and 11,575,000; Texas 2,675 and 11,048,000.

SUGARCANE: Louisiana 24 tons per acre and production 5,304,000 tons.

ORANGES (production only)

Louisiana 115,000 boxes.

PECANS (production only)

Alabama 24,000,000 pounds; Mississippi 13,100,00; Arkansas 5,50,000; Louisiana 12,000,000; Texas 27,500,000.

SWEET POTATOES—Tennessee 56,000 per acre and 616,000 production; Alabama 50,000; and 750,000; Mississippi 40,000; and 800,000; Arkansas 45,000; and 261,000; Louisiana 58,000; and 4,350,000.

Stassen Claims Weakness Shown By GOP Support

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (UP)—Harold E. Stassen, who tried to dump Vice President Richard M. Nixon from the Republican ticket, said Friday Tuesday's election results show a "serious weakness" in the Republican Party.

"Our Republican Party must rebuild its strength," he said, "particularly in the ranks of organized labor, the small businessman and the family farmer. This is essential if the Republican Party is to become a majority party in the United States in the years ahead."

Astassen, President Eisenhower's disarmaent adviser, said the GOP weakness showed up in the loss of both the House and Senate despite Mr. Eisenhower's landslide victory.

Stassen refused to say whether he blamed the Republican loss of Congress on Nixon. But he told the United Press in an interview:

"The election results clearly show, on the one hand, the tremendous popular support for President Eisenhower and his policies, and on the other hand, serious weakness of our Republican Party in losing both houses of Congress and a number of governorships even though it had the advantage of the resident's great vote."

Stassen said it should be possible to rebuild a GOP majority in the future "because millions of these citizens have indicated by their votes that they approve of President Eisenhower and his program even though he ran under the Republican label."

Stassen said this strengthening of the GOP can be brought about only "from the bottom up."

The presidential adviser balked at discussing Nixon's influence on the election outcome on grounds it would not be "constructive for me to go over the past situation."

Revision Sought

Laws Governing Miss. Constables Hit By Coleman

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP) — Gov. J. P. Coleman said today he plans to ask the Legislature to prohibit constables from making traffic arrests on state highways and to "completely revise" justice of the peace courts.

The governor announced his plans in a statement issued after a New Orleans woman complained she was arrested, jailed for three hours and fined $20 for driving in Harrison County with one headlight burned out.

Coleman cited the case as what he called an example of "our greatest problem . . . A few constables who are staying out on state highways and giving trouble."

He said he would ask the Legislature "at the first opportunity . . . to remedy this by depriving constables of their traffic jurisdiction on state roads. Of course, they would continue to have jurisdiction on county roads."

Blasting justice of the peace courts, Coleman said, "we are now operating under statutes enacted in 1848 and they are just that far behind the times."

He said the state needs "very badly" a statute requiring justices of the peace to "have a fixed place for holding of court, and stop them from going out on the highways and such unorthodox procedures as practiced in some instances."

The governor also suggested a need for a "strong statute on assault and battery by automobile when it is the result of gross negligence on the part of the individual causing the accident."

The Harrison County case to which the governor referred came to light in a letter he received from May N. Davis.

She wrote that Pass Christian constable Bravo Woodcock stopped her on the highway Nov. 2 and informed her one headlight was burned out. He told her, the letter continued, to "follow me and I'll give you a chance to have it fixed."

Instead, she said, he led her to the county jail where she was jailed and told her fine would be $20.

She said Woodcock left and the jailer refused to accept $10 cash and a $10 personal check. He put her in a cell where she remained three hours until her brother arrived from Mobile, Ala., with the money.

After the fine was paid, the woman said, she was permitted to drive away without having the faulty headlight repaired.

In Pass Christian today, Woodcock denied telling the woman he'd lead her to a repair shop. He also denied "mentioning money because I have nothing to do with fixing the fine."

The constable said his procedure generally is to take the traffic violators to Harrison County Jail, book them and leave them with the jailer to make up the necessary appearance bond.

The amount of $20, he said, "must have been the appearance bond," and he added the justices of the peace have listed the amounts of bond for various offenses and posted them at the jail.

"She (Miss Davis) said she was going to come back Saturday and appear in court," Woodcock said, "but she never did.

News Vendor At Baton Rouge Is Declared Insane

Gagliano, 48, police said, shot Peter Gagliano, his father, in the chest one time with a newly purchased .38 caliber pistol.

The victim was seated in his office at the Ajax Plumbing Co.

Gagliano told police he feared his father was trying to kill him by putting poison in his black pepper. He will be returned to the East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson.

Crop Production 'Near Record' Is Forecast For U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today a slight increase in the outturn of late crops in October assures a near record total crop production this year.

With production of livestock products running ahead of last year, this year's production of all farm commodities will be the largest on record.

Increases in estimates from a month ago were reported for corn, sorghum grain, rice, tobacco, potatoes, sugarcane and some fruits.

This year's corn crop was indicated to be the second largest of record.

The indicated yield per acre and the production, respectively, of important crops by major producing states included:

CORN: Tennessee 33 bushels per acre and 58,377,000 production; Alabama 24 and 53,856,000; Mississippi 25 and 37,125,000; Arkansas 26 and 16,900,000.

Soybeans for beans

Tennessee 17.5 bushels per acre and 4,725,000; Alabama 21 and 1,995,000; Mississippi 14 and 10,514,000; Arkansas 19 and 26,866,000.

RICE: Mississippi 2,800 pounds per acre and production 1,260,000 bags of 100 pounds; Arkansas 2,900 and 11,339,000; Louisiana 2,500 and 11,575,000; Texas 2,675 and 11,048,000.

SUGARCANE: Louisiana 24 tons per acre and production 5,304,000 tons.

ORANGES (production only) Louisiana 115,000 boxes.

PECANS (production only) Alabama 24,000,000 pounds; Mississippi 13,100,00; Arkansas 5,50,000; Louisiana 12,000,000; Texas 27,500,000.

SWEET POTATOES—Tennessee 56,000 per acre and 616,000 production; Alabama 50,000; and 750,000; Mississippi 40,000; and 800,000; Arkansas 45,000; and 261,000; Louisiana 58,000; and 4,350,000.

State Hearings On Oil Markets Set December 11

BATON ROUGE, Sep. 9 (AP) — Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey said today hearings to determine market demands for Louisiana crude petroleum in January and natural gas the first quarter of 1957 will be held Dec. 11 in New Orleans.

The commissioner already has indicated that the state oil allowable for December, to be determined later this month, probably will be raised.

The December hearings, to be held at International House, will be followed by several hearings on field operations. They are, by fields:

Darrow — Rules and units for 10,960-11,030 and.

Laurel Ridge — Regulation for the 10,000-foot sand.

Live Oak — Regulations for Pierce sand and Godchaux sand.

Ridge — Rules and units for seven gas-condensate sands.

South Duson — Regulations for Marginulina No. 7 sand.

The commissioner also issued new orders for three fields:

Blackburn — 640-acre units for Bodcaw formation.

Stassen Claims Weakness Shown By GOP Support

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (UP)—Harold E. Stassen, who tried to dump Vice President Richard M. Nixon from the Republican ticket, said Friday Tuesday's election results show a "serious weakness" in the Republican Party.

"Our Republican Party must rebuild its strength," he said, "particularly in the ranks of organized labor, the small businessman and the family farmer. This is essential if the Republican Party is to become a majority party in the United States in the years ahead."

Astassen, President Eisenhower's disarmaent adviser, said the GOP weakness showed up in the loss of both the House and Senate despite Mr. Eisenhower's landslide victory.

Stassen refused to say whether he blamed the Republican loss of Congress on Nixon. But he told the United Press in an interview:

"The election results clearly show, on the one hand, the tremendous popular support for President Eisenhower and his policies, and on the other hand, serious weakness of our Republican Party in losing both houses of Congress and a number of governorships even though it had the advantage of the resident's great vote."

Stassen said it should be possible to rebuild a GOP majority in the future "because millions of these citizens have indicated by their votes that they approve of President Eisenhower and his program even though he ran under the Republican label."

Stassen said this strengthening of the GOP can be brought about only "from the bottom up."

The presidential adviser balked at discussing Nixon's influence on the election outcome on grounds it would not be "constructive for me to go over the past situation."

Revision Sought
Laws Governing Miss. Constables Hit By Coleman

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP) — Gov. J. P. Coleman said today he plans to ask the Legislature to prohibit constables from making traffic arrests on state highways and to "completely revise" justice of the peace courts.

The governor announced his plans in a statement issued after a New Orleans woman complained she was arrested, jailed for three hours and fined $20 for driving in Harrison County with one headlight burned out.

Coleman cited the case as what he called an example of "our greatest problem . . . A few constables who are staying out on state highways and giving trouble."

He said he would ask the Legislature "at the first opportunity . . . to remedy this by depriving constables of their traffic jurisdiction on state roads. Of course, they would continue to have jurisdiction on county roads."

Blasting justice of the peace courts, Coleman said, "we are now operating under statutes enacted in 1848 and they are just that far behind the times."

He said the state needs "very badly" a statute requiring justices of the peace to "have a fixed place for holding of court, and stop them from going out on the highways and such unorthodox procedures as practiced in some instances."

The governor also suggested a need for a "strong statute on assault and battery by automobile when it is the result of gross negligence on the part of the individual causing the accident."

The Harrison County case to which the governor referred came to light in a letter he received from May N. Davis.

She wrote that Pass Christian constable Bravo Woodcock stopped her on the highway Nov. 2 and informed her one headlight was burned out. He told her, the letter continued, to "follow me and I'll give you a chance to have it fixed."

Instead, she said, he led her to the county jail where she was jailed and told her fine would be $20.

She said Woodcock left and the jailer refused to accept $10 cash and a $10 personal check. He put her in a cell where she remained three hours until her brother arrived from Mobile, Ala., with the money.

After the fine was paid, the woman said, she was permitted to drive away without having the faulty headlight repaired.

In Pass Christian today, Woodcock denied telling the woman he'd lead her to a repair shop. He also denied "mentioning money because I have nothing to do with fixing the fine."

The constable said his procedure generally is to take the traffic violators to Harrison County Jail, book them and leave them with the jailer to make up the necessary appearance bond.

The amount of $20, he said, "must have been the appearance bond," and he added the justices of the peace have listed the amounts of bond for various offenses and posted them at the jail.

"She (Miss Davis) said she was going to come back Saturday and appear in court," Woodcock said, "but she never did.

News Vendor At Baton Rouge Is Declared Insane

Gagliano, 48, police said, shot Peter Gagliano, his father, in the chest one time with a newly purchased .38 caliber pistol.

The victim was seated in his office at the Ajax Plumbing Co.

Gagliano told police he feared his father was trying to kill him by putting poison in his black pepper. He will be returned to the East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson.

During the day, the court heard testimony of staff doctors from the mental institution.

The feature of the New York market today appeared to be Clayton's Brokers selling approximately 450 December contracts at around 33.85. After this heavy liquidation December advanced 10 to 15 points and Cayton's Brokers again started to offer Decembers at 34.00. The nearby months showed some gains on balance with the middle new crop months off several points. As of November 2nd unfixed call sales totalled 1,109,400 bales compared to 769,200 bales at the same time last year. On the other hand, unfixed call purchases totalled 36,100 bales versus 51,500 bales a year ago. Liverpool futures were 15 English points higher to 15 lower on balance.

The gray goods market continued quiet today with most business done through second hands with 80 squares selling at from 18¾ to 19⅜ cents. Exports today totalled 27,149 bales which brings the season total to 1,303,000 bales versus 403,176 bales a year ago.

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower today, with nearby December the strongest month.

Less apprehension over the Middle East crisis led to early selling, with losses extending to 70 cents a bale. The market improved during the morning and gained added strength during the afternoon when a leading spot firm raised its selling limits on nearby December.

Most deliveries, however, encountered late profit taking and backed away from the best levels.

A leading spot firm sold an estimated 45,000 bale of nearby December, mostly at 33.85 cents a pound. Selling from that source then dried up and December spurted up 12 points between sales. The spot House subsequently re-entered as a seller of December at 34.00 cents a pound.

Futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower than the previous close.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

Penn Texas continues to buy stock of Fairbanks Morse according to the latest report filed with the New York Stock Exchange. The Exchange reported that Penn Texas bought 33,800 shares of Fairbanks Morse during October, increasing its stock ownership in the company to 294,800 shares.

Aluminum production capacity may have temporarily gone ahead of demand for the metal, said I. W. Wilson, president of Alcoa.

Humble Oil and Refining Company is increasing its purchase of west Texas crude oil by 10,000 barrels daily in a move attributed to the Middle East crisis. For the same reason, Phillips Petroleum Company will resume normal purchases of crude oil in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico about December 1. Owing to large supplies in storage, Phillips has been limiting its crude buying in these states.

A spakesman for the Trans-Arabian Pipeline Company said that the company's line between Saudi Arabia and Sidon, a Lebanon Mediterranean port, is operating at capacity of some 320,000 barrels of oil daily. He said there was no truth to reports that the line had been shut down.

Gulf Oil announced a gasoline price increase to all dealers in Pennsylvania of 7-10 of a cent a gallon effective 7 a.m. Friday. Retail gasoline prices are expected to be boosted approximately one cent per gallon as a result of the increase. District offices for Socony-Mobil, American Oil, and Texas Company also said their gasolines also moved up 7-10 cents effective Friday morning.

The Office of Defense Mobiliaztion ruled out direct loans to industry as an incentive to boost nickel production.

Cooper output at Anaconda Company's big Chuquicamata mine in Chile, running at 25,000 tons monthly, will be reduced 10 to 15 per cent by a union decision not to work overtime and to discontinue work on Sundays and holidays.

Market Takes Third Consecutive Loss On Average

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP) —The market took its third consecutive loss today as trading volume tapered off to the slimmest of the week.

Key stocks showed losses of from fractions to around 2 points. Aircrafts bucked the trend and kept a good part of their gains higher at the opening in a continuation of the recovery trend apparent late yesterday. But the improvement was short-lived.

The market was active and despite a general worsening of prices near the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.20 to $178.90 with the industrials down $2.00, the rails down $1.60 and the utilities unchanged.

The 1,122 issues traded made it the narrowest market of the week. Declines outnumbered advances by 529 to 336. There were 36 new lows for the year as against 13 new highs.

Corporate bonds declined.

U. S. government bonds rose in fairly active dealings over the counter.

Revenues For Oil Producers In War Zone To Plunge

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The big oil producing countries of the Middle East are going to be hard hit within the next few weeks.

"No matter what happens," an oil man said today, "revenues are going to drop.'

The last tankers that squeezed through the Suez Canal before it was blocked during the British-French invasion of Egypt are now arriving at the Persian Gulf to take on oil.

When they have been loaded it's going to take at least three weeks before the tankers that have been diverted around the Cape of Good Hope start steaming into Gulf ports. Even after this new shipping pattern is completed, oil men say the rate of tanker arrivals will be considerably less than normal.

"It all depends on tankers," said the oil spokesman, "how quickly we can get them there, get them away and, more impotant than all, how many tankers we can get."

He ai if all the tankes peviously used on the Sue route were diverted around the capt, they can carry only a maximum of about 60 per cent of the normal traffic, because of the difference in the time needed.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

Penn Texas continues to buy stock of Fairbanks Morse according to the latest report filed with the New York Stock Exchange. The Exchange reported that Penn Texas bought 33,800 shares of Fairbanks Morse during October, increasing its stock ownership in the company to 294,800 shares.

Aluminum production capacity may have temporarily gone ahead of demand for the metal, said I. W. Wilson, president of Alcoa.

Humble Oil and Refining Company is increasing its purchase of west Texas crude oil by 10,000 barrels daily in a move attributed to the Middle East crisis. For the same reason, Phillips Petroleum Company will resume normal purchases of crude oil in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico about December 1. Owing to large supplies in storage, Phillips has been limiting its crude buying in these states.

A spakesman for the Trans-Arabian Pipeline Company said that the company's line between Saudi Arabia and Sidon, a Lebanon Mediterranean port, is operating at capacity of some 320,000 barrels of oil daily. He said there was no truth to reports that the line had been shut down.

Gulf Oil announced a gasoline price increase to all dealers in Pennsylvania of 7-10 of a cent a gallon effective 7 a.m. Friday. Retail gasoline prices are expected to be boosted approximately one cent per gallon as a result of the increase. District offices for Socony-Mobil, American Oil, and Texas Company also said their gasolines also moved up 7-10 cents effective Friday morning.

The Office of Defense Mobiliaztion ruled out direct loans to industry as an incentive to boost nickel production.

Cooper output at Anaconda Company's big Chuquicamata mine in Chile, running at 25,000 tons monthly, will be reduced 10 to 15 per cent by a union decision not to work overtime and to discontinue work on Sundays and holidays.

Market Takes Third Consecutive Loss On Average

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP) —The market took its third consecutive loss today as trading volume tapered off to the slimmest of the week.

Key stocks showed losses of from fractions to around 2 points. Aircrafts bucked the trend and kept a good part of their gains higher at the opening in a continuation of the recovery trend apparent late yesterday. But the improvement was short-lived.

The market was active and despite a general worsening of prices near the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.20 to $178.90 with the industrials down $2.00, the rails down $1.60 and the utilities unchanged.

The 1,122 issues traded made it the narrowest market of the week. Declines outnumbered advances by 529 to 336. There were 36 new lows for the year as against 13 new highs.

Corporate bonds declined.

U. S. government bonds rose in fairly active dealings over the counter.

The feature of the New York market today appeared to be Clayton's Brokers selling approximately 450 December contracts at around 33.85. After this heavy liquidation December advanced 10 to 15 points and Cayton's Brokers again started to offer Decembers at 34.00. The nearby months showed some gains on balance with the middle new crop months off several points. As of November 2nd unfixed call sales totalled 1,109,400 bales compared to 769,200 bales at the same time last year. On the other hand, unfixed call purchases totalled 36,100 bales versus 51,500 bales a year ago. Liverpool futures were 15 English points higher to 15 lower on balance.

The gray goods market continued quiet today with most business done through second hands with 80 squares selling at from 18¾ to 19⅜ cents. Exports today totalled 27,149 bales which brings the season total to 1,303,000 bales versus 403,176 bales a year ago.

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower today, with nearby December the strongest month.

Less apprehension over the Middle East crisis led to early selling, with losses extending to 70 cents a bale. The market improved during the morning and gained added strength during the afternoon when a leading spot firm raised its selling limits on nearby December.

Most deliveries, however, encountered late profit taking and backed away from the best levels.

A leading spot firm sold an estimated 45,000 bale of nearby December, mostly at 33.85 cents a pound. Selling from that source then dried up and December spurted up 12 points between sales. The spot House subsequently re-entered as a seller of December at 34.00 cents a pound.

Futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower than the previous close.

Indians Furnish Homecoming Foe For 'Cats Today

Coach Devone Payne leads his Northeast State Indians against Louisiana College at Pineville this afternoon in an attempt to spoil the Wildcats' homecoming and to gain victory No. 7 for the season. Kickoff time is 2 o'clock.

Crippled by injuries to three valuable backfield performers during the week, the Tribe's potent offense may be slack as halfbacks Aubrey Wade and Don Reynolds, and fullback Robert McGough may not perform at their peak.

A change in the starting Indian lineup is expected to give the Tribe a much needed lift after dropping last week's game to Northwestern, 24-7. Coach Payne has elected to insert Everett "Sleepy" Reynolds at the quarterback slot in his split-T machine. The Lewisville, Tex., product replaces Zeke Zametto who has shifted to left halfback.

Jimmy Berry worked his way back into the starting guard slot after being sidelined most of the season with an early injury. He is one of Northeast's top linemen and one of five seniors on the squad. He and Wade serve as co-captains.

An oddity of the game is the return of Coach Payne as a Louisiana College alumnus, an ex-Wildcat grid great and former coach seeking to defeat this Pineville eleven.

For the first time in several weeks Louisiana College is back at practically full strength. They have two records which they hope to continue by getting a Wildcat win. The Wildcats have won three games in a row and also they have captured their last two homecoming contests.

The Indians, a surprise offense power of the Gulf States Conference who lead in yards rushing with 246 per game, have star left half Wade nursing an injured back muscle. He is the conference's leading scorer with 58 points and paces the rushing department with 678 yards in 83 attempts.

Fullback McGough, a small but consistant plunger for the Tribe, is also nursing a back ailment. Don Reynolds, the man who usually replaces Wade, is hobbling with a torn leg muscle.

Wildcat Eugene Southern, the '55 All-G.S.C. halfback from Winnsboro, returned to action after a five-week absence due to injuries. Against S.L.I. last week he accounted for the amazing total of 274 yards and tallied twice.

Ruston Trounces Jonesboro-Hodge In 42-6 Contest

JONESBORO, La., Nov. 9 (Special) — Ruston's Bearcats swept to an easy 42-6 2-AA victory here tonight over the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, holding the local club scoreless until the final minute of play.

The Tigers' only moment of glory came with only a minute left in the game when Jimmy Golden went 22 yards to paydirt. It was Jonesboro's first touchdown against Ruston since 1952.

Ruston rode to victory behind the running of the state's fastest 100-yard dasher in Pat Garrett, who romped for touchdown on 78 yards and 5 yards respectively. He also added an extra point.

The Bearcats scored in the first quarter off Roland Jackson's four-yard plunge with Bud Alexander converting. They went on to a 28-0 halftime lead and added another seven points in each of the third and fourth quarters.

Both of Garrett's touchdowns came in the second period and John Murphy added more last to Ruston's victory in the same quarter with a long, 65-yard run. Alexander kicked all three extra points.

Fullback Henson scored Ruston's tally in the third stanza and again Alexander split the uprights for the point after. His perfect five-for-five brought his season's average up to 87 per cent.

The visitors final score in the fourth was made by Joe Hinton, who went for six yards into the end zone. Garrett converted.

Central Cagers Trounce Ogden

DELHI, La., Nov. 9 (Special)— Central High swept both ends of a basketball double header over Odgen here tonight as the girls won 54-40 while the boys took the nightcap, 65-35.

High scores for Central in the girls' game was Floriee Pepper with 28 points. Shelby Fain tallied 23 for Ogden in the same contest. Travis Walker and Baker Boyd pitched in 15 points for Central in the boys' fray, but Ogden's E. B. Thompson captured the game's score with 17.

The Bears drew first blood in the second quarter when Roscoe Wilkins scored the first of his three touchdowns on a one-yard plunge which capped a 65-yard march. Thomas White made the extra point.

Columbia retaliated in the second quarter with a 35-yard scoring march which ended when Sam "Bubba" Henry carried the final 11 yards. Billy Kenney made the extra point, making the score 7-7 at the half.

The Tide went out in front in third quarter and was not to be headed again. Columbia recovered a Block fumble on the Bear 25 and moments later Claude Warner pounded the final seven yards for the score. Henry made the extra point.

The home boys scored twice in the final period, once when Kenneth Carr ran an intercepted pass back 80 yards and again when Warner bucked over from five yards out. Kenney made one extra point.

Wilson picked up the two final Block tallies on runs of 25 and 12 yards. He made one extra point.

The Tide's final game of the season will be played against Southside High of Monroe Wednesday night.

Eros Basketeers Share Twin Bill With Weston Foe

EROS, La., Nov. 9 (Special)— In a twin bill played here last night, the Eros High school boys cage squad downed Weston High, 65 - 40, while the Weston girls trounced the Eros girls, 63-36.

High scorers for the Eros boys were Jerry Stuckey and Kenneth Spillers, who tallied 20 and 16 points respectively. High pointman for Weston was Jimmy Fitzpatrick with 12, followed by Joe Phillips with 11.

Late Crowville Drive Overhauls Waterproof, 12-7

CROWVILLE, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—Crowville and Waterproof battled scoreless into the third quarter here tonight before the local Bulldogs broke the game with two touchdowns to win, 12-7.

After a hard-fought first half, Crowville scored first on J. T. Johnson's 7-yard run. The Bulldogs scored again when Harold Ray Roberts threw to Bibby Joe Allen, a playing covering 15 yards.

Sicily Islanders Barely Get Past Newellton, 20-19

SICILY ISLAND, La., Nov. 9 (Special) — The Sicily Island Tigers took a squeaker here tonight from the Newellton Bears by a slim extra point, 20-19.

Dean Wiggins grabbed the Tiger touchdowns tonight as he caught two scoring passes from Billy Wiggins good for 25 and 35 yards and made a spectacular 80 yard punt return pay off for six points.

Newellton touchdowns were accounted for by Sam Dushesne, who tallied from five and two yards out and snared a four-yard scoring pass. Bily Barfield garnered the Bears' only extra point.

The margin of victory was provided by extra points by Dean Wiggins and Reginald Wycoffe.

Bastrop Tumbles For Byrd Jackets In 27-6 Scramble

SHREVEPORT, Nov. 9 (Special) —The Bastrop Rams, despire the over-all play of quarterback Walt Patrick and halfback Larry Ryder, fell before the Byrd Yellow Jackets by a 27-6 score here tonight.

Both teams had trouble getting started in the first half and the game had moved into the second period before Jacket fullback Charles Peatross capped a 60 yard drive by blasting over from two yards out.

The lone Bastrop score came on a 45-yard run by Ryder in the final 40 seconds.

Byrd extended its 6-0 halftime lead in the third period with two touchdowns. After driving 63 yards to the Ram 8 where they were stopped, the Jackets came back twice more on drive of 52 and 51 yards.

Sonny Jacobs, tiny Byrd halfback, scored both third quarter TDs on runs of 1 and 22 yards. Pat Studstill had set up Jacobs' touchdown with a brilliant 29 yard run to the Ram 22.

The Byrd reserves closed the hometown scoring in the final period by marching 56 yards in 9 plays. Vaughn Evers scored the TD on a three yard plunge.

Redskins Tag Rebels, 37-6

By LEMMIE HIGHTOWER

An interesting homecoming show opened affairs at Brown Field last night but before the night was over the Fair Park Indians of Shreveport proved that they didn't hold the occasion to be too scared for the West Monroe Rebels whom they handed a 37-6 shellacking.

Miss Brinda Salter, a junior at WMHS, was crowned queen of the annual event by West Monroe Mayor Allen Norris and the entire homecoming court was escorted across the field before the returning "grads." But the Redskins were waiting on the sidelines just itching to spoil things —and they did, but good.

STATISTICS

The Tribe needed seven minutes before they scored their first touchdown but once they had broken the scoring the first quarter was turned into a TD fest. Taking the ball on downs on their 48, halfback Eddie Dunn carried on three straight plays to finally plunge two yards for the initial Indian six-pointer.

The West Monroe organization fumbled the following kickoff on the Rebel 30 and the Redskins were ready to tally again. Fullback Scooter Henry galloped to the 14 and Dunn traveled off left tackle to complete the cash-in in only two plays.

Everyone on the Reb machine then buttered their hands in order to lose the ball again on the first play from scrimmage. This time the visitors were only 23 yards away from paydirt and needed only a single effort to mark their third score onto the record. It was Henry who elbowed his way through a slot inside left tackle and sputtered through a host of Rebel tacklers to the end zone.

Only seconds were left in the stanza when Dunn got away again on a pass from quarterback Jimmie Orton. The pitch and run covered 45 paces giving the Shreveporters a 25-6 lead at halftime.

With seconds and third string Indians playing in the third round o one could push far enough or long enough to score.

But the game went back to form in the final quarter and with less than three minutes left in the battle Dunn reversed the hurling process. Orton was on the receiving end to rol lthrough with another six points from 58 yards out. The Tribe didn't watch the clock. Their last TD came with 10 seconds remaining. Orton passed two yards to Hilton Hanson who was waiting in the end zone.

The lineups:

TWO PROS TO PURSUE LAW

DETROIT, Nov. 9 (UP)—Halfback Don McIlhenny and fullback Bill Bowman of the Detroit Lions plan to pursue law careers after concluding their playing days in the National Football League.

LaSalle Trounces Many To Cop District Crown

MANY, La., Nov. 9 (Special)— The LaSalle High School Tigers of Olla collected their second straight district 1-A football championship here tonight as they closed out their conference schedule with a 28-0 triumph over the Many Tigers.

LaSalle scored a touchdown and extra point in every quarter in toppling Many, the last place club in the league. LaSalle is expected to meet the winner of the Tallulah-Ferriday game two weeks away in the first of their bi-district title playoffs.

Only this week LaSalle, in order to avoid prolonged activity while awaiting a playoff opponent, scheduled a game for next Thursday night with Washington High at Washington, Miss.

Bob Allbritton sent LaSalle into the lead tonight when he cracked over the middle from the three, and Buddy Boles kicked the first of his four straight conversions for the invaders.

A blocked Many punt, covered by end Charles Gilmore on the Many 20, set the stage for a second period touchdown, scored by Everett Brooks on an end run from the eight.

Allbritton went over again from the six in the third quarter, and Mike Gaines, who took over the quarterbacking from Brooks in the second half, counted the final TD on an option play.

Fumbles probably cost LaSalle at least two other touchdown .

Tallulah Thumps Lake Providence Panthers, 41-13

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Nov. 9 (Special) — The Tallulah Trojans, spearheaded by fullback Bobby Neumann and Wayne Hopkins, darkened the annual Lake Providence homecoming tonight by trouncing the Panthers, 41 to 13.

Neumann backed by the near-perfect, extra-point kicking of Hopkins scored three of the Trojans' T.D.s, while the Panthers scoring column was dominated by halfback Muirhead's two scoring jaunts.

Also figuring in the scoring for the Trojans were Hopkins and Scott, left halfback, and Yerger, right halfback.

Neumann's first t.d. came early in the first quarter on a short end run. Hopkins converted for the extra point and went on to kick four more during the course of the game.

Yerger in the first quarter also scored on a short right end run. Hopkins converted.

In the second quarter, Neumann added his second t.d. on a 28 yard run with Hopkins again kicking the extra point.

The Panthers' Muirhead kept the Lake Providence eleven in the running with a second quarter, seventy-yard kickoff return for a t.d. Rentz kicked the extra point.

The Trojans retaliated with another T.D. in the second quarter in the form of Hopkins who plunged over center from about the three-yard line. Again he converted.

In the third quarter, Neumann added his last T.D. of the night on a 68-yard broken-field run. Hopkins missed the extra point.

Scott, ended the scoring for the Trojans in the third quarter with his 27 yard jaunt around right end. Hopkins converted.

Ouachita Quintet In Semi-Finals Of Downsville Event

DOWNSVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) —Chatham and Choudrant clash while Farmerville and Ouachita meet in the semi-finals of the Downsville Tournament here tomorrow in the boys' division while Linville and Farmerville meet in the girls' bracket.

Downsville's own girls have advanced already into the finals of the tourney. Semi-final play starts at 1:30 p.m. with the finals beginning at 7:30 p.m.

In today's action, the Downsville girls advanced over Quitman, 49-39, while Linville was dropping Choudrant, 34-32.

The Lions of Ouachita defeated Downsville, 49-33; Chatham dropped Quitman, 41-27, and Choudrant beat Linville, 52-28.

High scorers in the girls game were Downsville's Hammonds, 18, Terrel, 15, and Hamilton, 14; Quitman's Norrel with 19 and Stagg, 16; Franklin of Linville with 24 and Pesnell and Dugdale of Choudrant with 12 each.

In the boys play, the high scorers included Tally of Ouachita with 11 and teammates Johnson and Deniton with 9 each; Sam Gulce scored 17 for Downsville; James Moore of Chatham with 20 and Duck with 14 from Quitman; Choudrant's Lowe with 25 and Linville's Cook with 7.

Jena Champions Hand Winnfield 25 To 6 Defeat

JENA, La., Nov. 9 (Special) —Jena's champion Giants closed out their regular season here tonight with a 25-6 victory over Winnfield before 2,000 fans in cold weather.

The home team racked up a four-touchdown lead and coasted to its eighth win of the year against a loss to Springhill and a tie with Ferriday.

The homecoming crowd watched nifty halfback Jimmy Aldridge start the scoring fireworks in the first period with a 2-yard plunge, after a 54 march.

Powerful fullback Jerome Owens —other half of the Giants scoring tandem—picked up his first tally of the evening in the second quarter when the Giants' forewall opened a hole for Owens who charged through and broke for the sidelines en route to a 58-yard touchdown. Richard Bridge made the extra point.

The Giants held for downs on their own 10 yard stripe later in the quarter. A 90-yard pass-run play from Tommy Thompson to Pat Drewett brought the third score.

After a scoreless third quarter, Owens hit paydirt again with a 17-yard burst off tackle in the fourth quarter. The drive covered 64 yards.

Winnfield's only score came in the fourth quarter when quarterback John Sherrington passed to Larry Gorham for one yard. The previous play the same combination had clicked for 57 yards, setting up the score.

BIRTHDAYS FOR REDLEGS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9 (UP)— Manager Birdie Tebbets and Coach Jimmy Dykes of the Cincinnati Redlegs both celebrate their birthday Saturday. Tebbetts is 47 and Dykes 60.

Delhi Bears End Season Defeating Winnsboro, 30-6

WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—The Delhi Bears, recently dethroned by Mangham as district 2-B football champions, closed out their season here tonight by thumping the Winnsboro Wildcats, 30-6, in a game that was conference for Delhi but not for the Class A 'Cats.

Fumbles paved the way for the first two Delhi touchdowns, and an intercepted pass accounted for another.

Winnsboro fumbled on the Wildcats' second play from scrimmage in the first quarter, and the Bears recovered on the Wildcat eight. The Bears drove to the three from where "Buster" Harrell fired a touchdown pass to George Brown in the end zone.

The Harrell - Brown pass combination clicked again in the second quarter after Delhi covered a Winnsboro fumble on the Wildcat nine. The ball was on the two when Harrell shot his payoff pass this time.

Brown got under another Harrel pass in the third period and scored on a play that covered 30 yards.

Winnsboro broke into the scoring early in the fourth quarter after downing a punt on their own 20. Quarterback Pete Moore fired a pass to Benny Wiggins who got loose for 70 yards before being hauled down from behind by Travis Richards on the Delhi ten. Moore went through the line the rest of the way.

Richards then intercepted a Winnsboro pass on his own 35 and went all the way for Delhi's fourth touchdown, and Harrell added the final TD when he skirted right end from the seven.

Delhi had six first downs, rushed for 147 yards, and completed five of 12 parishes for 86 yards. Winnsboro had seven firsts, rushed for 103, and completed five of 19 passes for 143 yards.

Indians Furnish Homecoming Foe For 'Cats Today

Coach Devone Payne leads his Northeast State Indians against Louisiana College at Pineville this afternoon in an attempt to spoil the Wildcats' homecoming and to gain victory No. 7 for the season. Kickoff time is 2 o'clock.

Crippled by injuries to three valuable backfield performers during the week, the Tribe's potent offense may be slack as halfbacks Aubrey Wade and Don Reynolds, and fullback Robert McGough may not perform at their peak.

A change in the starting Indian lineup is expected to give the Tribe a much needed lift after dropping last week's game to Northwestern, 24-7. Coach Payne has elected to insert Everett "Sleepy" Reynolds at the quarterback slot in his split-T machine. The Lewisville, Tex., product replaces Zeke Zametto who has shifted to left halfback.

Jimmy Berry worked his way back into the starting guard slot after being sidelined most of the season with an early injury. He is one of Northeast's top linemen and one of five seniors on the squad. He and Wade serve as co-captains.

An oddity of the game is the return of Coach Payne as a Louisiana College alumnus, an ex-Wildcat grid great and former coach seeking to defeat this Pineville eleven.

For the first time in several weeks Louisiana College is back at practically full strength. They have two records which they hope to continue by getting a Wildcat win. The Wildcats have won three games in a row and also they have captured their last two homecoming contests.

The Indians, a surprise offense power of the Gulf States Conference who lead in yards rushing with 246 per game, have star left half Wade nursing an injured back muscle. He is the conference's leading scorer with 58 points and paces the rushing department with 678 yards in 83 attempts.

Fullback McGough, a small but consistant plunger for the Tribe, is also nursing a back ailment. Don Reynolds, the man who usually replaces Wade, is hobbling with a torn leg muscle.

Wildcat Eugene Southern, the '55 All-G.S.C. halfback from Winnsboro, returned to action after a five-week absence due to injuries. Against S.L.I. last week he accounted for the amazing total of 274 yards and tallied twice.

Ruston Trounces Jonesboro-Hodge In 42-6 Contest

JONESBORO, La., Nov. 9 (Special) — Ruston's Bearcats swept to an easy 42-6 2-AA victory here tonight over the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, holding the local club scoreless until the final minute of play.

The Tigers' only moment of glory came with only a minute left in the game when Jimmy Golden went 22 yards to paydirt. It was Jonesboro's first touchdown against Ruston since 1953.

Ruston rode to victory behind the running of the state's fastest 100-yard dasher in Pat Garrett, who romped for touchdown on 78 yards and 5 yards respectively. He also added an extra point.

The Bearcats scored in the first quarter off Roland Jackson's four-yard plunge with Bud Alexander converting. They went on to a 28-0 halftime lead and added another seven points in each of the third and fourth quarters.

Both of Garrett's touchdowns came in the second period and John Murphy added more lust to Ruston's victory in the same quarter with a long, 69-yard run. Alexander kicked all three extra points.

Fullback Henson scored Ruston's tally in the third stanza and again Alexander split the uprights for the point after. His perfect five-for-five brought his season's average up to 87 per cent.

The visitors final score in the fourth was made by Joe Hinton, who went for six yards into the end zone. Garrett converted.

Central Cagers Trounce Ogden

DELHI, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—Central High swept both ends of a basketball double header over Odgen here tonight as the girls won 54-40 while the boys took the nightcap, 65-35.

High scores for Central in the girls' game was Florice Pepper with 28 points. Shelby Fain tallied 23 for Ogden in the same contest.

Travis Walker and Baker Boyd pitched in 15 points for Central in the boys' fray, but Ogden's E. B. Thompson captured the game's score with 17.

COLUMBIA, La., Nov. 9 (Special) — A homecoming crowd of nearly 1,000 chilly fans, including homecoming queen Faye Nichols, saw the Columbia Crimson Tide rack up a 27-20 win over Block High of Jonesville here tonight.

The Bears drew first blood in the second quarter when Roscoe Wilkins scored the first of his three touchdowns on a one-yard plunge which capped a 65-yard march. Thomas White made the extra point.

Columbia retaliated in the second quarter with a 35-yard scoring march which ended when Sam "Bubba" Henry carried the final 11 yards. Billy Kenney made the extra point, making the score 7-7 at the half.

The Tide went out in front in third quarter and was not to be headed again. Columbia recovered a Block fumble on the Bear 25 and moments later Claude Warner pounded the final seven yards for the score. Henry made the extra point.

The home boys scored twice in the final period, once when Kenneth Carr ran an intercepted pass back 80 yards and again when Warner bucked over from five yards out. Kenney made one extra point.

Wilson picked up the two final Block tallies on runs of 25 and 12 yards. He made one extra point.

The Tide's final game of the season will be played against Southside High of Monroe Wednesday night.

Score by quarters:

| Columbia | 0 | 7 | 7 | 13 | —27 |

Eros Basketeers Share Twin Bill With Weston Foe

EROS, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—In a twin bill played here last night, the Eros High school boys cage squad downed Weston High, 65 - 40, while the Weston girls trounced the Eros girls, 63-36.

High scorers for the Eros boys were Jerry Stuckey and Kenneth Spillers, who tallied 20 and 16 points respectively. High pointman for Weston was Jimmy Fitzpatrick with 12, followed by Joe Phillips with 11.

Late Crowville Drive Overhauls Waterproof, 12-7

CROWVILLE, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—Crowville and Waterproof battled scoreless into the third quarter here tonight before the local Bulldogs broke the game with two touchdowns to win, 12-7.

After a hard-fought first half, Crowville scored first on J. T. Johnson's 7-yard run. The Bulldogs scored again when Harold Ray Roberts threw to Bibby Joe Allen, a playing covering 15 yards.

PITT OUT TO KEEP RECORD

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9 (UP)—When Army visits the Pitt Stadium for the first time in 21 years next Saturday, the Pittsburgh football team will be out to preserve its record of never having lost to either service school on its home gridiron.

Sicily Islanders Barely Get Past Newellton, 20-19

Dean Wiggins grabbed the Tiger touchdowns tonight as he caught two scoring passes from Billy Wiggins good for 25 and 35 yards and made a spectacular 80 yard punt return pay off for six points.

Newellton touchdowns were accounted for by Sam Dushesne, who tallied from five and two yards out and snared a four-yard scoring pass. Bily Barfield garnered the Bears' only extra point.

The margin of victory was provided by extra points by Dean Wiggins and Reginald Wycoffe.

Bastrop Tumbles For Byrd Jackets In 27-6 Scramble

SHREVEPORT, Nov. 9 (Special) —The Bastrop Rams, despire the over-all play of quarterback Walt Patrick and halfback Larry Ryder, fell before the Byrd Yellow Jackets by a 27-6 score here tonight.

Both teams had trouble getting started in the first half and the game had moved into the second period before Jacket fullback Charles Peatross capped a 60 yard drive by blasting over from two yards out.

The lone Bastrop score came on a 45-yard run by Ryder in the final 40 seconds.

Byrd extended its 6-0 halftime lead in the third period with two touchdowns. After driving 63 yards to the Ram 8 where they were stopped, the Jackets came back twice more on drive of 52 and 51 yards.

Sonny Jacobs, tiny Byrd halfback, scored both third quarter TDs on runs of 1 and 22 yards. Pat Studstill had set up Jacobs' touchdown with a brilliant 29 yard run to the Ram 22.

The Byrd reserves closed the hometown scoring in the final period by marching 56 yards in 9 plays. Vaughn Evers scored the touchdown on a three yard plunge.

Redskins Tag Rebels, 37-6

By LEMMIE HIGHTOWER

An interesting homecoming show opened affairs at Brown Field last night but before the night was over the Fair Park Indians of Shreveport proved that they didn't hold the occasion to be too scared for the West Monroe Rebels whom they handed a 37-6 shellacking.

Miss Brinda Salter, a junior at WMHS, was crowned queen of the annual event by West Monroe Mayor Allen Norris and the entire homecoming court was escorted across the field before the returning "grads." But the Redskins were waiting on the sidelines just itching to spoil things —and they did, but good.

The Tribe needed seven minutes before they scored their first touchdown but once they had broken the scoring the first quarter was turned into a TD fest. Taking the ball on downs on their 48, halfback Eddie Dunn carried on three straight plays to finally plunge two yards for the initial Indian six-pointer.

The West Monroe organization fumbled the following kickoff on the Rebel 30 and the Redskins were ready to tally again. Fullback Scooter Henry galloped to the 14 and Dunn traveled off left tackle to complete the cash-in in only two plays.

Everyone on the Reb machine then buttered their hands in order to lose the ball again on the first play from scrimmage. This time the visitors wewre only 23 yards away from paydirt and needed only a single effort to mark their third score onto the record. It was Henry who elbowed his way through a slot inside left tackle and sputtered through a host of Rebel tacklers to the end zone.

Only seconds were left in the stanza when Dunn got away again on a pass from quarterback Jimmie Orton. The pitch and run covered 45 paces giving the Shreveporters a 25-6 lead at halftime.

With seconds and third string Indians playing in the third round o one could push far enough or long enough to score.

But the game went back to form in the final quarter and with less than three minutes left in the battle Dunn reversed the hurling process. Orton was on the receiving end to rol lthrough with another six points from 58 yards out. The Tribe didn't watch the clock. Their last TD came with 10 seconds remaining. Orton passed two yards to Hilton Hanson who was waiting in the end zone.

TWO PROS TO PURSUE LAW

DETROIT, Nov. 9 (UP)—Halfback Don McIlhenny and fullback Bill Bowman of the Detroit Lions plan to pursue law careers after concluding their playing days in the National Football League.

LaSalle Trounces Many To Cop District Crown

MANY, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—The LaSalle High School Tigers of Olla collected their second straight district 1-A football championship here tonight as they closed out their conference schedule with a 28-0 triumph over the Many Tigers.

LaSalle scored a touchdown and extra point in every quarter in toppling Many, the last place club in the league. LaSalle is expected to meet the winner of the Tallulah-Ferriday game two weeks away in the first of their bi-district title playoffs.

Only this week LaSalle, in order to avoid prolonged activity while awaiting a playoff opponent, scheduled a game for next Thursday night with Washington High at Washington, Miss.

Bob Allbritton sent LaSalle into the lead tonight when he cracked over the middle from the three, and Buddy Boles kicked the first of his four straight conversions for the invaders.

A blocked Many punt, covered by end Charles Gilmore on the Many 20, set the stage for a second period touchdown, scored by Everett Brooks on an end run from the eight.

Allbritton went over again from the six in the third quarter, and Mike Gaines, who took over the quarterbacking from Brooks in the second half, counted the final TD on an option play.

Fumbles probably cost LaSalle at least two other touchdown.

Tallulah Thumps Lake Providence Panthers, 41-13

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Nov. 9 (Special) — The Tallulah Trojans, spearheaded by fullback Bobby Neumann and Wayne Hopkins, darkened the annual Lake Providence homecoming tonight by trouncing the Panthers, 41 to 13.

Neumann backed by the near-perfect, extra-point kicking of Hopkins scored three of the Trojans' T.D.s, while the Panthers scoring column was dominated by halfback Muirhead's two scoring jaunts.

Also figuring in the scoring for the Trojans were Hopkins and Scott, left halfback, and Yerger, right halfback.

Neumann's first t.d. came early in the first quarter on a short end run. Hopkins converted for the extra point and went on to kick four more during the course of the game.

Yerger in the first quarter also scored on a short right end run. Hopkins converted.

In the second quarter, Neumann added his second t.d. on a 28 yard run with Hopkins again kicking the extra point.

The Panthers' Muirhead kept the Lake Providence eleven in the running with a second quarter, seventy-yard kickoff return for a t.d. Rentz kicked the extra point.

The Trojans retaliated with another T.D. in the second quarter in the form of Hopkins who plunged over center from about the three-yard line. Again he converted.

In the third quarter, Neumann added his last T.D. of the night on a 68-yard broken-field run. Hopkins missed the extra point.

Jena Champions Hand Winnfield 25 To 6 Defeat

JENA, La., Nov. 9 (Special) —Jena's champion Giants closed out their regular season here tonight with a 25-6 victory over Winnfield before 2,000 fans in cold weather.

The home team racked up a four-touchdown lead and coasted to its eighth win of the year against a lots to Springhill and a tie with Ferriday.

The homecoming crowd watched nifty halfback Jimmy Aldridge start the scoring fireworks in the first period with a 2-yard plunge, after a 54 march.

Powerful fullback Jerome Owens —other half of the Giants scoring tandem—picked up his first tally of the evening in the second quarter when the Giants' forewall opened a hole for Owens who charged through and broke for the sidelines en route to a 58-yard touchdown. Richard Bridge made the extra point.

The Giants held for downs on their own 10 yard stripe later in the quarter. A 90-yard pass-run play from Tommy Thompson to Pat Drewett brought the third score.

After a scoreless third quarter, Owens hit paydirt again with a 17-yard burst off tackle in the fourth quarter. The drive covered 64 yards.

Winnfield's only score came in the fourth quarter when quarterback John Sherrington passed to Larry Gorham for one yard. The previous play the same combination had clicked for 57 yards, setting up the score.

BIRTHDAYS FOR REDLEGS

Ouachita Quintet In Semi-Finals Of Downsville Event

DOWNSVILLE, Nov. 9 (Special) —Chatham and Choudrant clash while Farmerville and Ouachita meet in the semi-finals of the Downsville Tournament here tomorrow in the boys' division while Linville and Farmerville meet in the girls' bracket.

Downsville's own girls have advanced already into the finals of the tourney. Semi-final play starts at 1:30 p.m. with the finals beginning at 7:30 p.m.

In today's action, the Downsville girls advanced over Quitman, 48-39, while Linville was dropping Choudrant, 34-32.

High scorers in the girls game were Downsville's Hammonds, 18, Terrel, 15, and Hamilton, 14; Quitman's Norrel with 19 and Stagg, 16; Franklin of Linville with 24 and Pesnell and Dugdale of Choudrant with 12 each.

In the boys play, the high scorers included Tally of Ouachita with 11 and teammates Johnson and Deniton with 9 each; Sam Guice scored 17 for Downsville; James Moore of Chatham with 20 and Duck with 14 from Quitman; Choudrant's Lowe with 25 and Linville's Cook with 7.

Delhi Bears End Season Defeating Winnsboro, 30-6

WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 9 (Special)—The Delhi Bears, recently dethroned by Mangham as district 2-B football champions, closed out their season here tonight by thumping the Winnsboro Wildcats, 30-6, in a game that was conference for Delhi but not for the Class A 'Cats.

Fumbles paved the way for the first two Delhi touchdowns, and an intercepted pass accounted for another.

Winnsboro fumbled on the Wildcats' second play from scrimmage in the first quarter, and the Bears recovered on the Wildcat eight, The Bears drove to the three from where "Buster" Harrell fired a touchdown pass to George Brown in the end zone.

The Harrell - Brown pass combination clicked again in the second quarter after Delhi covered a Winnsboro fumble on the Wildcat nine. The ball was on the two when Harrell shot his payoff pass this time.

Brown got under another Harrel pass in the third period and scored on a play that covered 30 yards.

Winnsboro broke into the scoring early in the fourth quarter after downing a punt on their own 20. Quarterback Pete Moore fired a pass to Benny Wiggins who got loose for 70 yards before being hauled down from behind by Travis Richards on the Delhi ten. Moore went through the line the rest of the way.

Richards then intercepted a Winnsboro pass on his own 35 and went all the way for Delhi's fourth touchdown, and Harrell added the final TD when he skirted right end from the seven.

Delhi had six first downs, rushed for 147 yards, and completed five of 12 parishes for 86 yards. Winnsboro had seven firsts, rushed for 103, and completed five of 19 passes for 143 yards.

Bowl Bids In Balance On College Grids

Sugar Bowl Setting Cap For Vol-Jacket Winner

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (UP) — The winner of Saturday's titanic meeting between Georgia Tech and Tenessee in Atlanta, Ga., can have the host spot in the Sugar Bowl football classic here Jan. 1, if it wants it, sponsors of the event said Friday.

There was also a report Sugar Bowl officials might try to match the two in the event if Saturday's game ends in a tie. However, this was not confirmed.

"Sure we'll be after the winner of this game because it will be the nation's number one team," he said.

DeBlanc said it was too early to say who would be the other team in the game, but said "our choice certainly is not limited.

"Tech or Tennessee against Texas Christian, Rice, Baylor or Southern Methodist would make a game worth going miles to see," he said, adding that Texas A&M and Miami would be added to the list of eligible if NCAA penalties against the two are limited.

Texas A&M and Miami are also unbeaten, although each has been tied once. The Aggies are the current leaders in the Southwest Conference race and presumably would go to the Cotton Bowl if the NCAA ban is lifted at a meeting this weekend.

Both Georgia Tech and Tennessee are unbeaten and untied and Saturday's winner no doubt will be rated the best in the Southland and the unofficial champion of the Southeastern Conference.

"Both teams have great individual stars and, as we see it, this meeting tomorrow isn't just the game of the day or of the season — it's the game of the decade," said DeBlanc, who left here Friday with a delegation of Sugar Bowlers to watch the game.

"The winner will be the best team in any post-season game comes New Year's day."

DeBlanc said Tech has been to the Sugar Bowl four times and Tennessee three and they present the kind of football the fans like to see." The Yellow Jackets have yet to lose a post - season game under Coach Bobby Dodd.

There has been reports that Tech players might favor a Cotton Bowl invitation this season if they go any place.

The Sugar Bowl's field of selection is limited this year because a new Louisiana law which prohibits integrated athletic contests eliminates any Northern, Eastern or Western team.

TOGETHER AGAIN

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 9 (UP) —Ulysses (Tony) Lupien, new Dartmouth baseball coach, was a first baseman for the Detroit Tigers in 1948 when Robert (Red) Rolfe, now Dartmouth athletic director, took over as manager of the American League club.

Tenn., Georgia Tech Game Ranks As Tops For Card

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The college football season reaches a competitive peak Saturday when lucrative bowl bids hinge on victory or defeat for some of the nation's top powers.

The "game of the day," of course, takes place at Atlanta, Ga., where Georgia Tech and Tennessee, the Southeastern Conference's unbeaten and untied titans, clash. The victor is almost certain to be the Sugar Bowl's host team as well as Oklahoma's chief rival for the national championship.

Georgia Tech, the country's No. 2 team, is a six-point favorite on the basis of six straight victories in which it has outscored its opposition, 137-27. Underdog Tennessee, also shows a perfect 6-0 slate and has outscored its opposition, 188-54. The loser may wind up with an invitation to the Cotton Bowl as a "consolation prize."

Minnesota, unbeaten though tied, tries to strengthen its position as the Big Ten's most likely Rose Bowl representative in a nationally - televised encounter against Iowa.

First place in the Southwest Conference will be at stake when Texas A&M meets Southern Methodist in a game that could decide the Cotton Bowl's host team. The Aggies, 3-0 in the conference and 6-0-1 overall, are favored by seven over the twice-beaten Mustangs, who are 2-0 in the conference. The Aggies are barred from bowl competition by the NCAA on recruiting charges but hope a late decision may permit them to play.

Oklahoma shoots for No. 37 in a row against out-manned Iowa State while Colorado and Missouri clash in a game that figures to designate the Big Seven's Orange Bowl representative. Colorado, which put up a great fight before bowing to Oklahoma, 27-19, last Saturday has been tabbed no better than "even money" to whip four-times defeated Missouri. The Buffaloes are 4-1 in the conference and 5-2 overall.

Houston (3-2-1 overall) is favored over Tulsa (5-1-1) in their battle for first place in the Missouri Valley Conference and Arizona (Tempe) State (7-0-0) is a slight choice over Texas Western (6-1-0) in their tussle for first place in the Border Conference. These conference champions are bowl possibilities.

Duke is a six-point pick over Navy, Pittsburgh a 13-point favorite over Notre Dame, and LSU a seven-point choice over Oklahoma A&M, in three of the day's most attractive intersectional games.

Tickets To Lion, Tiger Battle Go On Sale Monday

Tickets for the Ouachita - Neville football game here next Friday night will go on sale Monday morning at 8 o'clock at Neville High, Ouachita Parish High, and McKenzie's Sports Shop, it was announced by school officials yesterday.

Gates at Brown Field will open Friday at 6:30 o'clock.

The fast development of the Ouachita gridders as evidenced by their performances in their last few games, plus the fact that it's a conference game for Neville's defending state Class AA champions has followers of both schools expecting probably the season's biggest crowd here.

Fat SEC Grid Program Led By Vols, Engineers

By MERCER BAILEY
The Associated Press

Tennessee and Georgia Tech, two sleek, swift football thoroughbreds, take to the turf Saturday in a contest that is to grid fans what the Nashua vs Swaps match was to the horse racing gentry.

Both the Vols and the Yellow Jackets have undisputed class and fierce partisan support. And the winner might well vault past Oklahoma and nail down the No. 1 spot among the nation's football giants.

Oldtimers say that never before have two such highly rated teams —Tech is No. 2 nationally, Tennessee No. 3 — met in regular season play, certainly not in Dixie.

Both risk perfect records. Tennessee has rolled past Auburn, Duke, Chattanooga, Alabama, Maryland and North Carolina. Tech has downed Kentucky, Southern Methodist, Louisiana State, Auburn, Tulane and Duke.

Tech, whose scheduled has been tougher and who boasts greater quality in depth, is favored by a touchdown. The Jackets have allowed their foes an average of only 4.5 points a game this season, which in itself is quite a challenge to the Vols, who have averaged 31.3 points per outing.

The winner, if there is one, will take solo possession of first place in the Southeastern Conference standings and establish itself as the fovarite among all the teams hoping for a post-season bowl trip. The loser won't be out of the running by a long shot, for each team still has three more foes to meet.

The championship picture isn't limietd to Tech and Tennessee. Florida, third in the standings with a 4-1 SEC mark, and Mississippi, with a 3-1 slate, could slip in if the others falter. And Ole Miss is bowl material, too, although the NCAA has decreed that Florida can't go bowling this time.

Florida continues its darkhorse stretch finish against Georgia's improved Bulldogs in Jacksonville and the Gators are favored by two touchdowns. Mississippi is rated much too good for Memphis State in Memphis.

Other weekend contests: Alabama at Tulane, Mississippi State at Auburn, Vanderbilt at Kentucky and Oklahoma A&M at Louisiana State at night. Kentucky, LSU and Auburn are favored by a touchdown by the professional oddsmakers; Tulane is a two-TD choice over 'Bama.

Georgia Tech over Tennessee: Tech hasn't seen anything like Johnny Majors, the Vols' hot All-America candidate, neither has Majors seen the likes of Tech's defense. And Tech has a lot of offense, too.

Vanderbilt over Kentucky: The Wildcats have home field and two fine tackles, Lou Michaels and J. T. Frankenberger, on their side, but we're looking to quarterback Don Orr and halfback Phil King for an upset.

Tulane over Alabama: But the oddsmakers may be overly generous giving the Crimson Tide 13 points despite the Greenie touchdown firm of Newton & Quillian.

Florida over Georgia: The Bulldogs won't roll over and play dead, but Florida has too much swift-striking power.

Louisiana State over Oklahoma A&M: The Tigers finally enter the winner's circle.

Mississippi over Memphis State: A mismatch in which the Rebels could improve on last week's 47-17 victory over LSU.

Louisiana State Frosh Cop 28-13 Football Victory

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP)—Louisiana State freshmen scored three times in the first half and held off a late rally to beat Mississippi State freshmen 28-13 today.

Quarterback Warren Rabb tossed a scoring pass to Johnny Robinson and Max Fugler and Don Purvis ran over the goal to send LSU to a 21-0 halftime lead.

LSU's final touchdown came when Billy Cannon went over from the two. Cannon made three conversions and Purvis one.

Brundage Reports Spain Will Come Back To Olympics

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said today that Spain will reconsider its withdrawal from the Olympic games. This was immediately denied in Madrid.

Brundage said he was informed by Otto Mayer, IOC chancellor, that Spanish officials tomorrow will re-study the country's announced intention of skipping the 1956 games which open Nov. 22. Mayer's office is at Lausanne, Switzerland.

However, Rafael Hernandez Coronado, secretary of the Spanish Sports Delegation, said in Madrid that his country still intends to boycott the Olympic games because of Russian participation. He said the decision was a government decision and would not be changed. The Spanish Olympic Committee will ratify the move at a meeting tomorrow, he added.

Brundage also pleaded for other quitting countries to get back into the big Melbourne show.

In all, six nation's have quit the games, including Spain, Switzerland, The Netherlands, Iraq, Red China and Egypt.

Brundage, who will leave for Melbourne Sunday, in a 96-word formal statement reiterated the disappointment of Olympic officials in the menacing of the Melbourne games by political hatreds. He likened the present Olympic situation to that before the 1936 games at Berlin. "We had to fight both sides—Nazi and anti-Nazi—and we did it successfully then," Brundage said.

Thomson Heads Australia Golf By Five Strokes

SYDNEY, Nov. 9 (UP)—British Open golf champion Peter Thomson of Australia went five strokes ahead of the field in the Pelaco international golf tournament Friday with a third round score of 68 and a 54-hole total of 203.

Thomson shot a record-breaking 66 in the opening round and a 69 Wednesday. His nearest rival after three rounds was Kel Nagle of Sydney with a 208 total.

Francis (Bo) Wininger of Oklahoma City had a 73 Friday for a total of 215 while George Bayer of Seattle, Wash., the other American in the field, had a 70 for an aggregate of 221.

Rebel Freshmen Tag Vandy Foes With 28-0 Loss

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Quarterback Bobby Franklin led freshmen to a 28-0 football win over the Vanderbilt yearlings here today.

Franklin scored one touchdown, passed for another and made three conversions.

The Rebels drove 65 yards for their first touchdown with fullback Ken Kirk smashing across from the two. With time running out at the half, Franklin threw a 16-yard pass to end Robert Owens in the end one.

Ole Miss added two more scores in the third period with Franklin sneaking across from the two and Thomas McCann bulling over, also from the two.

Japanese Pitcher Helps Brooks Win 5-4 In 11 Frames

TOKYO, Nov. 9 (AP)— A Japanese pitcher who "shook off" his manager and pitched to Jackie Robinson was responsible for today's 5-4 Brooklyn Dodger victory over the Yomiuri Giants.

American pitchers who disobey a manager's orders usually find themselves working elsewhere at the earliest opportunity. If Japanese baseball works the same way, Takehiko Bessho soon will be taking a hike to some other club.

Manager Nobuyasu Mizuhara, who obviously had read of Robinson's game-winning 10th inning single that gave Brooklyn the sixth World Series game 1-0, ordered his pitcher to walk Jackie.

Bessho shook off the sign. The Giants' catcher rushed to the mound. When the pitcher refused to follow instructions, the catcher ran to the dugout. After a hurried conference with Manager Mizuhara, he ran back to the mound. Still, no base on balls.

Jackie swung and the ball screamed to right center for the double that put the Dodgers ahead to stay. It made their record 11-4 with one tie in their exhibition tour.

"He shouldn't do such a thing," said Manager Mizuhara, sadly shaking his head. "I instructed him to walk Robinson intentionally but he insisted on going with Robinson."

Bowl Bids In Balance On College Grids

Sugar Bowl Setting Cap For Vol-Jacket Winner

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (UP) — The winner of Saturday's titanic meeting between Georgia Tech and Tenessee in Atlanta, Ga., can have the host spot in the Sugar Bowl football classic here Jan. 1, if it wants it, sponsors of the event said Friday.

There was also a report Sugar Bowl officials might try to match the two in the event if Saturday's game ends in a tie. However, this was not confirmed.

Paul E. DeBlanc, president of the Mid - Winter Sports Association which sponsors the Sugar Bowl weeklong carnival of sports here, made no bone about going after the winner of the game.

"Sure we'll be after the winner of this game because it will be the nation's number one team," he said.

DeBlanc said it was too early to say who would be the other team in the game, but said "our choice certainly is not limited.

"Tech or Tennessee against Texas Christian, Rice, Baylor or Southern Methodist would make a game worth going miles to see," he said, adding that Texas A&M and Miami would be added to the list of eligible if NCAA penalties against the two are limited.

Texas A&M and Miami are also unbeaten, although each has been tied once. The Aggies are the current leaders in the Southwest Conference race and presumably would go to the Cotton Bowl if the NCAA ban is lifted at a meeting this weekend.

Both Georgia Tech and Tennessee are unbeaten and untied and Saturday's winner no doubt will be rated the best in the Southland and the unofficial champion of the Southeastern Conference.

"Both teams have great individual stars and, as we see it, this meeting tomorrow isn't just the game of the day or of the season — it's the game of the decade," said DeBlanc, who left here Friday with a delegation of Sugar Bowlers to watch the game.

"The winner will be the best team in any post-season game comes New Year's day."

DeBlanc said Tech has been to the Sugar Bowl four times and Tennessee three and they present the kind of football the fans like to see." The Yellow Jackets have yet to lose a post - season game under Coach Bobby Dodd.

There has been reports that Tech players might favor a Cotton Bowl invitation this season if they go any place.

The Sugar Bowl's field of selection is limited this year because a new Louisiana law which prohibits integrated athletic contests eliminates any Northern, Eastern or Western team.

Tenn., Georgia Tech Game Ranks As Tops For Card

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The college football season reaches a competitive peak Saturday when lucrative bowl bids hinge on victory or defeat for some of the nation's top powers.

The "game of the day," of course, takes place at Atlanta, Ga., where Georgia Tech and Tennessee, the Southeastern Conference's unbeaten and untied titans, clash. The victor is almost certain to be the Sugar Bowl's host team as well as Oklahoma's chief rival for the national championship.

Georgia Tech, the country's No. 2 team, is a six-point favorite on the basis of six straight victories in which it has outscored its opposition, 137-27. Underdog Tennessee, also shows a perfect 6-0 slate and has outscored its opposition, 188-54. The loser may wind up with an invitation to the Cotton Bowl as a "consolation prize."

Minnesota, unbeaten though tied, tries to strengthen its position as the Big Ten's most likely Rose Bowl representative in a nationally - televised encounter against Iowa.

First place in the Southwest Conference will be at stake when Texas A&M meets Southern Methodist in a game that could decide the Cotton Bowl's host team. The Aggies, 3-0 in the conference and 6-0-1 overall, are favored by seven over the twice-beaten Mustangs, who are 2-0 in the conference. The Aggies are barred from bowl competition by the NCAA on recruiting charges but hope a late decision may permit them to play.

Oklahoma shoots for No. 37 in a row against out-manned Iowa State while Colorado and Missouri clash in a game that figures to designate the Big Seven's Orange Bowl representative. Colorado, which put up a great fight before bowing to Oklahoma, 27-19, last Saturday has been tabbed no better than "even money" to whip four-times defeated Missouri. The Buffalos are 4-1 in the conference and 5-2 overall.

Houston (3-2-1 overall) is favored over Tulsa (5-1-1) in their battle for first place in the Missouri Valley Conference and Arizona (Tempe) State (7-0-0) is a slight choice over Texas Western (6-1-0) in their tussle for first place in the Border Conference. These conference champions are bowl possibilities.

Duke is a six-point pick over Navy, Pittsburgh a 13-point favorite over Notre Dame, and LSU a seven-point choice over Oklahoma A&M, in three of the day's most attractive intersectional games.

Japanese Pitcher Helps Brooks Win 5-4 In 11 Frames

TOKYO, Nov. 9 (AP)— A Japanese pitcher who "shook off" his manager and pitched to Jackie Robinson was responsible for today's 5-4 Brooklyn Dodger victory over the Yomiuri Giants.

American pitchers who disobey a manager's orders usually find themselves working elsewhere at the earliest opportunity. If Japanese baseball works the same way, Takehiko Bessho soon will be taking a hike to some other club.

The Dodgers were locked in a 4-4 tie in the 11th when Robinson, their best clutch hitter, came to bat with Junior Gilliam on second.

Manager Nobuyasu Mizuhara, who obviously had read of Robinson's game-winning 10th inning single that gave Brooklyn the sixth World Series game 1-0, ordered his pitcher to walk Jackie.

Bessho shook off the sign. The Giants' catcher rushed to the mound. When the pitcher refused to follow instructions, the catcher ran to the dugout. After a hurried conference with Manager Mizuhara, he ran back to the mound. Still, no base on balls.

Jackie swung and the ball screamed to right center for the double that put the Dodgers ahead to stay. It made their record 11-4 with one tie in their exhibition tour.

"He shouldn't do such a thing," said Manager Mizuhara, sadly shaking his head. "I instructed him to walk Robinson intentionally but he insisted on going with Robinson."

Sigmund Weil Is Sentenced To 30 Years At Angola

Sigmund Weil, 48-year-old New Orleans man, convicted earlier this week of staging the armed robbery of the West Monroe First National Bank on August 9, was sentenced to 30 years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Weil was sentenced to 15 years on two counts of robbery placed against him in the West Monroe bank robbery, the Twin Cities first.

In other action Judge Heard sentenced Charles Barker to two years in the state prison on each of three counts of theft.

The sentences will run concurrently.

Barker was returned from Natchitoches after being arrested on information supplied by the Monroe police department. He was charged with forging checks and cashing them in local businesses.

Beatrice Underwood, Monroe woman, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on each of nine counts of forgery.

James Cotton pleaded guilty to simple battery and received a two year jail sentence.

Jesse Butcher, 23, and James B. Dawkins, 20 Monroe Negroes, were sentenced to four years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary on charges of simple robbery.

Both were found guilty in Thursday's court action of the $60 robbery of Lee Costin, another Negro, here on February 29.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Moore Scheduled Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Christine Kellogg Moore, 72, who died early Friday morning, will be held 2 p.m. Saturday in the Mulhearn Funeral chapel with Rev. Wayne Gray officiating, assisted by Rev. W. H. McFadden.

Interment will follow in the Riverview Burial Park.

Mrs. Moore had been a resident of Monroe for more than 30 years, and was the sister of two of the most prominent business men of the Twin Cities, Walter Kellogg and R. D. Kellogg.

She was a member of the Covenant Presbyterian Church and of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She had a wide circle of friends.

Survivors include two sons, Keith Moore and James W. Moore, both of Monroe; three sisters, Mrs. E. A. Klatt of Wisconsin, Miss Louise Kellogg and Mrs. Rhoda Kellogg, both of Calif.; eight grandchildren, Jane, Sally, Doll, Richard, Mary Ann, Margaret, James, and Christine Moore, all of Monroe.

Pallbearers are Thomas Leigh, O. R. Lewis, Burt Sperry, George Miller, David I. Garrett, Jr., Robert Easterling, Darwin Nichols, and Thomas King.

Eighteen powers have agreed to the United Nation protocol limiting the production and trade of opuim. To come into force the protocol must be ratified by 25 countries.

Monroe Truck Driver Injured

Bobby Johnson, Monroe bread truck driver, was listed as "not serious" in the St. Francis last night following a 2:35 p.m. two-truck crack-up on Cypress street in West Monroe.

Johnson, according to the investigating West Monroe police, ran into the rear of another truck which had stopped in a line of traffic. Driver of the second vehicle was Harold Connell, 31, 321 Peggy Drive, Carthage, Tex.

The injured man was taken by a Kilpatrick ambulance to the St. Francis with severe cuts of the scalp and minor cuts and bruises about the body. The Texas man was not injured.

Both drivers were headed east at the time of the accident.

Polio Season In Ouachita Appears To Have Passed

With more than a month having passed since the last case of polio was reported in Ouachita parish, Dr. W. C. Summer, director of the parish health unit, last night expressed hope that the polio season had run its course for 1956.

The last case was reported on Oct. 4. It was the 17th this year, seven of which have been of the non-paralytic type polio.

Polio's most dangerous season is from spring to fall. However, Dr. Summer pointed out that in 1954 two cases were reported in November when the disease is generally in abatement.

Dr. Summer urged parents to bring their children in for polio vaccinations. "Although this isn't the polio season, it is a good time to get the injection series taken care of," he said, warning that "mothers who bring children in for shots in the spring may unfortunately find that it is already too late for the vaccine to be of use to the child."

The local unit will continue giving the injections throughout the year, according to Dr. Summer.

State Troopers Win 1st Place In Pistol Match Here

The Louisiana State Police quick-draw, hip-shooting team swept into first place of a state-wide contest here Thursday afternoon with an aggregate score of 335.5.

The Monroe police department came in second with a score of 320.5.

Taking high in the individual class of hip-shooting was Trooper James C. Martin, member of Troop "F" in Monroe. He fired a 88 out of a possible 89.

The other teams, in order of their score, who competed were Alexandria police department, New Orleans police department, Ouachita parish sheriff's department, West Monroe police department, Bastrop police department and Morehouse parish sheriff's department.

Taking second place honors in the individual shooting was James L. Bryant, with a score of 87 out of a possible 89; and P. Aestlecher, Alexandria policeman with 86.

Knowland Predicts Both Parties Face Troubles In New Session Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (UP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said Friday that neither the Republicans nor Democrats can expect to have their own way in the new Democratically - controlled 85th Congress.

He noted that the Democrats will control the new Senate by a vote of 49 to 47 — the same majority they held in the last Congress — and the House by a somewhat more substantial majority.

He declined to speculate why the Republicans failed to win control of Congress while President Eisenhower was defeating his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, by one of the biggest landslides in history.

But he indicated he does not believe the Democrats automatically will be able to say what bills do, or do not, go through the House and Senate.

Knowland said that in the Senate at least, the Democratic margin "is so narrow that there is going to have to be coordinaion between the leadership to get anything done."

As for relations between Mr. Eisenhower and the Democratic Congress, he said, "the government is going to function — the situation may be unprecedented in our time, but we're going to have to live with it."

Knowland expressed belief that Congress will function "pretty much" as it has in the past two years when the Democrats held majorities about equal to those they will hold when Congress reconvenes on Jan. 3.

In the last Congress, the Democrats generally went along with Mr. Eisenhower on foreign policy. Major GOP-Democratic clashes have been over tax legislation, farm prices and other domestic issues.

But Mr. Eisenhower's personal prestige, enhanced by the tremendous popular vote he received on Tuesday, may encourage bipartisan cooperation on his new domestic legislative program, at least in the first few months of the next session.

With less than two per cent of the nation's voting precincts still unreported the latest United Press tabulation of last Tuesday's election gave Mr. Eisenhower 34,784,661 votes to Stevenson's 25,499,160.

The Democrats narrow 49-47 margin in the Senate was confirmed by the concession of Senate Democratic Whip Earle C. Clements of Kentucky. He was defeated for reelection by Republican Thruston B. Morton.

Clements' defeat will force a shake-up in the Democratic high-command in the Senate. As party whip, the Kentuckian acted as the No. 2 man to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson was expected to have the major voice in the selection of Clements' successor.

British Regroup Forces In Mid-East Operations

LONDON, Nov. 9 (UP) —Britain announced a re-grouping of its Middle East air force Friday amid official reports that ultra-modern jet planes of unknown nationality have been spotted in "great numbers" on Syrian and Saudi Arabian airfields.

British Prime Minister Anthony Eden said Britain is pulling back "many" of its air units from the eastern Mediterranean. But he warned they could be sent back into the area "in a matter of hours."

Eden also said the Anglo-French invasion forces would turn over the Suez Canal zone to a UN-sponsored international police army as soon as such a force is ready to operate effectively. He said it is essential the UN force be organized "with the utmost urgency."

A foreign office spokesman firmly refused to comment on the reports. But a French Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference that "some dozens" of the most modern jet aircraft had been sighted on airfields in two of Egypt's Middle East allies — Syria and Saudi Arabia.

"It is a fact that these planes do not belong to either the Syrians or the Saudi Arabians," the French spokesman said.

He said the jets were either Egyptian planes that escaped the massive Anglo-French bombardments or were aircraft "sent in by a foreign power for unknown motives."

"It is also not impossible that the Soviet Union has sent volunteers to Syria and Saudi Arabia to aid them in case of need," the spokesman said.

Nasser Denie Air Force Lost

Some reports said the Russians were ferrying planes into the Middle East to replace those destroyed by British and French air attacks.

An Israeli radio reports said a "large number" of Soviet technicians entered Syria recently.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, in a speech, derided British and French claims to have destroyed the Soviet - equipped Egyptian air force as "mere imagination." He said the planes claimed destroyed on the ground were "wooden dummies."

Nasser warned that as long as "one single foreign soldier" remains on Egyptian soil the Suez Canal will remain blocked. He declared Egypt is striving "by all means to avert the ordeal of a world war but this will never be at the expense of our sovereignty and independence."

Nasser said: "Two great powers are with us — Russia, which threatened Britain and France and America, which opposed their aggression."

Ft. Worth Police Officer Assaulted, Shot By Motorist

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 9 (UP)—A Fort Worth motorcycle officer was carried to a hospital in critical condition late Friday and witnesses said he was shot and run over when he attempted to give a speeding ticket.

Detective Sgt. T. M. Woods said an Arlington, Tex., man in his 30s was arrested after a chase across town from a northside drive - in cafe.

Woods said Kelliher stopped the man for speeding in a green pick-up truck. Woods said Kelliher was shot in the left shoulder and then hit again as he spun to the ground. Witnesses said the truck backed over the officer's body, shifted gears, ran over him again and sped away.

Sgt. Melvin Moore of the sheriff's office said this is what he heard over the police radio:

"Having trouble; send help." Moore said a second unit also asked for help, then said, "He's been shot."

Roadblocks were set up after a description of the green pickup was received, but the second police unit caught the truck after a high-speed chase.

Detective woods said charges were not immediately filed against the suspect because of the grave condition of Kelliher.

National Legion Commander Sees No War Danger

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP)—W. C. (Dan) Daniel, national commander of the American Legion, said today no war looms for the United States either in the Middle East or directly with Russia despite dangers in the current world situation.

Daniel, Danville, Va., manufacturing executive, arrived here for the national Veterans' Day observation here Sunday. He recently headed a Legion 'team" sent to Europe and the Middle East to study foreign affairs. Daniel said he was one of the last Americans to leave Egypt before the outbreak of hostilities.

The British and French erred, he said, in using military force because Egypt's Abdel Gamel Nasser would have crumbled in six months anyway and the Suez Canal would have been reopened.

Nasser, he said, was a fanatical dictator, "captivated by his own thinking" that he is the savior of the Arab world.

"The (United States) administration's policy of hands-off is right," he said. "Nasser had to be stopped, and that is why Israel's action was necessary. But now Nasser is through."

Nasser wouldn't have seized the canal but for the backing he received from Russia, Daniel said.

He said the United States would find it "difficult to propose anything short of war" in attempting to intervene in the Hungarian uprising against Russia. The "gangsters of the Kremlin now have the upper hand," he said.

He favored U. S. aid to the Hungarian refugees and help for those remaining in Hungary with food and clothing.

A United Nations police force in Hungary to guarantee free elections would be desirable, he said, "but I don't think such a force could get in."

There always will be a division between Russia and the United States, he said, but "I don't think Russia believes she can beat the United States on the field of battle."

hours in the richly carpeted mosque of the thousand-year-old university where the highest Moslem culture has been nurtured down through the centuries. It was broadcast to all Egypt.

Nasser solemnly told the Egyptians:

"Two big countries were with us—Russia, which threatened, and America, which denounced aggression."

Nasser said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention. That was last Monday.

"I informed the American President about Egypt's stand and I asked him to explain America's position," Nasser said.

"I understood that the American President was opposed to aggression and that America was working to nullify aggression and stop barbaric acts."

Anti Russian

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the U.N. Charter distinguishes between right and wrong.

"The U.N. never was intended to be a mere sordid cockpit in which the values of the criminal and the values of the law-abiding were indiscriminately scrambled up. ... There cannot be a double standard of international morality in the world."

The five-power resolution called on Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary "without further delay." It also called for free elections in Hungary.

Delegate after delegate poured fire and scorn on the Russians today. Soviet actions in the stricken nation were characterized as "bestiality, . . . horrifying callousness . . . massacre . . . sickening spectacle."

At one point, during a particularly sharp attack, Russia's permanent delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, rose and left the chamber. The other Russian representatives however, sat listening with stony indifference, or busied themselves with documents on the desk.

"The Soviet Union has already paid an immense price for this bullying of a defenseless people," Lodge said. "We must not let the memory of this outrage die."

Describing conditions in Hungary, he said:

"Hospitals are ablaze. Red Cross units have been attacked. Other Red Cross activities have been halted on Soviet orders. Such interference with the flow of medical aid—of all things—is proof of a horrifying callousness to human suffering."

He then read the U.S. resolution and asked for quick adoption of it.

The U.N. has set machinery in motion to help the Hungarians, Lodge said and pleaded that it be given a chance to work.

States Rights Leader Vows 4-Year Campaign

Is the States Rights splinter party a phenomenon that bursts forth once every four years at presidential election time and then recedes into darkness until the hot floodlights of the national campaign beckon it forth again into the political arena?

Will this party which garnered more than 42,000 Louisiana votes Tuesday serve only a protest purpose in politics and winter away to nothingness until its adherents feel it is time once again to protest-urobably in the 1960 presidential campaign?

Not if its party leaders can prevent it, they say.

Vaughn Phelps, local chairman of the states - rights party, answered those thorny questions last night when he declared plans were afoot to make the states-rights party which is concerned about the future and welfare of America and its constitutional liberties."

In anwer to a reporter's query if the states rights party would die in 1956 as it did after the 1948 election which saw a Thurmond-Wright ticket pocket electoral vote Phelps replied:

"The activities of the states rights movement will be continued so that four years from now and possibly sooner we will be in a position where people will recognize us as an essential element of the two-party system."

Actual plans will be forthcoming within the next few weeks and will be given to the public through the different news media, Phelps said.

Phelps was "encouraged and pleased" with the results in the Fifth Congressional District, where the States-Rights ticket of Andrews and Werdell polled 13,644 votes, only 819 less than the Democrats.

The ticket carried five parishes—West Carroll, Madison, Richland, Tensas and Caldwell, according to complete but unofficial returns.

Phelps said this was a "good showing," since "we had only about six weeks in which to work and get our program and principals to the people."

Attributing the loss of many votes to the Republicans to "the fact that people were voting for what they considered the more conservative of the two old parties," Phelps asserted that his party would pick up strength as time went along.

"We have not been trying to establish a third party," denied Phelps. "We are striving to become recognized as a second party which offers the people something different from that of the old parties which look more and more alike each day."

He asserted that the Tuesday election results in which a Republican president and a Democratic Congress were elected indicated that the people were "voting for the man since the two parties were so much alike."

The States - Rights movement for the past eight years has attracted some of the ultra-conservatives of both parties. Whether in the future it can reach into the ranks of both major parties and pluck out the disaffected but heretofore faithful partisans is problematical.

What about the future in Louisiana?

Phelps answered the reporter's question by affirming that "the proper procedure for legally chartering the party in Louisiana is now being investigated."

"The party won't die on the vine if we can help it," answered Phelps.

Soviet Foreign Office Takes Slap At U. S., France

It returned to them "unreceived" the cards of congratulation which the two ambassadors, according to their embassies' diplomatic custom, had sent on the Soviet Union's national holiday—Nov. 7, which is the anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Along with the returned cards of felicitation were diplomatic notes claiming the cards had been rejected because the attitudes of the two ambassadors, Charles E. Bohlen and Maurice Dejean, did not correspond to the sentiments expressed on the cards.

Bohlen and Dejean, along with representatives of most other NATO countries, stayed away from the annual Red Square parade Nov. 6 and the Kremlin reception on Nov. 7 as a protest against the Soviet Union's intervention in Hungary.

Fabulous Manziel

sparring partner for Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion; sports writer, and restaurant operator during his years of struggle, and became banker, hotel operator, financier, owner of thoroughbred horses and multi-millionaire after his oil strikes in the east Texas fields in the 1930s.

Manziel often recalled that he became interested in sports as a kid while shining shoes, selling peanuts and newspapers around sports arenas of Fort Smith, Ark. As a young man he turned to boxing and became a well known lightweight and friend of Jack Dempsey when the latter was making his climb to the world's heavyweight championship. Although Dempsey had heavyweights as sparmates for rugged work, Manziel was a sparring partner to give the old champion work against speed and skill.

Leaving the ring, Manziel returned to Fort Smith, Ark., as a sports writer for the Fort Smith newspaper, and later began promoting wrestling and boxing there. He briefly promoted sports events and operated a cafe at El Dorado, Ark., before coming to Monroe in the late 1920s. He operated the old Baltimore Marble, one of Monroe's swankiest restaurants of the day, on St. John street while promoting wrestling or boxing here once a week. During the depression of the late '20s and early '30s he almost went broke and was operating a smaller cafe on St. John then the Baltimore Marble when he finally heeded the lure of Texas oil, and left Monroe to make his millions.

A few Monroe friends helped Manziel in his Texas venture, but his biggest assist came from his old friend, Dempsey who contributed a sizeable chunk of cash which Dempsey was later to claim as the "most profitable investment" of his life, largely because Manziel "cut him in" as a partner in his expanding oil empire.

Dempsey was also Manziel's partner in construction of a mammoth sports coliseum at Tyler, designed to seat 22,000 persons. The coliseum, biggest air-conditioned sports arena in the world, is scheduled to open next year with Elvis Presley and other top figures of the show business already slated to be on hand for the formal opening.

Opera - type seats for the sports palace were bought from the big arena in Chicago after they were used there last summer for the Democratic national convention.

Manziel was a director of the First National Bank at Quitman, Tex., and the Lindale State Bank; he owned hotels at Marshall and San Bonita, Tex.; he was an organizer of the Cedars of Lebanon and a past president of that organization; he was vice president and a member of the executive commitee and board of directors of the Southern Federation of Syrian - American Lebanon Clubs, and was a member of the Elks, Willowbrooks Country Club and Optimist Club of Tyler, and a member of various petroleum industry clubs.

Texans says it is doubtful if any "wildcatter" ever opened as many new fields as Manziel, who, most of the time, acted as his own geologist. Certainly, he was foremost in the oil production of east Texas where he opened the last nine fields, and he named his fields after members of his family.

Manziel put down wells that brought east Texas oil production closer to Gladewater in the early 1930s, and soon after reentered the newspaper field when he established the Gladewater Tribune, and made its first issue the largest ever published in that city.

National Legion Commander Sees No War Danger

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP)—W. C. (Dan) Daniel, national commander of the American Legion, said today no war looms for the United States either in the Middle East or directly with Russia despite dangers in the current world situation.

Daniel, Danville, Va., manufacturing executive, arrived here for the national Veterans' Day observation here Sunday. He recently headed a Legion "team" sent to Europe and the Middle East to study foreign affairs. Daniel said he was one of the last Americans to leave Egypt before the outbreak of hostilities.

He termed the Middle East trouble "a sideshow we shouldn't get into."

The British and French erred, he said, in using military force because Egypt's Abdel Gamel Nasser would have crumbled in six months anyway and the Suez Canal would have been reopened.

Nasser, he said, was a fanatical dictator, "captivated by his own thinking" that he is the savior of the Arab world.

"The (United States) administration's policy of hands-off is right," he said. "Nasser had to be stopped, and that is why Israel's action was necessary. But now Nasser is through."

Nasser wouldn't have seized the canal but for the backing he received from Russia, Daniel said.

He said the United States would find it "difficult to propose anything short of war" in attempting to intervene in the Hungarian uprising against Russia. The "gangsters of the Kremlin now have the upper hand," he said.

He favored U. S. aid to the Hungarian refugees and help for those remaining in Hungary with food and clothing.

A United Nations police force in Hungary to guarantee free elections would be desirable, he said, "but I don't think such a force could get in."

There always will be a division between Russia and the United States, he said, but "I don't think Russia believes she can beat the United States on the field of battle."

Nasser Credits

hours in the richly carpeted mosque of the thousand-year-old university where the highest Moslem culture has been nurtured down through the centuries. It was broadcast to all Egypt.

Nasser solemnly told the Egyptians:

"Two big countries were with us—Russia, which threatened, and America, which denounced aggression."

Nasser said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention. That was last Monday.

"I informed the American President about Egypt's stand and I asked him to explain America's position," Nasser said.

"I understood that the American President was opposed to aggression and that America was working to nullify aggression and stop barbaric acts."

Anti Russian

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the U.N. Charter distinguishes between right and wrong.

"The U.N. never was intended to be a mere sordid cockpit in which the values of the criminal and the values of the law-abiding were indiscriminately scrambled up. . . . There cannot be a double standard of international morality in the world."

The five-power resolution called on Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary "without further delay." It also called for free elections in Hungary.

Delegate after delegate poured fire and scorn on the Russians today. Soviet actions in the stricken nation were characterized as "bestiality, . . . horrifying callousness . . . massacre . . . sickening spectacle."

At one point, during a particularly sharp attack, Russia's permanent delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, rose and left the chamber. The other Russian representatives however, sat listening with stony indifference, or busied themselves with documents on the desk.

"The Soviet Union has already paid an immense price for this bullying of a defenseless people," Lodge said. "We must not let the memory of this outrage die."

Describing conditions in Hungary, he said:

"Hospitals are ablaze. Red Cross units have been attacked. Other Red Cross activities have been halted on Soviet orders. Such interference with the flow of medical aid—of all things—is proof of a horrifying callousness to human suffering."

He then read the U.S. resolution and asked for quick adoption of it.

The U.N. has set machinery in motion to help the Hungarians, Lodge said and pleaded that it be given a chance to work.

Will this party which garnered more than 42,000 Louisiana votes Tuesday serve only a protest purpose in politics and winter away to nothingness until its adherents feel it is time once again to protest-urobably in the 1960 presidential campaign?

Not if its party leaders can prevent it, they say.

Vaughn Phelps, local chairman of the states - rights party, answered those thorny questions last night when he declared plans were afoot to make the states-rights party which is concerned about the future and welfare of America and its constitutional liberties."

In anwer to a reporter's query if the states rights party would die in 1956 as it did after the 1948 election which saw a Thurmond-Wright ticket pocket electoral vote Phelps replied:

"The activities of the states rights movement will be continued so that four years from now and possibly sooner we will be in a position where people will recognize us as an essential element of the two-party system."

Actual plans will be forthcoming within the next few weeks and will be given to the public through the different news media, Phelps said.

Phelps was "encouraged and pleased" with the results in the Fifth Congressional District, where the States-Rights ticket of Andrews and Werdell polled 13,644 votes, only 819 less than the Democrats.

The ticket carried five parishes—West Carroll, Madison, Richland, Tensas and Caldwell, according to complete but unofficial returns.

Phelps said this was a "good showing," since "we had only about six weeks in which to work and get our program and principals to the people."

Attributing the loss of many votes to the Republicans to "the fact that people were voting for what they considered the more conservative of the two old parties," Phelps asserted that his party would pick up strength as time went along.

"We have not been trying to establish a third party," denied Phelps. "We are striving to become recognized as a second party which offers the people something different from that of the old parties which look more and more alike each day."

He asserted that the Tuesday election results in which a Republican president and a Democratic Congress were elected indicated that the people were "voting for the man since the two parties were so much alike."

The States - Rights movement for the past eight years has attracted some of the ultra-conservatives of both parties. Whether in the future it can reach into the ranks of both major parties and pluck out the disaffected but heretofore faithful partisans is problematical.

What about the future in Louisiana?

Phelps answered the reporter's question by affirming that "the proper procedure for legally chartering the party in Louisiana is now being investigated."

"The party won't die on the vine if we can help it," answered Phelps.

sparring partner for Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion; sports writer, and restaurant operator during his years of struggle, and became banker, hotel operator, financier, owner of thoroughbred horses and multi-millionaire after his oil strikes in the east Texas fields in the 1930s.

Manziel often recalled that he became interested in sports as a kid while shining shoes, selling peanuts and newspapers around sports arenas of Fort Smith, Ark. As a young man he turned to boxing and became a well known lightweight and friend of Jack Dempsey when the latter was making his climb to the world's heavyweight championship. Although Dempsey had heavyweights as sparmates for rugged work, Manziel was a sparring partner to give the old champion work against speed and skill.

Leaving the ring, Manziel returned to Fort Smith, Ark., as a sports writer for the Fort Smith newspaper, and later began promoting wrestling and boxing there. He briefly promoted sports events and operated a cafe at El Dorado, Ark., before coming to Monroe in the late 1920s. He operated the old Baltimore Marble, one of Monroe's swankiest restaurants of the day, on St. John street while promoting wrestling or boxing here once a week. During the depression of the late '20s and early '30s he almost went broke and was operating a smaller cafe on St. John then the Baltimore Marble when he finally heeded the lure of Texas oil, and left Monroe to make his millions.

A few Monroe friends helped Manziel in his Texas venture, but his biggest assist came from his old friend, Dempsey who contributed a sizeable chunk of cash which Dempsey was later to claim as the "most profitable investment" of his life, largely because Manziel "cut him in" as a partner in his expanding oil empire.

Dempsey was also Manziel's partner in construction of a mammoth sports coliseum at Tyler, designed to seat 22,000 persons. The coliseum, biggest air-conditioned sports arena in the world, is scheduled to open next year with Elvis Presley and other top figures of the show business already slated to be on hand for the formal opening.

Opera - type seats for the sports palace were bought from the big arena in Chicago after they were used there last summer for the Democratic national convention.

Manziel was a director of the First National Bank at Quitman, Tex., and the Lindale State Bank; he owned hotels at Marshall and San Bonita, Tex.; he was an organizer of the Cedars of Lebanon and a past president of that organization; he was vice president and a member of the executive commitee and board of directors of the Southern Federation of Syrian - American Lebanon Clubs, and was a member of the Elks, Willowbrooks Country Club and Optimist Club of Tyler, and a member of various petroleum industry clubs.

Texans says it is doubtful if any "wildcatter" ever opened as many new fields as Manziel, who, most of the time, acted as his own geologist. Certainly, he was foremost in the oil production of east Texas where he opened the last nine fields, and he named his fields after members of his family.

Manziel put down wells that brought east Texas oil production closer to Gladewater in the early 1930s, and soon after reentered the newspaper field when he established the Gladewater Tribune, and made its first issue the largest ever published in that city.

Only recently, Manziel had filed for a charter to open a new state bank in Tyler.

Soviet Foreign Office Takes Slap At U. S., France

It returned to them "unreceived" the cards of congratulation which the two ambassadors, according to their embassies' diplomatic custom, had sent on the Soviet Union's national holiday—Nov. 7, which is the anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Along with the returned cards of felicitation were diplomatic notes claiming the cards had been rejected because the attitudes of the two ambassadors, Charles E. Bohlen and Maurice Dejean, did not correspond to the sentiments expressed on the cards.

Bohlen and Dejean, along with representatives of most other NATO countries, stayed away from the annual Red Square parade Nov. 6 and the Kremlin reception on Nov. 7 as a protest against the Soviet Union's intervention in Hungary.

Miscellany

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP) — A gravel-sand mixing machine today crushed to death Peter J. Sciortino, 65, an employe of the city streets department and retired policeman.

Witnesses told police a fly-wheel on the machine caught Sciortino's arm and snatched him into the machine at a maintenance plant.

LONDON (AP) — The Communist Daily Worker has announced its political cartoonist has quit because he "profoundly disagrees" with the organ's support of the Soviet action in Hungary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today called a meeting of its executive committee for Nov. 26-27 in Washington.

Committee members include Camille F. Gravel Jr., of Alexandria, La.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The government was asked by Public Health officers today to continue its financial participation in the polio vaccine program for another year.

The federal program is scheduled to end June 30, 1957. The Association of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States recommended to the U.S. Public Health Service that the government continue its financial participation for a year beyond that date.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—A crewman fell overboard and drowned as the towboat Sarah Kate was maneuvering longside a refueling barge at the Mississippi River waterfront today.

He was identified as Edward Lucas of Rayville, La., an oiler aboard the Sarah Kate, owned by the Canal Barge Co. of New Orleans. The body was recovered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—Keith Webster Reavis, vice president of the Jefferson Island Salt Co., died here today shortly after a heart attack. He was 55.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9 (AP) — The Louisiana Conference of Juvenile Correctional Workers today elected Paul Gross of New Orleans president.

ROMANCE WITH TOURIST IS JUST PLEASANT INTERLUDE

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 17 and very much in love with a boy from abroad who is here on a visit. He's asked me to marry him but there would be considerable delay as he's going home in two weeks. Do you think I should pledge myself to him?
Pearl

DEAR PEARL: The young man has had a very enjoyable visit here, complete with an American girl falling in love with him. End of chapter. Don't look for a sequel.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in love with a married man and what worries me is that I have broken one of the Lord's Commandments. I don't see how I can give him up, but if you think I should, I will.

DEAR S.L.: Your conscience seems to be in good working order. Why do you need outside advice? To atone for a wrong, and keep peace with God, we must do three things: admit the sin, make what atonement or restitution we can, and resolve to do better in the future. You have already accomplished the first. Now, restore the man to his wife and leave him alone. You'll feel better.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Allen is a wonderful husband to whom I have been married two years. I'm not happy, however, as we do not get along sexually. I'm beginning to dislike my husband. Have you any suggestions?
Verna

DEAR VERNA: A good marriage is worth saving; don't give up until you have exerted every effort. Read the book "The Sexual Responsibility of Women," by Maxine Davis, published by Dial Press, New York, N. Y. It should be very helpful. I am sending you a list of other books on the same subject. If other readers would like a copy of the list, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for "Books for Marriage Adjustment."

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband is completely devoted to me and our three children. He's a very quiet person who doesn't care for outsiders. This makes me very lonely much of the time. I wish he'd take to dancing or something that would encourage mixing.
Mildred

DEAR MILDRED: Compare notes with some women whose husbands do dance — with every other woman in the room but their wives. Count your blessings, Mildred, and don't yearn for the moon.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm the father of four young children, a steady worker, don't drink or run around. Two years ago my wife began leaving the children and me for days at a time, returning with no explanation. I must earn a living for my family, and can't stay home with the youngsters. What can I do to get someone for the kids? My wife stayed away the last time for three weeks.
Harry

DEAR HARRY: Apply to the Welfare Bureau of your city. Perhaps, if someone with authority talks to your wife, she'll listen. If she continues her disappearing act, the bureau may be able to arrange for the children's care. I note the youngsters are all of school age, which simplifies the problem somewhat. Another point for consideration is that your wife may need medical care. This, too, will be arranged if necessary.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
